Churchmen Believe Shintoism In Japan Will 'Wither' Soon

Interpretation By James D. White

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Japan is "ripe for Christianity," in the opinion of four prominent Protestant American churchmen who recently landed here after a trip to Japan. They included officials of the Federal Council of Churches, the World Council of Churches, the Foreign Missions Conference and the International Missionary Council.

These churchmen are reported to believe that Shintoism, the state religion of Japan which militarists used as an instrument of regimentation, will "wither" without official support, and that Buddhism has lost ground.

The Japan year book for 1938-39 gives the following figures on religions in Japan at that time: Shintoism—16,000,000 adherents; Buddhism—41,000,000; Christianity—about 430,000; including 208,000 Protestants, 191,000 Catholics, and about 40,000 Greek Orthodox Catholics.

The year book notes that Mohammedanism came to Japan some time

averts Possible Walkout Of 250,000 Telephone Workers

CHICAGO, Nov. 24.—(AP)—The six-day strike of 8,700 Illinois telephone operators ended tonight, averting a possible nationwide walkout of 250,000 telephone workers and restoring outside service with Chicago and 115 other Illinois communities and Lake and Porter counties in Indiana.

Announcement of the settlement was made by U. S. Conciliator W. G. Murray following a conference with officials of the Illinois Bell Telephone Company and representatives of the Illinois Telephone Traffic Union (I.T.U.).

Service was restored at 6:10 p. m. Central Standard Time, Murray said.

Murray said the union and company agreed to accept a WLB telephone commission recommendation of a $4 weekly wage increase, retroactive to last May 9.

In addition, he said, the company agreed to open negotiations "as soon as the union desires" for new wage scales, and to grant an additional non-retroactive wage boost of $2 weekly, effective "not later than Feb. 1, 1946."

The conciliator's report stated the union agreed to end the strike immediately, dismiss picket lines, direct workers to return and prevent "disciplinary action against any union member who may have crossed picket lines."

Murray's statement said the company agreed to "take no punitive or prejudicial action against any employee who refused to work during the walkout."

At issue in the dispute was a $2 difference between a War Labor Board recommendation and the union demands. The WLB telephone panel recommended a $4 weekly increase, retroactive to May 9, which was agreed to by the company. The union is demanding $6 leading to a top of $38 in five years instead of the present top of $32 after nine years.

Following Friday's negotiations, Joseph Belme, president of the National Federation of Telephone Workers, affiliated with the I. T. U., said he would alert some 250,000 telephone workers for a possible national walkout. He said before issuing a call for such a walkout he would inform Labor Secretary Schwellenbach of the dispute.

OUACHITA GIRL WINS PROVIDER CONTEST

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Edna Mae Owens, 17, of Ouachita parish, and Lynn E. May, 15, of Franklin parish, today were named first place winners in the 1945 good provider contest for northeast Louisiana 4-H Club members.

Second place winners were Athene Holloway, 18, of Rayville, Richard parish, and Shaw McBride, 13, of Jonesboro, Jackson parish.

Named as outstanding club leaders in the district were Mrs. Alma Hale, of Calhoun, Ouachita parish, and W. C. Campbell of Fort Necessity.

The contest is sponsored by the New Orleans Association of Commerce, the Times-Picayune and the Louisiana State University Extension Service.

CLAIMS JAPS FED PRISONERS WELL

Colonel Formerly In Charge Of Supplies Says Food 'Ample'

MANILA, Nov. 24.—(AP)—A Japanese lieutenant colonel who has been getting regular nourishment in an American prisoner-of-war camp testified today at the war crimes trial of Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita that military and civilian prisoners of the Japanese during the Philippines occupation received the "best available" food and treatment.

The witness, Lt. Col. Kikuo Ishikawa, formerly in charge of prison camp supplies in Yamashita's 14th army group area, said he inspected Bilbilid prison, Santo Tomas camp and other "concentration" centers and thought the food was "ample."

He looked into the kitchens and elsewhere, he said, and found nothing of a disturbing nature "on the surface."

Sharply questioned by members of the military court Ishikawa admitted that it took him all of 20 minutes to make an "inspection" of Bilbilid (where other witnesses have testified they were tortured and starved) and a similar amount of time to check conditions at Santo Tomas.

The colonel explained that transportation difficulties often hampered the task of getting food to prison camps, or even to Japanese troops, but that it was his observation that prison rations "although gradually diminishing, were the same as Japanese soldiers were receiving."

He vigorously denied that any prisoners' complaints had ever reached him. In fact, he said, prisoners and internees were getting the best available food and treatment, and medical supplies and Red Cross packages were plentiful.

Ishikawa admitted that Yamashita had "some responsibility" for the handling of prisoners of war in the Philippines, but that primary responsibility rested with the camp commanders. He said an order from Tokyo to Yamashita about Dec. 20 instructed the general to treat prisoners of war in a friendly manner "in case American armed elements approach."

Earlier Maj. Gen. Goicho Kira had testified that Yamashita was greatly concerned over the food situation and "expressed the desire that internees and prisoners of war be taken care of properly."

3 SUSPECTED OF BABY BURNINGS

Two Negroes Say Five Infants At Camp Destroyed

MANCHESTER, Tenn., Nov. 24.—(AP)—The next step in the case involving the alleged cremation of five infants on a tourist camp ash heap rested tonight on the findings of the F. B. I. laboratory in Washington.

The F. B. I. was asked by local authorities to determine if ashes found near the camp were from human bodies or the remains of some hogs and chickens.

Meanwhile, three persons were in jail charged with the "murder of an infant child which was unnamed or whose name was unknown."

Sheriff Sin Banks named the trio as H. H. Peters, 55, his wife, 46, and her son, Harry F. Carraway, 28.

All denied the charges, brought by a Negro woman who worked at the camp until two days ago and quit because she and her husband had not received their wages.

Said Peters:

"The charges 'were hatched up by the Negroes because they claim their wages were due last week. As a matter of fact their wages were not due until today (Nov. 23)."

The Negroes, Willie and Mary Ramsey, have slept in the coffee county jail the past two nights, Banks said, because they feared "something might happen to them if they continued to stay at the camp."

The charges were filed Thursday night, Banks said, after the couple came to his office in the rain and told him five babies had been burned at the camp in 32 days.

Officers quoted Mary Ramsey as saying that one baby was born in one of the camp's cabins and was soaked with oil or gasoline and was burned "It made a big fire."

Ashes, a small baby dress, a stained sheet and small bones were expressed last yesterday to the F. B. I. laboratory for an analysis, expected back here by Tuesday.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Bruce Rogers said the preliminary hearing would be held immediately after the report is received. The charge against Carraway, former assistant pressman on the Bradenton, Fla. Herald and discharged Seabee, may be changed to one accusing him of being an accessory, Rogers added.

The trio were being held in jail at nearby Fayetteville, Tenn.

The Ramsey woman who signed the warrant as prosecutor, asserted that the alleged burnings occurred between Oct. 18 and Nov. 12.

UNITED NATIONS BILL OKAY SEEN

Connally Thinks Nearly All Senators Will Back Measure

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Chairman Tom Connally of the Senate foreign relations committee today said he believes all but 12 or 15 of the 96 senators will approve legislation detailing this country's obligations as a United Nations member in the showdown vote next week.

The Texas Democrat also said he expects defeat of all efforts to amend the bill. He is aware that several Republican amendments will be pressed when the measure is called up Monday.

"It is my hope that the Senate will act speedily and decisively," Connally said in a statement. "In this turbulent and war-torn world it is imperative that we in the United States demonstrate beyond any shadow of doubt our willingness to cooperate in every possible way to keep the peace."

Connally said that the heart of the bill is the section which would give the president power to make available to the security council a quota of armed forces—in amounts to be set later by Congress—for enforcement action against aggressive nations.

The president would not have to come to Congress to allow use of the troops, but he would have no authority to assign more than the statutory quota.

"This is exactly as it should be," Connally said. "The security council must have the power and the authority."

SEPARATION BASES WILL BE CUT TO 20

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—(AP)—The number of army air force separation bases will be cut from 35 to 20 by Dec. 5.

Brig. Gen. Charles F. Born of the Continental Air Force said today the move is designed to concentrate more separations activities in the heavily populated northeast—without reducing the daily discharge at McDill Field, also at Tampa.

Necessary separation personnel will be transferred to the 20 remaining bases to enable the AAF to maintain its capacity of 10,000 discharges daily.

HULUTAO SEIZED BY NATIONALISTS

China Asks United States For Ships To Transport Troops

REPLY UP TO WASHINGTON, GENERAL WEDEMEYER SAYS

CHUNGKING, Sunday, Nov. 25.—(AP)—Chinese Nationalist troops have wrested the Manchurian port of Hulutao from the Chinese Communists, the Nationalist press reported today.

In Shanghai, Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, commander of U. S. forces in China, told a press conference that China has asked the United States for the use of ships to transport Nationalist troops into Manchuria, presumably at Hulutao.

The port, where Vice Adm. Daniel E. Barbey, of the U. S. 7th fleet, recently took Nationalist troops but did not land them after ascertaining the presence of the Communists, already had been threatened with isolation by the land drive of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's men north from Shan-hai-kwan.

Wedemeyer, at Shanghai, said it was up to Washington to reply to China's request and there has been no response as yet. He added that the War Shipping Administration is studying the request.

Capture of Hulutao would afford the Nationalists their first port in Manchuria at which to land reinforcements for the campaign aimed at securing Manchurian strongholds, many already reported being entered by Chinese Communists as the Russians withdrew.

General Wedemeyer, who repeatedly has denied Chinese Communist charges that America is intervening in behalf of the Nationalists, emphasized:

"There have been no American troops entering Manchuria and under present orders there will be none."

He disclosed that small cadres of Americans were in Manchuria some time ago to aid in the embarkation of central government troops. But these were withdrawn, along with a handful of intelligence officers, at the request of the Soviet consul.

He confirmed that Chinese divisions are carrying American equipment into

Seek Resumption Of Negotiations

General Motors Says Union Proposal Not Offer Of Arbitration But Demand For Abdication

DETROIT, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Cooperation of tool and die workers may be sought by the C. I. O. United Automobile Workers Union in the strike against General Motors Corp., union sources indicated today.

At the same time a spokesman for automotive parts makers asserted the strike which already has idled close to 200,000 workers in 51 cities will result in early lay-off of 100,000 parts industry employees and eventually halt all automobile production.

The U. A. W.-C. I. O., demanding a 30 per cent wage rate increase within General Motors' present price structure, has announced acceptance of an invitation to meet in Washington with Labor Secretary Schwellenbach.

A spokesman for General Motors, which yesterday rejected a union arbitration proposal, said no invitation had been received from the labor secretary. Until it has been received, he added, there would be no management comment on the proposed conferences in Washington.

Walter P. Reuther, U. A. W.-C. I. O. vice-president, in a prepared statement today asserted that "General Motors has committed itself to industrial war all along the industrial front."

"America's postwar problem," the statement said, "is not production; it is maintenance of purchasing power so that the American people can buy back the abundance they can produce."

Reuther said the union on Monday would suggest to G. M. that the wage negotiations be resumed while the strike was in progress.

Asked at a news conference why the union's arbitration proposal had included stipulations that the management should be open to the union, Reuther said:

"That's an accepted procedure of bargaining."

The union, Reuther added, did not plan to make another arbitration offer without the provisions.

General Motors, in spurning the proposal described it as "not an offer of arbitration but a demand for abdication," and "so unsound, unfair and unreasonable as to insure its rejection."

The proposal to seek cooperation of tool and die workers, union sources said, did not necessarily mean a strike among such workers, but rather an agreement on their part to refuse to work on material for General Motors. Reuther said the plan had been considered by the union strategy committee, but had been "taken under advisement." A meeting of the U. A. W.-C. I. O. Tool and Die Workers local here will discuss the plan further next Tuesday night.

COMBAT PLANES TO BE DISPLAYED

Formation Flying And Aerobatics To Feature Open House

Formation flying, aerobatics, and displays of various types of training and combat type military aircraft will be features of the "Open House Day" at Selman Field starting at 10 a. m. this morning and concluding at 3 p. m.

A group of seven AT-7 training planes will be flown in a series of aerial maneuvers and an AT-6 single engine plane will be used in a demonstration of aerobatics by one of the leading pilots stationed at Selman Field.

Visitors will be invited to inspect military aircraft on the flight line, including planes such as the AT-6, AT-7, AT-11, and combat type planes including a B-25, a P-47, a P-51, and two A-26's.

Other points of interest that will be open to the public include the parachute department, celestial navigation trainers, maintenance and repair facilities, the War & Information center, and other exhibits and buildings, many of which were restricted to military personnel while hostilities were on.

Services at the Protestant and the Catholic chapels will be open to visitors and civilians from the Monroe area are especially welcome. At 9 a. m. and 11 a. m. Catholic mass will be conducted in the South Chapel by Chaplain Daniel F. Lenahan. Protestant service will be at 1 p. m. in the North Chapel with Chaplain C. C. Dollar officiating, and Chaplain George Rumney assisting.

The Army Recruiting officer from Monroe will have a booth on the flight line where young men interested in the army can obtain pertinent information concerning the advantages of life as a soldier in the peace time army.

Following the flying demonstration and maneuvers along the flight line, visitors will be welcomed at the Service Club where a Tea Dance will be held from 3 p. m. until 5 p. m. Music will be played for the affair by the orchestra from the Selman Field 607th AAF Band.

Guides will be provided to escort groups of visitors to the points of interest around the field and explain many phases of the training program and military life. Traffic will be handled by the Post military police.

Visitors are invited to attend any or all of the exhibits and events at the Selman Field at the "Open House Day" today. The program is part of a nationwide plan by the Army Air Forces to acquaint civilians with many phases of the training program which were prohibited during war time as a security measure.

MRS. W. E. CLINE FUNERAL TODAY

Rites For Mother Of Dean Arranged At Lake Charles

Mrs. W. E. Cline, mother of Dr. Rodney Cline, dean of Northeast Junior College of L. S. U., died Friday at 6 p. m. at her home in Lake Charles. She had been ill for several weeks.

Mrs. Cline is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Louise Lancaster of Monroe, Tex., two sons, Dr. Cline of Monroe, and Carl Cline of DeQuincy; two sisters, Mrs. Emma Buck who resided with Mrs. Cline and Mrs. W. P. Weber, both of Lake Charles; and four grandchildren: Kathleen, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Rodney Cline; Marion, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Rodney Cline; Marion, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Cline; and Laura Beth and Edward children of Mrs. Lancaster.

Funeral services will be held Sunday at 3 p. m. at the Simpson Methodist Church of which Mrs. Cline was a member. Interment will take place at Lake Charles. Active pallbearers include: D. A. Collette, Carl Newhouse, George F. Kelly, J. R. Miles, J. B. McIver, and Howard Daughner.

Mrs. Cline was a native of Indiana, but she came to Louisiana in 1889 and continued to make her home in this state. During most of this period she lived in Lake Charles where she came to be prominently identified in church activities. She was particularly interested in the Review club.

Her husband's death occurred ten years ago.

TWO SOLDIERS, 30 CIVILIANS WOUNDED

SAIGON, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Two British Indian soldiers and 30 civilians were wounded in an outbreak of violence at Bien Hoa, rail town 30 miles northeast of Saigon, a British-French communique said today, as the Annamese continued to battle French attempts to regain control of Indochina.

A British spokesman asserted "we are not here to reconquer this country for the French," explaining British operations against the Annamese were concerned chiefly with protecting outskirts of areas where disarmed Japanese prisoners have been concentrated.

Today's communique said French troops have cleared Traon, 75 miles southwest of Saigon, and seized an important headquarters of the Viet Minh at Benco. An attack on a French post north of Mythe was repulsed with losses, the bulletin added.

Explosions from three fires which started almost simultaneously in separate areas of Cholon and Saigon Thursday night were said officially to have been caused by accidental discharge of ammunition, and not by the Annamese.

SHIP REPORTED AGROUND

LONDON, Nov. 24.—(AP)—The Press Association said the American ship Leland Stanford believed to be carrying U. S. soldiers homebound, went aground in the Straits of Dover to-day and fired distress guns and rockets.

25 MORE JAPANESE ARE UNDER ARREST

SHANGHAI, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Twenty-five more Japanese have been arrested in connection with the death parade and torture deaths of three American fliers at Harkow last December, the U. S. army announced today.

The suspects, 12 of them civilians, were taken to the huge ward road jail where 10 other Japanese apprehended last month on the same charges, are awaiting trial.

The army said the war crimes commission was "establishing a firm case" against all 35, who are held incommunicado.

S. A. ADOPTING WIDE PROGRAM

Embraces Family Aid, Rehabilitation, Emergency Relief

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—(Special)—A five-point program of aid and assistance to veterans and their families was adopted by Salvation Army commissioners of the United States at the closing session of a three-day conference on an expanded postwar program for the organization, held at the Salvation Army national headquarters, 120 West 14th street.

The entire program was presented in Washington, D. C., to General Omar N. Bradley, head of the Veterans' Administration, by a seven-man delegation of the Salvation Army, which pledged full cooperation to the Veterans' Administration and to the thousands of salaried men serving all over the nation.

The Salvation Army's program which embraces family aid, emergency assistance, aid of an informational nature, vocational-rehabilitation aid and spiritual help will be carried out by Salvation Army units in 1,867 cities and leading towns in the United States, according to a report of the plan issued by the commissioners.

Designed with a view of avoiding any overlapping or duplication with the government program or work of other organizations, the Salvation Army's program will seek to fill a gap in the solution of "human problems" it was explained.

Aid to veterans' families will be a major part of the new program. This includes assistance in establishing or re-establishing a home; aid towards the solution of family problems caused by war separations, hasty war marriages, "irregular" marital ties.

Juvenile delinquency resulting from disrupted homes will be a special concern of the Salvation Army, the report states. Camps and day-care benefits will be given to children and wives of veterans; and servicemen's wives will be specifically aided by Army's Home Leagues throughout the country.

Emergency aid to veterans by the Salvation Army will be provided to the limit of the Army's physical and financial resources; clothing for the veteran and his family; emergency cash assistance for transportation; and emergency food supplies for the veterans' families.

The Salvation Army's aid of an informational nature will include assistance to veterans in obtaining positions through the army's free employment bureau and help in locating friends or relatives. Salvation Army workers will be equipped to direct veterans to the proper government agencies for help on official problems such as education, medical care, etc.

In the vocational-rehabilitation phase of the Salvation Army's program, the veteran will be aided to resume his place in the home community through such service jobs as scoutmasters, handicraft teachers, gymnasium aids and instructors, leadership in other group activities; and through social recreational club associations.

Work opportunities in Salvation Army workshops will be provided for veterans not able to adjust themselves immediately in industry.

BARTALINI WILL GIVE PROGRAM

Famous Artist Will Present Numbers At Neville High December 17

Like Dunninger and Hildegarde, Bartalini is known to his audiences by one name only—a name that immediately identifies him as one of the great artists in the entertainment world. Local audiences will have the opportunity to judge Bartalini's excellence when he appears in Monroe on December 17.

The versatility of Bartalini's art challenges ordinary cataloging. He is at once an actor, singer, dancer, designer, painter and sculptor.

Born in Florence, Italy, the cradle of the Renaissance, Bartalini has inherited the true spirit of his genius. From his mother, Mathilde Graziani, a distinguished singer and descendant of an ancient and aristocratic family which has produced famous statesmen, artists, musicians, poets and ecclesiastics, he inherited his cognizance of the arts. From his father's lineage, he inherited the vitality that gives strength and virility to his creative talent.

He was christened Guiltiero Bartalini, but in New York, where he was brought by his family at the age of five, and later in San Francisco his American friends called him Walter.

And it was as Walter Bartalini that he won recognition as a boy soprano. When Bartalini reached the age when his voice began to change, a famous singer advised him to give his voice a complete rest until it had matured. So, at 14, he returned to Florence to study. There is a good deal of the zealous scholar in Bartalini, and having once begun the study of any art, he was driven to perfect himself in it. Consequently, by the time his voice had definitely become a lyric baritone, Bartalini was an accomplished actor, dancer and designer, before he returned to intensive voice training.

When he was ready for the concert stage, he decided that along with song, he would employ the correlated arts of drama, pantomime and the dance. This decision to combine all his several skills into a one-man theater led to the preparation of a series of dramatic portraits.

To begin with, Bartalini had to search for the songs which would lend themselves to dramatic interpretation. Each of these (and his repertoire now includes over fifty) entails exhaustive research into the times and manners of the figure portrayed. After he found the right songs, he devised the costume, the accompanying gestures and choreography, the stage lighting and even the stage setting when he employed one—thus making each separate factor an authentic unit in the complete picture as he envisioned it.

Bartalini has a horror of characters which are merely costumed, yet in the matter of costuming he is painstakingly true, designing and executing each detail himself.

The French call an artist of this type a diseur but the English language has no one word which tersely summarizes what he does. He is much more than a concert recital, because he depicts characters as well as their moods and music. His performance is something which must be seen—it cannot be described. His characterizations range from kings to fishermen, from drama to comedy.

Bartalini's tour this season is transcontinental, extending into Mexico and South America. He scored a sensational success on the west coast this year and reviews of his New York appearances were laudatory.

He is being brought to this city by Neville High School.

Instructive Talks Given Fund Donated For Projector

"Developing Good Citizenship" was the theme of the Georgia Tucker P.-T. A. at their November meeting.

Mrs. P. G. Rowe, Girl Scout commissioner, spoke on Cubbing, that part of the Boy Scout program designed for boys from nine to 12 years of age. He congratulated the P.-T. A. for sponsoring a Cub pack.

Floyd Huddleston, Ouachita Valley Council Boy Scout commissioner, spoke on Cubbing, that part of the Boy Scout program designed for boys from nine to 12 years of age. He congratulated the P.-T. A. for sponsoring a Cub pack.

Miss Myrtle Rodgers, principal of Georgia Tucker, expressed regret at the slow sale of victory bonds among families represented at Georgia Tucker school. She urged that all present exert every effort to stimulate the sale.

Miss Ann Hayward, kindergarten teacher, announced that a picture show will be held in the school auditorium November 29 in place of the usual carnival.

Miss Rodgers stated that through the kindness of Mr. and Mrs. John Fox a donation from them of $50 has been received toward the purchase of a projector. The projector will be known as the "Fox-Hightower Projector" in honor of the donors.

Mrs. E. H. Miller's room won the room prize on the "little side" and Mrs. Unglesby's class room won on the "big side."

Refreshments and coffee were served by the hospitality committee.

Day By Day
By CHARLES B. DRISCOLL
Title Reg. U. S. Patent Office

FRANKLIN, Ind.—Diary: This is a small college town, twenty miles from Indianapolis. I was asked to come out here to talk to an audience composed chiefly of editors and staff members of high school papers, got together in an association that operates under the auspices of dignified old Franklin College, founded by Baptists.

Since I can never resist or refuse an invitation to talk to school journalists, and since I like Hoosiers anyway, I came out, though I had been acutely ill for several days, and didn't think I could make it, up to the moment of boarding a plane. Maybe I'll have a chance to tell you how I was cured, but we'll leave it until later.

My Invitation came from Harvey C. Jacobs, executive secretary of the Indiana High School Press association, but was brought about by his talking with associates in Muncie, where I spoke recently. Miss Kathleen Meehan, chief of journalism in the Muncie group I addressed there, was kind enough to say that I had helped her pupils, but any person with 34 years of labor in the vineyard of printed words could have rendered at least as much assistance, in my opinion. I know several who could do much better.

Franklin college, founded in 1834, is one of the smallest of the small colleges, and has no ambition to be as big as Columbia university. It is so much like my own Alma Mater.

Friends University, that it makes me homesick, just to walk about the campus. There are almost as many Quakers here as there were at Friends.

Upon arrival at Stout field, army airport, late in the evening, I am handed a list of invitations to spend the night and have dinner at the homes of numerous Indiana friends and neighbors. I am so tired that I beg

Mrs. Harold Votaw of Whittier, Calif., formerly of Indianapolis, is a sister of Mrs. Jessup, and was in the little company of Quaker friends that made a special effort to make me feel at home. I'm not a Quaker, but have admired the Quaker culture, which is devoted to plain and honorable living, ever since I met the first of this band of followers of the simple Carpenter.

Votaw is an old Quaker name, and I attended school with a George Votaw. My friends did not remember him, so he must be a distant relative. I was interested to learn that one of

PARISH ROADS BEING IMPROVED

Police Jury Gravels And Drains Many Areas In
Ouachita

The Ouachita Parish Police Jury announces that pursuant to Act 110 of the legislature of 1944, the sum of $30,000 was appropriated for the maintenance or construction of gravel roads and drainage in Ouachita parish.

Of 17 projects listed, apportioned among 10 wards of the parish, 11 have been already completed. They are as follows:

1. In ward one, 1.4 miles of asphalt surfacing from Guthrie to highway 165. Also in the same ward 1.8 miles from the intersection of the Sterling-Bastrop road northward. This project is now fully completed and an extra $4,500 was allocated for its completion.

2. In ward two, the Joe White road along Bayou Desiard has been constructed and partially gravelled.

3. Ward three, Gourd Bayou road running north from the Winnboro road.

4. Ward four is to have a drainage project of approximately three miles in the lower section of the parish. This work is 75 per cent complete.

5. Ward five to have drainage in and around the Brown Paper Mill. Also the road in front of the Ridge Avenue Baptist church and in front of the Good Hope Baptist church is to be given an asphalt surface treatment in the early spring.

6. In ward six, 1.4 miles of asphalt surfacing has been completed.

7. In ward seven the Winnfield road has been constructed and gravelled.

8. In ward eight the Arant road, 3.6 miles, and the Howard Brown road, 3 miles, are to be gravelled. Also the Johnston road, 3 miles, and the Dolans-Loveley road, 3 miles, have been completed.

9. In ward nine the Frost Tower road, three miles, has been gravelled.

10. In ward ten there will be asphalt surfacing 7 of a mile on Forsythe avenue to 21st street and 21st street from Forsythe to the existing present asphalt paved road. Also 7 miles of asphalt surfacing in Edgewater Gardens.

At the last meeting of the Ouachita Parish Police Jury, the state department of highways was asked in a resolution passed to furnish $100,000 additional funds in accordance with Act 4 of the 1942 legislative session to reimburse the parish for the graveling of the following: Mt. Vernon school road, state highway 200 west one-half mile; the Mt. Olive road from Mt. Olive church south, three-fourths of a mile to Caldwell woman line; the Red Ball road from Mt. Olive church west, one mile to the Jackson parish line; the George Waggoner road from the Red Ball road one mile west; the Filman road from state highway 200 east two and one-half miles to the Red Cut road; the Forsythe avenue extension, Loop Road northeast 12 miles to highway 165.

All this work not yet completed will be completed, it is stated, when weather conditions permit.

The roads of Ouachita parish will have favorable comparison with other parish roads, stated A. E. Montgomery, president of the police jury. He said that in the past six months, considerable new road maintenance and construction equipment has been purchased by the police jury. As soon as deliveries are completed the police jury will be in a position to give continued improved service to all roads in Ouachita parish, he said.

A single U. S. Quartermaster truck company moved as much as $500 worth of engineering equipment for a full day and go along supplies weekly during the war.

Weather, also, is a factor in the work that has been done but have which is being done, he said, has been good.

'NO BOATS, NO VOTES'
Philippine Islands
Nov. 9, 1945

To The Editor:

In view of the fact that the army has forgotten the demobilization program they so often speak about, I'm writing to this paper to see if we can enlist your aid in getting us back home. All we want you to do is give the people the facts about it all and contact the congressmen of Louisiana and demand a little action. The last thing that they can do is tell us the truth and quit shooting us propaganda, the soldiers' so-called "shot in the arm," as it has ceased to be that.

Men are here still that have almost four years overseas. I have two years myself and believe me some of the guys are total wrecks. The tropics will ruin any man mentally and physically.

The Philippines are the places that are forgotten. We haven't seen a troopship here in ages and none are scheduled for here according to all sources.

The army is promising men that re-enlist an immediate furlough home. The men that are re-enlisting are replacements that just came over from two week to six weeks over here. If they try to send them home ahead of us it will cause a riot. Is that right? I'll leave it up to you to decide.

I'm sending you some clippings from the army newspaper, "Daily Pacifican," which prints anything concerning the service men. I hope you'll print them.

I'm a resident of Monroe, so as a fellow citizen I'm asking for your cooperation and support.

I thank you very much.

Sincerely,
TSGT. L. E. HILBURN,

P. S.: We aren't asking for sympathy. All we want is a speed-up of demobilization. The motto of the soldiers overseas is "No boats, no votes."

COPPEDGE RITES SLATED SUNDAY

Today

Edward Earl Coppedge, 52, of 707 South Third street, Missouri Pacific railroad division special agent, died suddenly at his home early Saturday. He had been ill and some time ago underwent a serious operation, but was now removed to his home. His death occurred in his sleep, sometime Friday night or early Saturday morning.

He had been with the railroad for many years, and was widely known and highly regarded. He came to Monroe in 1928 from a similar post in Alexandria.

The funeral will be held at Mulhearn Funeral Home Sunday at 3:30 p. m. Interment will be in Riverview Burial Park and the Graham Singmaster Masonic lodge, of which he was a member, will have charge of the grave.

Rev. A. M. Serey, pastor of the First Methodist church, will officiate. Mr. Coppedge leaves his wife, a daughter, resident of Memphis, Tenn.; a step-daughter, Mrs. R. L. Whitlaw, Nashville, Tenn.; a grandson, Dana Earl Coppedge, Nashville, Tenn.; a nephew, B. J. Coppedge, cadet at the U. S. Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md.; a sister, Mrs. Thaddeus B. H. Hughes, Ark.; two brothers, O. W. Coppedge, Blytheville, Ark., and Shelby Coppedge, Detroit, Mich.

The British navy, together with the RAF, has sunk more than six million tons of German and Italian merchant shipping.

Police Jury Gravels And
Ouachita

The Ouachita Parish Police Jury announces that pursuant to Act 110 of the legislature of 1944, the sum of $30,000 was appropriated for the maintenance or construction of gravel roads and drainage in Ouachita parish.

Of 17 projects listed, apportioned among 10 wards of the parish, 11 have been already completed. They are as follows:

1. In ward one, 1.4 miles of asphalt surfacing from Guthrie to highway 165. Also in the same ward 1.3 miles from the intersection of the Sterling-Bastrop road northward. This project is now fully completed and an extra $4,500 was allocated for its completion.
2. In ward two, the Joe White road along Bayou DeSiard has been constructed and partially gravelled.
3. Ward three, Gourd Bayou road running north from the Winnsboro road.
4. Ward four is to have a drainage project of approximately three miles in the lower section of the parish. This work is 75 per cent complete.
5. Ward five to have drainage in and around the Brown Paper Mill. Also the road in front of the Ridge Avenue Baptist church and in front of the Good Hope Baptist church is to be given an asphalt surface treatment in the early spring.
6. In ward six, 1.4 miles of asphalt surfacing has been completed.
7. In ward seven the Winnfield road has been constructed and gravelled.
8. In ward eight the Arant road, 3.6 miles, and the Howard Brown road, 3 miles, are to be gravelled. Also the Johnston road, 3 miles, and the Dolphus-Lovelady road, .5 mile, have been completed.
9. In ward nine the Frost Tower road, three miles, has been gravelled.
10. In ward ten there will be asphalt surfacing of a mile on Forsythe avenue to 21st street and 21st street from Forsythe to the existing present asphalt paved road. Also 7 mile of asphalt surfacing in Edgewater Gardens.

At the last meeting of the Ouachita Parish Police Jury, the state department of highways was asked in a resolution passed to furnish $10,000 additional funds in accordance with Act 4 of the 1942 legislative session to reimburse the parish for the graveling of the following: Mt. Vernon school road, state highway 200 west, one-half mile; the Mt. Olive road from Mt. Olive church south, three-fourths of a mile to Caldwell parish line; the Red Ball road from Mt. Olive church west, one mile to the Jackson parish line; the George Waggoner road from the Ted Ball road one mile west; the Hillman road from state highway 200 east two and one-half miles to the Red Cut road; the Forsythe avenue extension, Loop Road northeast 1.2 miles to highway 165.

All this work not yet completed will be completed, it is stated, when weather conditions permit.

The roads of Ouachita parish will bear favorable comparison with other parish roads, stated A. E. Montgomery, president of the police jury. He said that in the past six months, considerable new road maintenance and construction equipment has been purchased by the police jury. As soon as deliveries are completed the police jury will be in a position to give continued improved service to all roads in Ouachita parish, he said.

A single U. S. Quartermaster truck company moved as much as 3,000 tons of engineering equipment, food, clothing and gasoline supplies weekly during the war.

'NO BOATS, NO VOTES'
Philippine Islands
Nov. 9, 1945

To The Editor:

In view of the fact that the army has forgotten the demobilization program they so often speak about, I'm writing to this paper to see if we can enlist your aid in getting us back home. All we want you to do is give the people the facts about it all and contact the congressmen of Louisiana and demand a little action. The least thing that they can do is tell us the truth and quit shooting us propaganda, the soldiers so-called "shot in the arm," as it has ceased to be that.

Men are here still that have almost four years overseas. I have two years myself and believe me some of the guys are total wrecks. The tropics will ruin any man mentally and physically.

The Philippines are the places that are forgotten. We haven't seen a troopship here in ages and none are scheduled for here according to all sources.

The army is promising men that re-enlist an immediate furlough home. The men that are re-enlisting are replacements that just came over from two week to six weeks over here. If they try to send them home ahead of us it will cause a riot. Is that right? I'll leave it up to you to decide.

I'm sending you some clippings from the army newspaper, "Daily Pacifican," which prints anything concerning the service men. I hope you'll print them.

I'm a resident of Monroe, so as a fellow citizen I'm asking for your co-operation and support.

I thank you very much.

Sincerely,
TSGT L. E. HILBURN,

Today

Edward Earl Coppedge, 52, of 707 South Third street, Missouri Pacific railroad division special agent, died suddenly at his home early Saturday. He had been ill and some time ago underwent a serious operation, but was now removed to his home. His death occurred in his sleep sometime Friday night or early Saturday morning.

He had been with the railroad for many years and was widely known and highly regarded. He came to Monroe in 1938 from a similar post in Alexandria.

The funeral will be held at Mulhearn Funeral Home Sunday at 3:30 p. m. Interment will be in Riverview Burial Park and the Graham Surghor Masonic lodge, of which he was a member, will have charge at the grave. Rev. A. M. Serex, pastor of the First Methodist church, will officiate.

Mr. Coppedge leaves his wife; a daughter, resident of Memphis, Tenn.; a stepdaughter, Mrs. R. L. Whitelaw, Nashville, Tenn.; a grandson, Dana Earl Coppedge, Nashville, Tenn.; a nephew, Bo Coppedge, cadet at the U. S. Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md.; a sister, Mrs. Thaddeus Brewer, Hughes, Ark.; two brothers, O. W. Coppedge, Blytheville, Ark., and Shelby Coppedge, Detroit, Mich.

SCOTLAND YARD BATTLING CRIME

Famous Police Hard- Pressed to Maintain Reputation

LONDON, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Scotland Yard police, combating the worst crime wave in Britain in many years, are being hard-pressed to maintain their reputation of always getting their man.

At least six unsolved murders, all committed since V-E day, a kidnapping and a number of large jewel thefts are among the cases on the books.

Experts said they could not remember a time when so many big cases were under investigation. Chief Inspector G. A. Somerset even had to leave his desk in headquarters to assist his detectives on the streets.

Two of the most publicized murders, both described as "gangland killings," were committed in London under similar conditions, two weeks apart. The first victim was Frank (The Duke) Everett, a taxi driver with what the newspapers called "a background of mystery."

The other was Reuben Martirosoff, 25, who is listed in police records as an international racketeer and black market diamond merchant expelled from five countries.

The other murders took place in the provinces, where Scotland Yard does not enter cases except on request of local chiefs of police.

October was the worst month for crime in England since the first year after the last war. Crimes varied from bicycle thefts, burglaries and safe breakings to the snatching of a fortune in jewels.

More than $50,000 worth of precious gems were stolen in one of the latest store robberies. Many homes have been robbed of jewels worth small fortunes. The loot at one place included cut-glass copies of the crown jewels.

London, Birmingham and other cities are not yet as Chicago was in the bad old days of the gang wars, but the first shots have been fired," said the Sunday Chronicle, commenting on the murder of Martirosoff, who was shot in the back of the head as he was getting out of an automobile in front of a west end club.

"There are killers at large and they have guns," the paper added. This statement is quite significant in England, where many of the toughest criminals go unarmed and where the police do not carry guns or clubs except when on the trail of known killers.

Army pistols have been recovered from a large number of suspects arrested recently. Several of them were carrying German Lugers.

"A fresh outbreak of crime was to be expected following the end of the war, but it has not yet reached an alarming stage," said a spokesman for Scotland Yard.

Discounting reports carried in some newspapers that "gang law is coming to London," he said there had been no evidence that many of the major crimes were linked to a central underworld gang.

However, many incidents have been tied unofficially with the "Black Diamond Gang," the name which newspapers have given to London's leading black market racketeers. Several members of this gang are said to be aliens with international police records.

London is becoming the center of the diamond smuggling racket, according to evidence collected by Scotland Yard.

Police said the sailors were enraged by a groundless rumor that two of their buddies had been killed by Damon (civilian housing area) residents and because, the Navy men said, 30 sailors had been beaten by civilians in the past two months but no offenders had been arrested.

Police reported that three sailors and taxicab drivers engaged in isolated fistfights tonight, but said the fights were not unusual and were not a flareup of the Damon tract riot.

The 14th naval district, which has declined comment on last night's rampage, said it might issue a statement tomorrow. There was no indication how long the Navy men might be restricted.

FOUR IN ALABAMA BURNED TO DEATH

BESSEMER, Ala., Nov. 24.—(AP)—Four persons were burned to death today when flaming gasoline enveloped a street intersection here following a collision between a gasoline-carrying truck and an automobile.

Two persons were burned, neither seriously.

Acting Colonel Bob Ragsdale said two of the dead were Negro preachers—Rev. J. S. Hunter, Bessemer, and Rev. D. A. Pettus, Birmingham. The others killed, a man and a woman, were also Negroes, Ragsdale said. Their identity has not been established.

The injured were W. P. Godwin, driver of the truck, and Fred Shaw, a store keeper who was burned in an attempt to extricate one of the Negroes from the overturned and burning car.

All of the dead were passengers in the car. Both it and truck were destroyed in the blaze, and another truck marked nearby was heavily damaged.

Shaw said there was a sudden explosion after the crash, and a "wave of flames" leaped up around the wreckage.

All available fire fighting equipment was sent to the scene, a street on the Bessemer-Tuscaloosa highway, the two telephone poles were knocked down by the impact, disrupting phone service in the community.

LABORER IS HELD IN CHECK THEFTS

Accused Of Taking $60,000 From Family Mail Boxes

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—(AP)—While police questioned 71 prisoners rounded up today in a drive against mounting violence and crime, the U. S. secret service announced arrest of a laborer it accused of stealing $60,000 in checks—mostly allotment checks—from family mail boxes.

John J. McGrath, supervising agent of secret service's second district, said the man admitted having extracted the checks from mail boxes with small tweezers and gambling most of the money away.

He was taken to the federal house of detention for arraignment in federal court Monday when, McGrath said, formal charge will be made against him.

McGrath quoted him as saying he had made $200 to $300 weekly since beginning operations in Chicago in 1932. McGrath said the man admitted having stolen 1,000 checks. He came here from Detroit last August 1.

Among the 71 persons in today's police lineup was Vincent Mauro, 29, charged with suspicion of homicide in the street slaying early yesterday of Rocco Loscalzo, 28, others were charged with a variety of offenses.

Police reported they found blood spots on Mauro's clothing when they picked him up 13 hours after Loscalzo was shot to death in Greenwich village.

Mauro described himself as a shoe salesman but said he had not worked for a couple of months. He stood in silence as Inspector Joseph Donovan read a police sheet purporting to show Mauro had served a prison term on robbery charge and a federal penitentiary term on narcotics charge.

Sixty-seven violent deaths have been attributed to the crime wave in the past 75 days.

Law-enforcement authorities have complained about foreign guns brought home by service men from overseas falling into the hands of civilians. Chief Magistrate Edgar Bromberger remarked from the bench today that returning service men "do not intend the guns for crime use (but) we must recognize the thoughtlessness and carelessness they show in regard to them."

About 33 per cent of all men in Canada between 19 and 45 are in the Canadian armed services.

'NINE OLD MEN' LAST SURVIVORS

Most Of That Group In Louisiana Near Or Past 100 Years Old

BATON ROUGE, La., Nov. 24.—(AP)—Louisiana's "nine old men" have nothing to do with courts—they're the last survivors of the gray-clad forces the state sent forth in the 1860's to make permanent the Confederate States of America.

Only nine remain of the thousands who were carried on the state's pension rolls. Most of them are close to or have passed 100 years of age. Each year sees the files of the men who fought at Chancellorsville and Vicksburg, and who surrendered at Appomattox Courthouse, grow thinner.

The surviving Louisiana veterans, who receive $60 monthly from the State Department of Welfare, are Burrell Maricle, of Elizabeth; John Mire, of Gonzales; August F. Saucier, of Lake Charles; Sylvester H. Wyatt, of Jonesboro; S. T. Segraves, of Jennings; William D. Townsend, of Urania; Alfred T. Fuller, of Dubach; Stephen Dupre, of Alexandria, and W. R. Turner, of Leesville.

Saucier is the oldest listed, although two list their ages as not known. Saucier was born in 1836. He served in the cavalry, fighting against Federal troops for more than two years around Alexandria. At the time the Southern forces surrendered he was with a detachment proceeding toward Washington, La. to attempt the capture of several Northern gunboats there.

He was taken to the federal house of detention for arraignment in federal court Monday when, McGrath said, formal charge will be made against him.

McGrath quoted him as saying he had made $200 to $300 weekly since beginning operations in Chicago in 1932. McGrath said the man admitted having stolen 1,000 checks. He came here from Detroit last August 1.

ANDERSON ISSUES LOAN STATEMENT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Clyde W. Anderson, secretary of agriculture, today issued this Victory Loan statement:

"A nation's war problems are not ended when the shooting stops any more than the problems on a flooded farm are ended when the flood waters recede. The end of the crisis in both cases means only that the time for cleaning up and rebuilding is at hand."

"It will take money to put our war-torn world to rights—to give wounded veterans needed medical care, to bring soldiers back home and get them started on lives as civilians again, to provide care for children whose fathers paid for our victory with their lives."

"Remember, here's still a big job ahead. Let's pay for it with Victory Bonds."

COTTON SALES INCREASE SEEN

Exchange Directors Think Peace Will Boost Ex- port Trade

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 24.—(AP)—The directors of the New Orleans cotton exchange predicted in their annual report today an increase in cotton sales with the resumption of peace-time export business.

The report said proposed legislation to change the cotton parity price formula would increase the spread in price between American and foreign cotton.

It was set out that inclusion of labor costs and taxes in the formula would increase the parity price of several cents per pound and "considerably augment the government loan and purchase program."

The broad termed the export and import bank's earmarking of $100,000,000 for purchase of American cotton by foreign countries "very encouraging," saying it "should go a long way."

towards restoring our lost export markets."

The report said the volume of cotton sold "ex-warehouse" and "cost, freight and insurance" amounted to about 790,000 bales compared with 750,000 in the previous season, but predicted a substantial increase next year.

"The volume of future business was not as large as anticipated," the directors commented, "but this was due to the absence of exports by merchants and to governmental operations through loans and purchases which were not hedged as would have been the case in normal operations."

President D. F. Manget, Jr., called the Liverpool Cotton Association in October, deploring the continued closing of that market and urging an early resumption of activities, the report said.

"It was made plain that this exchange had no intention of meddling in the internal affairs of England but its members were gravely concerned as a commercial proposition," the directors asserted.

"With the cessation of hostilities it is of the utmost importance for those engaged in the cotton trade to exert every effort to restore free enterprise which was abolished during the war through governmental directives, and to permit the immutable laws of supply and demand to function once more with transactions between individual and not through governmental bureaucracy," the directors said.

A ROCKING CHAIR FOR SUSAN

ALMOST HIDDEN in view 'mid the clutter of an old, old attic, stands the little worn chair.

Long, long ago when the chair was shiny new, its tiny rockers were enchanted wings to a quaint little girl, as they carried her and her flaxen haired doll into the land of make-believe.

The little girl and her little chair do not belong to the modern world. Many things have changed since those distant days.

But one thing remains the same. As long as little girls "play house," as long as lovers plan a rose covered cottage, as long as men build dreams—all roads to the heart will lead to home.

Out of the dreams from which homes are planned, has come the Dealer in Furniture—first as a Craftsman whose designs bore the hallmark of his own skill; later as an itinerant Merchant whose wondrous wagon always held little rocking chairs for the wide-eyed Susans of remote settlements; and then, as the land blossomed into villages and cities, his store became the hub around which communities developed.

Now throughout the land, service stars are giving way to lights of welcome home. And soon your Retailer of Furniture will have bountiful stocks of all the bright new comforts and conveniences that have been created for your happiness.

No, we don't make rocking chairs for Susan—but living room furniture by "International" will be an important contribution to the service which your dealer will render you in your plans for new and better furniture.

SCOTLAND YARD BATTLING CRIME

Famous Police Hard- Pressed To Maintain Reputation

LONDON, Nov. 24. (P)—Scotland Yard police, combatting the worst crime wave in Britain in many years, are being hard-pressed to maintain their reputation of always getting their man.

At least six unsolved murders, all committed since V-E day, a kidnapping and a number of large jewel thefts are among the cases on the books.

Experts said they could not remember a time when so many big cases were under investigation. Chief Inspector G. A. Somerset even had to leave his desk in headquarters to assist his detectives on the streets.

Two of the most publicized murders, both described as "gangland" killings, were committed in London under similar conditions, two weeks apart. The first victim was Frank (The Duke) Everitt, a taxi driver with whom the newspapers called "a background of mystery."

The other was Reuben Martirosoff, 32, who is listed in police records as an international racketeer and black market diamond merchant expelled from five countries.

The other murders took place in the provinces, where Scotland Yard does not enter cases except on request of local chiefs of police.

October was the worst month for crime in England since the first year after the last war. Crimes varied from bicycle thefts, burglaries and safe breakings to the snatching of a fortune in jewels.

More than $80,000 worth of precious gems were stolen in one of the latest store robberies. Many homes have been robbed of jewels worth small fortunes. The loot at one place included cut-glass copies of the crown jewels.

"London, Birmingham and other cities are not yet as Chicago was in the bad old days of the gang wars, but the first shots have been fired," said the Sunday Chronicle, commenting on the murder of Martirosoff, who was shot in the back of the head as he was getting out of an automobile in front of a west end club.

"There are killers at large and they have guns," the paper added.

This statement is quite significant in England, where many of the toughest criminals go unarmed and where the police do not carry guns or clubs except when on the trail of known killers.

Army pistols have been recovered from a large number of suspects arrested recently. Several of them were carrying German Lugers.

"A fresh outbreak of crime was to be expected following the end of the war, but it has not yet reached an alarming stage," said a spokesman for Scotland Yard.

Discounting reports carried in some newspapers that "gang law is coming to London," he said there had been no evidence that many of the major crimes were linked to a central underworld gang.

However, many incidents have been tied unofficially with the "Black Diamond Gang," the name which newspapers have given to London's leading black market racketeers. Several members of this gang are said to be aliens with international police records.

London is becoming the center of the diamond smuggling racket, according to evidence collected by Scotland Yard.

Police said the sailors were enraged by a groundless rumor that two of their buddies had been killed by Damon (civilian housing area) residents and because, the Navy men said, 30 sailors had been beaten by civilians in the past two months but no offenders had been arrested.

Police reported that three sailors and taxicab drivers engaged in isolated fistfights tonight, but said the fights were not unusual and were not a feature of the Damon tract riot.

The 14th naval district, which has declined comment on last night's rampage, said it might issue a statement tomorrow. There was no indication how long the Navy men might be restricted.

FOUR IN ALABAMA BURNED TO DEATH

BESSEMER, Ala., Nov. 24. (P)—Four persons were burned to death today when flaming gasoline engulfed a street intersection here following a collision between a gasoline-carrying truck and an automobile.

Two persons were burned, neither seriously. Acting Coroner Bob Ragsdale said two of the dead were Negro preachers—Rev. I. S. Hunter, Bessemer, and Rev. D. A. Pettus, Birmingham. The others killed, a man and a woman, were also Negroes, Ragsdale said. Their identity has not been established.

The injured were W. P. Godwin, driver of the truck, and Fred Shaw, a store keeper who was burned in an attempt to extricate one of the Negroes from the overturned and burning car.

All of the dead were passengers in the car. Both it and truck were destroyed in the blaze, and another truck parked nearby was heavily damaged.

Shaw said there was a sudden explosion after the crash, and a "wave of flames" leaped up around the wreckage.

All available fire fighting equipment was sent to the scene, a street on the Bessemer-Tuscaloosa highway, the two telephone poles were knocked down by the impact, disrupting phone service in the community.

Building Permits

Permission was granted to Eason Lanus Realty Co. to erect a one-story steel and sheet iron building to be used for a curb market, located at 814 Jackson street. The total cost will not exceed $250 and day labor is to be used.

Permission was granted to Jessie Wright to erect a one-story frame building to be used for a dwelling, located at 906 Powell street. The total cost will not exceed $650 and day labor is to be used.

LABORER IS HELD IN CHECK THEFTS

Accused Of Taking $60,000 From Family Mail Boxes

NEW YORK, Nov. 24. (P)—While police questioned 71 prisoners rounded up today in a drive against mounting violence and crime, the U. S. secret service announced arrest of a laborer it accused of stealing $60,000 in checks—mostly allotment checks—from family mail boxes.

John J. McGrath, supervising agent of secret service's second district, said the man admitted having extracted the checks from mail boxes with small tweezers and gambling most of the money away.

He was taken to the federal house of detention for arraignment in federal court Monday when, McGrath said, formal charge will be made against him.

McGrath quoted him as saying he had made $200 to $300 weekly since beginning operations in Chicago in 1939. McGrath said the man admitted having stolen 1,000 checks. He came here from Detroit last August 1.

Among the 71 persons in today's police lineup was Vincent Mauro, 29, charged with suspicion of homicide in the street slaying early yesterday of Rocco Loscalzo, 28, others were charged with a variety of offenses.

Police reported they found blood spots on Mauro's clothing when they picked him up 13 hours after Loscalzo was shot to death in Greenwich village.

Mauro described himself as a shoe salesman but said he had not worked "for a couple of months." He stood in silence as Inspector Joseph Donovan read a police sheet purporting to show Mauro had served a prison term on robbery charge and a federal penitentiary term on narcotics charge.

Sixty-seven violent deaths have been attributed to the crime wave in the past 75 days.

Law-enforcement authorities have complained about foreign guns brought home by service men from overseas falling into the hands of civilians. Chief Magistrate Edgar Bromberger remarked from the bench today that returning service men "do not intend the guns for crime; use (but) we must recognize the thoughtlessness and carelessness they show in regard to them."

About 33 per cent of all men in Canada between 19 and 45 are in the Canadian armed services.

'NINE OLD MEN' LAST SURVIVORS

Most Of That Group In Louisiana Near Or Past 100 Years Old

BATON ROUGE, La., Nov. 24. (P)—Louisiana's "nine old men" have nothing to do with courts—they're the last survivors of the gray-clad forces the state sent forth in the 1860's to make permanent the Confederate States of America.

Only nine remain of the thousands who were carried on the state's pension rolls. Most of them are close to or have passed 100 years of age. Each year sees the files of the men who fought at Chancellorsville and Vicksburg, and who surrendered at Appomattox Courthouse, grow thinner.

The surviving Louisiana veterans, who receive $80 monthly from the State Department of Welfare, are Burrell Maricle, of Elizabeth; John Mire, of Gonzales; August P. Saucier, of Lake Charles; Sylvester H. Wyatt, of Jonesboro; S. T. Seagraves, of Jennings; William D. Townsend, of Uman; Alfred T. Fuller, of Dubach; Stephen Dupre, of Alexandria, and W. R. Turner, of Leesville.

Saucier is the oldest listed, although two list their ages as not known. Saucier was born in 1836. He served in the cavalry, fighting against Federal troops for more than two years around Alexandria. At the time the Southern forces surrendered he was with a detachment proceeding toward Washington, La., to attempt the capture of several Northern gunboats there.

The "junior" of the nine old men is Townsend, who is only 96. He was born in 1849 at Meridian, Miss., and fought with Co. B, 27th Louisiana infantry, until he was wounded and captured when Vicksburg fell on July 4, 1863.

After 76 years or more, much of their service during the Civil War has become dim in the minds of the aged veterans. One, listing his branch of the service wrote: "It must have been in the cavalry since I rode a horse all the time." And the failure to remember company designations, names of commanders and places and dates of enlistment and discharge have caused several to fail to qualify for their pensions for months.

Besides the veterans themselves, the Welfare Department carries the names of 411 widows of Confederate soldiers on its rolls. They, too, receive $90 a month. The veterans have dropped to their present level from 187 in October, 1935, and 1,318 in October, 1925, the records show, while their widows have decreased from 1,576 and 2,734, respectively, for the same dates.

ASSIGNED AS CHAPLAIN

ANDERSON ISSUES LOAN STATEMENT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24. (P)—Clinton P. Anderson, secretary of agriculture, today issued this Victory Loan statement:

"A nation's war problems are not ended when the shooting stops any more than the problems on a flooded farm are ended when the flood waters recede. The end of the crisis in both cases means only that the time for cleaning up and rebuilding is at hand.

"It will take money to put our war-torn world to rights—to give wounded veterans needed medical care, to bring soldiers back home and get them started on lives as civilians again, to provide care for children whose fathers paid for our victory with their lives.

"Remember, there's still a big job ahead. Let's pay for it with Victory Bonds."

COTTON SALES INCREASE SEEN

Exchange Directors Think Peace Will Boost Ex- port Trade

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 24. (P)—The directors of the New Orleans cotton exchange predicted in their annual report today an increase in cotton sales with the resumption of peacetime export business.

The report said proposed legislation to change the cotton parity price formula would increase the spread in price between American and foreign cotton.

It was set out that inclusion of labor costs and taxes in the formula would increase the parity price of several cents per pound and "considerably augment the government loan and purchase program."

The broad termed the export and import bank's earmarking of $100,000,000 for purchase of American cotton by foreign countries "very encouraging," saying it "should go a long way

A ROCKING CHAIR FOR SUSAN

ALMOST HIDDEN from view 'mid the clutter of an old, old attic, stands the little worn chair.

Long, long ago when the chair was shiny new, its tiny rockers were enchanted wings to a quaint little girl, as they carried her and her flaxen haired doll into the land of make-believe.

The little girl and her little chair do not belong to the modern world. Many things have changed since those distant days.

But one thing remains the same. As long as little girls "play house," as long as lovers plan a rose covered cottage, as long as men build dreams—all roads to the heart will lead to home.

MAJOR FLORSHEIM RECEIVES SILVER STAR AT THEATER

Col. Stromme Makes Award
For Pin Point Bombing In Face Of Heaviest Flak

Maj. Henry P. Florsheim was awarded the Silver Star by Col. J. L. Stromme, station commanding officer, in a ceremony at the Post Theater last Saturday morning. The presentation was made before an assemblage representing every squadron on the post.

According to the citation Maj. Florsheim displayed exemplary courage while acting as a lead bombardier of the 344th Heavy Bombardment Squadron on July 19 of 1944. Although the entire formation was rocked by intense and accurate anti-aircraft fire, Maj. Florsheim pinpointed the target and the rest of the formation completely destroyed it.

In addition to the Silver Star Maj. Florsheim also holds the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Croix De Guerre and the Air Medal with eight clasters. During his military career in which he won the decorations he was overseas for 18 months and flew a total of 58 missions.

Present on the stage at the time the presentation was made were the parents of Maj. Florsheim, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar N. Florsheim of Monroe. In attendance with Col. Stromme was his staff consisting of Maj. John T. Testman, Maj. Richard E. Goree, Maj. Robert Wempner, Maj. Ivan Bradford, Maj. J. E. Fortier and Lt. Col. Sam Lemkin. Post Adjutant Henry Porter read the citation.

At the conclusion of the presentation ceremonies Col. Stromme read a message from Gen. H. H. Arnold in which Gen. Arnold made a plea for some form of unification of the services.

CONSCRIPTION TO BE A M VET TOPIC

Peace-time conscription will be discussed by Walter Savage Jr. Post No. 5, American Veterans of World War II, at its regular meeting Monday night in the courtroom on the second floor of the Ouachita parish courthouse.

National headquarters of the organization, in formulating its policy on the issue, has requested all its posts to debate and decide the question.

The meeting is scheduled to begin at 8 o'clock.

Try bathing your feet in warm water to which two tablespoonsful of ordinary household ammonia have been added.

SILVER STAR PRESENTED TO HERO

The Silver Star was awarded to Maj. Henry P. Florsheim (extreme right) on behalf of the War Department by Col. J. L. Stromme (right). Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Florsheim, parents of the major, were present at the ceremonies honoring their son.

Boyle's Notebook

By Hal Boyle

SHANGHAI, Nov. 24.—(AP)—For a little man, Francis Xavier Filan certainly gets around.

Frank is 41 years old, with light, boyish eyes and a big mop of brown hair that makes him look like an energetic woodpecker about to foreclose on a worm. He weighs 175 pounds and is five feet five or five feet six inches tall, depending on whether he stands on his good leg or on the one he once broke.

Frank is a photographer for the Associated Press. In the past three years he has made 16 amphibious landings in the Pacific.

You could always spot Frank on any battlefield—he was the way, bent little guy, shouldering ahead with 200 pounds of luggage, mostly cameras.

If the time ever came, for Frank to quit looking at life through a viewfinder, he can hang up his camera with many memories.

There was that night back in 1942 when the news wires carried the story of his death in a plane crash.

Frank was flying with two other men in a small plane, taking night pictures of bomber training practice near Victorville, Calif. For the first time in more than 100 flights he had buckled on a parachute.

"It was the only time I'd ever worn one and the only time I'd ever needed one," said Frank.

"We were flying at 4,000 feet when the bomber behind us suddenly surged forward and clipped the tail of our plane."

Knocked unconscious, Frank came to in the air. He pulled the ripcord, floated again and hit the ground like a sack of salt. The plane from which he had been the only clear eye lost and killed the remaining occupants.

So serious was the bombing wreckage that Frank was in it. His wife was informed that she was a widow.

Seven hours later Frank stumbled out of the night. Despite two broken bones in his back, he was still lug-ging his parachute. Asked why he hadn't dropped it where he fell, he said, "Parachutes are pretty expensive. I thought they'd want it back."

Then there was that beach on Parry Island, in the Marshalls.

"I guess nobody remembers that one," said Frank, "but there never was another place like it for Jap mines."

"I was running about 30 feet behind three Marines on the beach when one of them stepped on a mine. It killed two of them, and the third dropped to his knees and kept crying over and over, 'My buddies, my buddies, they're gone.'"

"Then the Japs started throwing hand grenades at us."

There was that other time when Frank went along with several thousand Marines bent on breaking down the Japanese closed-door policy at a place called Tarawa.

"Our boat was sunk and I lost all my equipment," he said. "We were neck-deep in water and in the line of fire from three Jap machine guns ashore. One fellow next to me was hit and kept saying, 'Don't leave me! You won't leave me, will you?'"

Frank dragged him 100 yards to the beach. On the way he had to crawl through an underwater barbed-wire barrier, so that he was pretty tired when he reached the deadly beach.

"All I remember," said Frank, "was that wounded guy. He was too weak to dig himself a hole, so I had to do it for him. But the tide kept washing us out. I dug seven foxholes in two hours that morning."

Three days later, with a borrowed camera, Frank took a picture of dead Japanese on Tarawa that won him the Pulitzer prize.

Then there was the case of Frank and "Fleg," the nychopathic parrot, but that one will have to wait for another day.

MERCHANTS WARNED OF CHECK THEIVES

Chief of Police J. D. Bushy yesterday called to the attention of merchants that it is in the rush of the holiday season that the check thief and the bagman creep their way into "bookings." Chief Bushy referred to the educational campaign conducted by the Monroe police department and the U. S. secret service and said:

"Now is the time for merchants to take the matters over with their employees. Caution them to be more careful in accepting other payments on commercial checks, especially cashiers' checks. Have them act as back check acceptors, and put down some money to what was used for identification. This takes responsibility and eyes to remind one of the transaction. Make up your mind to save yourself from loss by knowing your employees and requiring identification.

Merchants should ask themselves the question: 'If this check is returned as a forged check, I am sure I can locate the forger and recover my money.' This is the answer to that question, well, it is their money."

Although there are no chemical means of detecting counterfeit checks, the police department has a large number of typewriters in the laboratory.

PLAN ON BIGGER HOME OF LEGION

Enlarged Membership Said
To Require Larger
Building

Due to the rapidly increasing membership, which has at the present time broken all past records, the membership of L. B. Faulk Post No. 13 of the American Legion voted last week to construct a $100,000 annex to the present legion post at Forsythe Park as soon as the necessary funds can be raised. The proposed structure will be officially known as the "Memorial Hall" and dedicated "To the members of the American Legion who served in World War II." A bronze plaque, bearing the names of all those who were killed while serving in the armed forces from Ouachita parish, will be placed near the entrance to the Memorial Hall.

Smith, Padgett and Stubbs, Monroe architectural firm, have drafted tentative plans for the proposed building, which was submitted to the members. The annex will be constructed on the north side of the present building. It is planned to construct a one-story building which will follow the general architectural features of the present post. The main feature of the proposed building will be a large banquet and meeting hall which will seat in excess of 700 persons.

In discussing the proposed building with the members of the post, D. Curtis Smith, architect, announced that while it was difficult to estimate the cost of such a structure at this time, he felt that it would be safe to assume that it would cost approximately $100,000. This includes all necessary equipment and fixtures.

After discussion by the post, F. V. Allison, chairman of the building committee, made a motion that the legion begin an immediate drive to raise this amount, which was unanimously adopted by the members present.

In a report on the present post drive for new members, C. B. Braun, post adjutant, announced that L. B. Faulk Post No. 13 had a membership of 715 as of November 19, 1945, which is the largest membership in the history of the post. Mr. Braun stated that over 7,000 men and women had come from Ouachita parish to serve in the armed forces during World War II.

Considering the fact that only a small portion of these serving in the armed forces at the present time have been discharged, a figure of 2,000 active members was fixed as the post's quota by Armistice Day, 1946.

J. Arthur Smith, Jr., post commander, announced that the drive to raise funds for the new "Memorial Hall" would officially begin on Monday, December 3, 1945. The following committees were appointed to direct and supervise the drive for funds:

F. V. Allison, general chairman; J. Arthur Smith, Jr., chairman; C. B. Braun, secretary; F. Madison, judge advocate; Joe D. Tammell, campaign chairman; Sam Smith and Courtney Oliver, treasurers; Murty Holton, chairman in ways and means committee; other members: W. W. Keene, G. L. Hollaway, Walter Kellogg, Travis Oliver, Jr., M. D. Swazey, finance committee; Sam Rubin, chairman; other members: Oscar Johnson, Herman Mickel, Ivy Jordan, Dr. R. L. Wood, Jack Meun, Jack Rogers, Mike John, Robert Broad, William Mintz, Mrs. Floyd Madison, Victor Davis, Sam Orchard and Mrs. Charles Mitchell. Publicity committee, James Spokes, chairman, other members: George Lottin, J. C. Luter and James A. Nor.

Smith, Padgett and Stubbs will be the architects.

He weighs 125 pounds and is five feet five or five feet six inches tall, depending on whether he stands on his good leg or on the one he once broke.

Frank is a photographer for the Associated Press. In the past three years he has made 16 amphibious landings in the Pacific.

You could always spot Frank on any battlefield—he was the wiry, bent little guy, shouldering ahead with 200 pounds of luggage, mostly cameras.

If the time ever comes for Frank to quit looking at life through a viewfinder, he can hang up his camera with many memories.

There was that night back in 1942 when the news wires carried the story of his death in a plane crash.

Frank was flying with two other men in a small plane, taking night pictures of bomber training practice near Victorville, Calif. For the first time in more than 100 flights he had buckled on a parachute.

"It was the only time I'd ever worn one and the only time I'd ever needed one," said Frankie.

"We were flying at 4,000 feet when the bomber behind was suddenly surged forward and clipped the tail of our plane."

Knocked unconscious, Frank came to in the air. He pulled the ripcord, faintly again and hit the ground like a sack of salt. The plane from which he had been thrown clear crashed and killed the remaining occupants.

Searchers who found the burning wreckage though Frank was in it, his wife was informed that she was a widow.

Seven hours later Frank stumbled out of the night. Despite two broken bones in his back, he was still lugging his parachute. Asked why he hadn't dropped it where he fell, he said, "Parachutes are pretty expensive; I thought they'd want it back."

Then there was that beach on Parry Island, in the Marshalls.

"I guess nobody remembers that one," said Frank, "but there never was another place like it for Jap mines."

"I was running about 30 feet behind three Marines on the beach when one of them stepped on a mine. It killed two of them, and the third dropped to his knees and kept crying over and over, 'My buddies, my buddies, they're gone!'"

"Then the Japs started throwing hand grenades at us." There was that other time when Frank went along with several thousand Marines bent on breaking down the Japanese closed-door policy at a place called Tarawa.

"Our boat was sunk and I lost all my equipment," he said. "We were neck-deep in water and in the line of fire from three Jap machine guns ashore. One fellow next to me was hit and kept saying, 'Don't leave me! You won't leave me, will you?'"

Frank dragged him 150 yards to the beach. On the way he had to crawl through an underwater barbed-wire barrier, so that he was pretty tired when he reached the deadly shore.

"All I remember," said Frank, "was that wounded guy. He was too weak to dig himself a hole, so I had to do it for him, but the tide kept washing us out. I dug seven foxholes in two hours that morning."

Three days later, with a borrowed camera, Frank took a picture of dead Japanese on Tarawa that won him the Pulitzer prize.

Then there was the case of Frank and "Flags," the psychopathic parrot, but that one will have to wait for another day.

MERCHANTS WARNED OF CHECK THIEVES

Chief of Police J. D. Busby yesterday called to the attention of merchants that it is in the rush of the holiday season that the check thief and the forger enjoy their easiest "pickings." Chief Busby referred to the educational campaign conducted by the Monroe police department and the U. S. secret service, and said:

"Now is the time for merchants to talk these matters over with their employees. Caution them to be more careful in accepting either government or commercial checks, especially from strangers. Have them initial any check they accept, and jot down some memo as to what was used for identification. This fixes responsibility and serves to remind one of the transaction. Make up your mind to save yourself from loss by knowing your endorser and requiring identification. Merchants should ask themselves this question: 'If this check is returned as a forgery, do I know where I can locate the forger and recover my money?' Unless the answer to that one is 'yes'—well, it's their money."

Although there are only 92 chemical elements in nature, scientific experiments have produced almost 500 unstable (radioactive) types in the laboratory.

PLAN ON BIGGER HOME OF LEGION

Enlarged Membership Said
Building

Due to the rapidly increasing membership, which has at the present time broken all post records, the membership of L. B. Faulk Post No. 13 of the American Legion voted last week to construct a $100,000 annex to the present legion post at Forsythe Park as soon as the necessary funds can be raised. The proposed structure will be officially known as the "Memorial Hall" and dedicated "To the members of the American Legion who served in World War II." A bronze plaque, bearing the names of all those who were killed while serving in the armed forces from Ouachita parish, will be placed near the entrance to the Memorial Hall.

Smith, Padgett and Stubbs, Monroe architectural firm, have drafted tentative plans for the proposed building, which was submitted to the members. The annex will be constructed on the north side of the present building. It is planned to construct a one-story building which will follow the general architectural features of the present post. The main feature of the proposed building will be a large banquet and meeting hall which will seat in excess of 700 persons.

In discussing the proposed building with the members of the post, D. Curtis Smith, architect, announced that while it was difficult to estimate the cost of such a structure at this time, he felt that it would be safe to assume that it would cost approximately $100,000. This includes all necessary equipment and fixtures. After discussion by the post, F. V. Allison, chairman of the building committee, made a motion that the legion begin an immediate drive to raise this amount, which was unanimously adopted by the members present.

In a report on the present post drive for new members, C. B. Braun, post adjutant, announced that L. B. Faulk Post No. 13 had a membership of 716 as of November 19, 1945, which is the largest membership in the history of the post. Mr. Braun stated that over 7,000 men and women had gone from Ouachita parish to serve in the armed forces during World War II. Considering the fact that only a small portion of those serving in the armed forces at the present time have been discharged, a figure of 2,000 active members was fixed as the post's quota by Armistice Day, 1946.

J. Arthur Smith, Jr., post commander, announced that the drive to raise funds for the new "Memorial Hall" would officially begin on Monday, December 3, 1945. The following committees were appointed to direct and supervise the drive for funds:

F. V. Allison, general chairman; J. Arthur Smith, Jr., commander; C. B. Braun, secretary; F. Madison, judge advocate; Joe D. Trammell, campaign chairman; Sam Smith and Courtney Oliver, treasurers; Murtagh Hudson, chairman, ways and means committee; other members, J. W. Keene, G. L. Holloway, Walter Kellogg, Travis Oliver, Jr., M. D. Swayze; finance committee, Sam Rubin, chairman; other members, Oscar Johnson, Herman Mickel, Ivy Jordan, Dr. R. L. Wood, Jack Masur, Jack Rogers, Mike John, Robert Breard, William Mintz, Mrs. Flood Madison, Victor Davis, Sam Orchard and Mrs. Charles Mitchell. Publicity committee, James Sparks, chairman; other members, George Lofton, J. C. Liner and James A. Noe.

Smith, Padgett and Stubbs will be the architects.

NEW GOLD RUSH HITS COLORADO

Entirely New Town Blossoms On Few Acres Of Sagebrush

RANGELY, Colo., Nov. 24.—(AP)—There's a new gold rush in full swing in Colorado, and for excitement and quick-quick delirium it is reminiscent of the famous stampede to Cripple Creek in the '90s.

It's black gold this time—rich oil that seeps out of the sandstone and lies over the surface of this basin called Rangely. Located in the northwestern part of the state, it's not far from the Utah-Colorado border.

The Rangely oil field is a brand new baby, but geologists already are predicting it with the Oklahoma City boom, which roared into existence with 25,000 barrels-a-day gushers in the '30s, petroleum's flush and fabulous era.

It's the hottest strike in the history of the Rocky Mountain region.

Only a few score wells have been completed to date but the U. S. geological survey estimates there will be at least 600, one well to each 40 acres, and adds that the limits of the field still have not been defined.

Speaking conservatively, major companies with a stake in Rangely predict that the field ultimately will produce 418,000,000 barrels of oil. The Salt Creek field in Wyoming, previously the biggest in the Rockies, had produced 281,500,000 barrels at the start of last summer, when the oil industry began sending in thousands of men and huge quantities of drilling equipment, the Rangely basin was a quiet, sparsely-settled region where herds of fat cattle and sheep grazed with wild deer on purple sagebrush-covered mountainside.

The town of Rangely was just a wide spot in the road that meanders across the basin, with a postoffice, school, general store and half a dozen scattered dwellings.

A few weeks later heavy oil field trucks had churned the main street into a sea of mud, fringed by buildings of every description sprung up overnight.

J. W. Hays came to Rangely to open a liquor store and "started doing a land-office business right away."

The lumber used in the flooring of his shop was green "and it kind of shrank," Hays said, "it had to put linoleum on it so the boys wouldn't drop any thousand-dollar bills between the cracks. I never say anything like this before."

Out on a bald prairie far from town, the owner of a dilapidated one-room log and mud cabin rented it to a desperate house-hunter—for $15 a month.

At the junction where U. S. Highway 40 turns onto the Rangely Road, an entirely new town—Artesia—blossomed like magic on a few acres of sagebrush, boasting two theaters, stores, pool halls and the inevitable liquor dispensaries and beer emporiums.

Up on Highway 40 a couple of miles toward the Utah line lies Wiley's resort, the property of Wiley Baucum, whose real bonanza is an artesian water well, from which flows the only pure drinking water in this arid territory. Wiley's water supplies the oil field and the town of Rangely—for a price—and it's generally understood that his water well is more valuable than any oil well around.

But Wiley isn't just standing waiting for the profits. He's building a $75,000 night club which he says will be the finest "between Denver and the West Coast."

The boom has echoed all the way to Craig, an established town 110 miles southeast of the field which had 2,000 satisfied souls before the upheaval and now has about twice that many. Craig is the nearest railroad point to Rangely and the funnel through which flows all the massive quantities of drilling equipment headed for the field.

Its railroad yards are jammed. Long freight trains puff and chug over the Continental Divide from Denver, dump their cargoes of oil field materials and knock-down houses and load up again with sheep, cattle and gasoline, the natural products of the region, for the slow return trip through the Rockies.

Craig is too far from Rangely for commuting, but several supply and equipment firms have built warehouses there. The Halliburton Oil Well Cementing Company put up the biggest cement handling plant in the Rockies in Craig. Oil executives brought their families there to live.

The town just can't hold and board all its newcomers. Even chicken houses and garages have been converted into dwellings.

Presence of oil in the Rangely basin has been known since 1912, when crude was seen seeping out of the ground.

In modern warfare, an "asparagus bed" is made up of rows of steel rails set in the ground to stop tanks.

26 PERSONS HURT IN BOMBAY RIOTING

CALCUTTA, India, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Twenty-six persons were injured at Bombay today in a new outbreak of rioting which already has produced scores of casualties in India, including one American soldier killed and 20 injured in Calcutta.

The death toll for three days of demonstrations against the trial of members of the Indian National Army as war criminals mounted to 37 when American authorities announced that the charred body of a missing soldier had been found near the wreckage of a burned ambulance in Calcutta.

The new clashes in Bombay broke out when students of Khilafah and Hindu colleges walked out of their classes and attempted to stage a demonstration without a permit. Police blocked the streets and charged the demonstrators with canes. They later opened fire after the students showed them with bullets and stones.

Three police inspectors, three policemen and 20 students were injured by flying missiles. No one was reported hit by gunfire.

The name of the dead American soldier was withheld pending notification of next of kin. He was reported to have left camp Howard for Calcutta, driving an ambulance, Thursday night. The burned ambulance and his body were found near an intersection which was the scene of one of the worst rioting.

Five of the injured Americans still were in hospitals, but all were reported recovering. A complete record of damaged and destroyed American vehicles was not yet available, but at least eight were known to have been destroyed and more than 50 damaged.

The American 142nd general hospital, largest hospital in the base section headquarters area, could be reached only by a circuitous route during the height of the disturbances. In Calcutta, military police, however, conveyed ambulances and cars to the hospital without incident.

Calcutta was gradually returning to normal, although British troops still were patrolling the entire city and the strike of 20,000 municipal workers continued.

MAY BAR PROMINENT BRITISH WITNESSES

NUERNBERG, Germany, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Defense attorneys said today they would call titled members of the "Cliveden set" and other prominent Britons as witnesses in the historic war crimes trial, but it appeared they would be blocked by legal restrictions.

The lawyers for the accused Nazi leaders disclosed their plans at a press conference. It was learned authoritatively later that restrictions on bringing in foreigners as defense witnesses before the international military tribunal are so multifold the "big names" are almost excluded at the outset.

The defendants who planned to call British witnesses were former Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop, Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel and former Deputy Fuehrer Rudolf Hess. Von Ribbentrop's attorney said the one-time German ambassador to London would call Lady Astor and others who used to meet in the 1930s at the Cliveden estate of Lord and Lady Astor, including Lords Beaverbrook, Londonderry and Derby.

Keitel's attorney announced that his client would call Giles Romilly, a nephew of Winston Churchill who was captured by the Germans at Narvik, Norway, in 1940, and Capt. Michael Alexander, a cousin of Field Marshal Sir Harold Alexander, also a prisoner of war.

Hess' attorney indicated he would call the Duke of Hamilton, on whose estate the former No. 3 Nazi landed when he parachuted upon Scotland in 1941, and the British physician who first examined Hess after he landed.

The boom has echoed all the way to Craig, an established town 110 miles southeast of the field which had 2,000 satisfied souls before the upheaval and now has about twice that many. Craig is the nearest railroad point to Rangely and the funnel through which flows all the massive quantities of drilling equipment headed for the field.

Its railroad yards are jammed. Long freight trains puff and chug over the Continental Divide from Denver, dump their cargoes of oil field materials and knock-down houses and load up again with sheep, cattle and gilsonite, the natural products of the region, for the slow return trip through the Rockies.

Craig is too far from Rangely for commuting, but several supply and equipment firms have built warehouses there. The Halliburton Oil Well Cementing Company put up the biggest cement handling plant in the Rockies in Craig. Oil executives brought their families there to live.

The town just can't beat and board all its newcomers. Even chicken houses and garages have been converted into dwellings.

Presence of oil in the Rangely basin has been known since 1902, when crude was seen seeping out of the

26 PERSONS HURT IN BOMBAY RIOTING

CALCUTTA, India, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Twenty-six persons were injured at Bombay today in a new outbreak of rioting which already has produced scores of casualties in India, including one American soldier killed and 26 injured in Calcutta.

The death toll for three days of demonstrations against the trial of members of the Indian National Army as war criminals mounted to 37 when the charred body of a missing soldier had been found near the wreckage of a burned ambulance in Calcutta.

The new clashes in Bombay broke out when students of Khalsa and Ruia colleges walked out of their classes and attempted to stage a demonstration without a permit. Police blocked the streets and charged the demonstrators with canes. They later opened fire after the students showered them with bricks and stones.

Three police inspectors, three policemen and 20 students were injured by flying missiles. No one was reported hit by gunfire.

The name of the dead American soldier was withheld pending notification of next of kin. He was reported to have left camp Howrah for Calcutta, driving an ambulance, Thursday night. The burned ambulance and his body were found near an intersection which was the scene of some of the worst rioting.

Five of the injured Americans still were in hospitals, but all were reported recovering. A complete record of damaged and destroyed American vehicles was not yet available, but at least eight were known to have been destroyed and more than 30 damaged.

The American 142nd general hospital, largest hospital in the base section headquarters area, could be reached only by a circuitous route during the height of the disturbances in Calcutta. Military police, however, conveyed ambulances and cars to the hospital without incident.

Calcutta was gradually returning to normal, although British troops still were patrolling the entire city and the strike of 20,000 municipal workers continued.

DEATHS

MRS. MARY JANE BREWSTER WINNSBORO, La., Nov. 24.—(Special)—Last rites for Mrs. Mary Jane Brewster, 73, who died Friday at Alexandria, will be held at the First National Funeral Home here Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock with the Rev. Mr. Curry, Presbyterian minister, officiating, assisted by the Rev. O. L. Tucker. Burial will take place in the new Winnsboro Cemetery.

Mrs. Brewster is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Ethel Hart Jones, Winnsboro, and three grandchildren.

J. O. WHITTEN COLUMBIA, La., Nov. 24.—(Special)—Funeral arrangements for J. O. Whitten, 66, Grayson, who died suddenly of a heart attack in a local drug store Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock, had not been completed late today, pending the arrival of relatives.

Mr. Whitten is survived by three daughters, Mrs. J. L. McCollum, Pollock, and Miss Annie Willie Whitten, Pollock, and Mrs. Estelle Starnes, Grayson; three sons, Sherwood Whitten, Rockport, Calif., Sgt. Stanton Whitten, stationed with the army at White Sul-

MAY BAR PROMINENT BRITISH WITNESSES

NUERNBERG, Germany, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Defense attorneys said today they would call titled members of the "Cliveden set" and other prominent Britons as witnesses in the historic war crimes trial, but it appeared they would be blocked by legal restrictions.

The lawyers for the accused Nazi leaders disclosed their plans at a press conference. It was learned authoritatively later that restrictions on bringing in foreigners as defense witnesses before the international military tribunal are so multifold that "big names" are almost excluded at the outset.

The defendants who planned to call British witnesses were former Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop, Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel and former Deputy Fuehrer Rudolf Hess.

Von Ribbentrop's attorney said the one-time German ambassador to London would call Lady Astor and others who used to meet in the 1930s at the Cliveden estate of Lord and Lady Astor, including Lord Beaverbrook, Lord Londonderry and Derby.

Keitel's attorney announced that his client would call Giles Romilly, a nephew of Winston Churchill who was captured by the Germans at Narvik, Norway, in 1940, and Capt. Michael Alexander, a cousin of Field Marshal Sir Harold Alexander, also a prisoner of war.

Hess' attorney indicated he would call the Duke of Hamilton, on whose estate the former No. 3 Nazi landed when he parachuted upon Scotland in 1941, and the British physician who first examined Hess after he landed.

DEMOBILIZATION PROGRESSES FAST

Discharges Expected To Be Half Completed By Mid-December

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—(P)—The job of demobilizing America's huge Second World War army of 8,300,000 is expected to be half-way complete by mid-December, soon after another drop in discharge points becomes effective.

Effective Dec. 1, changes in the point system will make an additional 753,000 men and women eligible to return to civilian life.

The latest war department figures show that from May 12 through Nov. 15, a total of 3,114,000 had been discharged. About 287,000 are being discharged every week.

On the basis of the present discharge rate and the accelerated rate in December, at least half of the army should be out of uniform by Dec. 12, or six months after V-E day.

On Dec. 1 the discharge score for all male officers, except those in the medical department, will drop from 75 to 73. Officers also can be released if they have four years and three months of honorable service. Likewise they can leave the army if they have reached the age of fifty years.

The present discharge score for doctors, dentists and veterinary corps members is 80 points, and for medical administrators and sanitary corps members 70 points, but army rumor has it that these scores will be lowered during December.

On Dec. 1 all married members of the Women's Army Corps, both officers and enlisted women, who are enlisted prior to May 12, 1945, will be eligible for discharge. Prior to this time only WACs married to discharged members of the military forces are being released.

The release point score for WAC officers continues at 37 but for the enlisted personnel it drops from 34 to 32.

The point score for enlisted men on Dec. 1 will drop 5 points to 55. Also they will be eligible for release if they have four years of honorable military service or have three or more dependent children under 18 years of age.

Also previous factors for discharge of enlisted men continue in effect. Under these an enlisted man can get out if he is 35 years of age and has two years of service. If he is 38 he can get out regardless of the length of service. Returned overseas veterans with 50 points, if declared surplus, will be discharged when they return from foreign posts.

Prisoners of war for 60 days were declared eligible for discharge Nov. 7. WAC officers can be discharged if they have reached 40 years of age. Enlisted women who are 35 and have two years' service are eligible. Discharge without regard to length of service is automatic at age 38.

The air forces have authorized release of enlisted men within the continental United States if they are declared surplus and if they have two years' service and 50 points. Enlisted WACs, declared surplus, will be released by the air corps if they have 55 points and one year service in the United States.

The air forces have declared surplus pilots, navigators and bombardiers and certain other crew specialists, such as radar equipment operators on B-29s, with 41 points and two years' duty in the United States.

So far there is no change for women officer members of the medical departments. The discharge score for nurses is 35 points and for dieticians and physical therapy aides 40 points. Nurses can get out if they are 35 years of age and the other two classifications if they are 40. Marriage to discharged members of the military forces, and dependent children under 18, are grounds for release.

16-YEAR-OLDER IS CRACK HUNTER

BERNICE, La., Nov. 24.—(Special)—Paul Pratt, 16, son of L. H. Pratt, cashier of the Bank of Bernice, is the champion duck hunter in this section and always gets his quota. Associate hunters say he has a near perfect call and is a crack shot. He is always accommodating, and after getting his quota will call for his companions who are less fortunate.

As a result of his Thanksgiving day hunting, many of his friends had a second Thanksgiving Friday with a duck dinner.

Paul started to hunt at the age of four years with his father, who was regarded as an expert until Paul out-tepped him. Paul first hunted with an air rifle, soon he got a 22 and now carries one of the best guns on the market and is well known among north Louisiana hunters as not only the youngest but the best of hunters when duck season returns each year.

VICKS

THE NATION TODAY

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—(P)—Year after year you read about Congress doing something with a bill. But what's a bill and what happens to it? The administration, a group, an individual or a congressman wants Congress to do something. That proposal is drawn up in the form of a bill.

The proposal is called a bill from the time it is introduced in Congress until it passes both Houses and is signed by the president. Then it becomes an "act" of law.

For simplicity, since procedure generally is the same in both Houses, this explanation deals with a bill in the House. Always it has to be introduced by a congressman.

He can do that simply by saying he wants to and then placing it in the clerk's box. Or, without saying anything, he can send a messenger to the House to place it in the box.

It may be drawn up in several ways.

Take a simple bill. A congressman wants something done. Since a majority of the congressmen are lawyers, he probably knows how to write a bill himself. Sometimes his secretary can do it for him.

Or he may ask the legislative counsel—a five-man staff of lawyers employed by the House and expert in bill-drafting—to write it for him.

Or the president recommends some major legislation. In that case a staff of government experts may whip the recommendation into bill form for some administration congressman to introduce.

If a government department wants something done, which is often, its own experts write the bill which, however, seldom gets out of Congress without changes.

After the bill goes into the clerk's box, the speaker of the House gives it a number and defers it to the proper House committee. A bill on veterans, for instance, would go to the veterans committee.

DON COSSACK IS WORLD FAMOUS

Celebrated Russian Chorus To Be Heard Here Monday

Everyone in the music world knows today that the General Platoff Don Cossack Russian Chorus, which is to appear here on Monday, November 26, at 8:15 p. m., in the Neville High School auditorium, bears the name of the great Russian hero whose valorous exploits aided in freeing the Russian homeland from Napoleon and his invading armies.

That is, almost everyone. There is still one "lady in the dark" who thinks that General Platoff is still alive and still leads the chorus. At one concert last season, when handsome Nicholas Kostukoff, the leader, took a bow, the lady was heard to remark to her companion: "He's awfully young to be a general, isn't he?" Then she added, "But he's good-looking, isn't he? Don't you think he looks like Charles Boyer?"

It was a colored Pullman porter who recently went through the car in which the chorus was traveling, calling for "Mr. Don Cossack."

"Here, I'm Mr. Don Cossack," one of the members called.

"No, you ain't, not de Mr. Don Cossack I means. I'm look' fo' de big impo'tant Mr. Don Cossack, lak Tommy Dorsey or Benny Goodman."

Concert touring throughout 10 months of the year is long, tedious business, but the Cossack members manage to find their fun, and are always ready for a practical joke. For instance, in New Orleans, last winter, the hotel was unable to find room accommodations for the 27 Cossacks, with legal jargon, often full of such oblique meaning that federal courts have to decide what Congress meant to say. And the courts don't always agree among themselves on that.

but let the men have cuts in an unused banquet hall.

Came the dawn with its shrill alarm-clock call to turn out. One drowsy Cossack, stumbling to his feet, nearly fell over an individual deep in sleep on the floor between two of the cots. From the disheveled appearance of his dress-suit, it was evident that the gentleman was sleeping off the effects of an all-night illumination. A bit dazed on being awakened, he asked, "Where am I?"

A stern Cossack replied, "Prison camp. Lively, now. No time to lose. They're shipping you back to Europe where you belong. Come, step lively."

The poor man stumbled to his feet. "No, no," he whimpered, and then sank back weakly onto a cot, until a good-natured Cossack, thinking he had been ragged enough, laughingly reassured him.

The chorus has traveled far in its world-wide career—Europe, Egypt, the Far East, Hawaii—before the war in the Pacific, the members met General Douglas MacArthur in the Philippines, and were photographed with him and with former Philippine Commissioner Paul McNutt.

"General MacArthur came to hear us four times—he is a fine man," said leader Kostukoff.

He recalled the chorus being in Japan in 1938. When the Cossacks learned that half the proceeds for their concert was to be used in the war on China, they, to a man, refused to sing a note.

The General Platoff Don Cossacks first came to the United States in 1899, and made their triumphant debut at the San Francisco exhibition. Since then they have traveled annually from coast to coast. Nearly all of the men have been granted American citizenship and have their homes for the most part in the east.

THREE CONFERENCE TITLES DECIDED IN SATURDAY TILTS

D. C. L. A. Defeat By California Further Muddles Rose Bowl Race

By Harold Claxton
NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Indiana won its first Big Ten title, Missouri grabbed the Big Six crown and Duke remained on the Southern Conference throne today as many of the nation's college football teams completed their season and set the stage for next Saturday's clash between mighty Army and ambitious Navy.

These achievements were expected, in contrast to California's 6 to 0 verdict over U. C. L. A. that muddled the Western Rose Bowl picture, even as the thrilling fight put up by Tulane before bowing to Notre Dame, 25 to 6.

Alabama, the Eastern representative in the Rose Bowl game, used its regulars sparingly while drubbing Pennsylvania Navy, 55 to 6.

Pete Pihos was the battering ram as Indiana humbled Purdue, 26 to 0, although the final two Hoosier rallies came via the air. It was the first unbeaten season for Indiana since the advent of Coach Bo McMillin 12 years ago and the first loop crown in 45 years of trying.

Michigan collected a touchdown in the final seven minutes to edge past Ohio State, 7 to 3, in the struggle that determined the runner-up.

Northwestern's youngsters beat Illinois, 13 to 7, and Wisconsin dumped Minnesota into the cellar alongside Iowa by downing the Gophers, 26 to 12. Iowa lost to Nebraska, 13 to 6, in a non-title affair.

Missouri's 23 to 12 conquest of Kansas ended Oklahoma's two year domination of the Big Six on the same day that the Sooners were taught a 47 to 0 football lesson by Bob Fenimore and his Oklahoma A. and M. mates.

Duke, still the only college team to score twice on Army, improved its bowl chances by subduing a stubborn North Carolina aggregation, 14 to 7, that ensured it the Southern Conference title for another year, although it must share some of its glory with Clemson which defeated Georgia Tech of the Southeast circuit, 21 to 7.

A week ago Clemson drubbed Tulane, Maryland handed Virginia a 19 to 13 setback and pushed the Cavaliers out

MICHIGAN NUDGES BUCKEYES, 7 TO 3

Wolverines Win With Last Quarter Touchdown To Finish 2nd In Big Ten

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 24.—(AP)—Michigan nudged the Ohio State Buckeyes behind for a capacity crowd of 55,132 fans, punched over a fourth period touchdown for a 7 to 3 victory over Ohio State here today after Tackle-Max Schnitzler had put the Buckeyes ahead, 3 to 0, with a 17-yard field goal in the third period.

The hard-earned victory gave Michigan second place in the final Big Ten standings behind unbeaten Indiana, which won the title by pasting Purdue, 26 to 0.

Less than seven minutes of play remained when Michigan sent Halfback Henry Fonde diving through Ohio State's right tackle from the one-yard line for the winning touchdown.

The 18-year-old Navy trainee had made the opportunity himself by going 25 yards with a pass from Red Elliott.

Fonde's side-stepped Buckeye Halfback Dick Fisher as he caught the pass on the Ohio State 35-yard line and pedaled 16 yards farther before being hauled down by Ollie Cline on the Ohio 19.

From there Elliott drove to the 10 in two plays and Howard Verges lashed to Fonde for a first down on the Buckeye 5. An off-side penalty set Ohio on its one-yard line and Fonde hit through right tackle on the second play for the winning touchdown.

George Chiamers' first conversion attempt was nullified by a penalty against the Wolverines and his second try from the seven-yard line split the uprights.

Ohio's field goal, Schnitzler's second of the season, was a beautiful angle boot from the 17-yard line after the Buckeyes had moved to the Michigan 12 on Hal Daughtry's 33-yard pass to Tom Watson and Michigan breezed.

The ball was in Michigan territory throughout the third period. Ohio once punched to the Wolverine 15-yard line but lost the ball on downs.

PRESSURE FORCED ROSE BOWLERS TO CHOOSE ALABAMA

By Bill Becker
LOS ANGELES, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Alabama's Crimson Tide will be the visiting team in the Rose Bowl Jan. 1. Pressure from New Orleans Sugar Bowl and Army's inability to give an affirmative reply to the Rose Bowl committee's "feelers" hurried the selection, Chairman Willis O. Hunter indicated as he announced Alabama's acceptance yesterday. It was the earliest announcement on record.

The Sugar Bowl was after the Crimson Tide almost as hot and early as the Rose Bowl, which began to sweat when Army authorities said they would be unable to answer until after the Army-Navy game Dec. 1.

"Under the conditions," Hunter explained, "the committee believed it would be unwise to delay the selection."

In short, with no positive guarantees from Army, the Rose Bowl people were afraid they might lose Alabama.

Hunter quoted Frank Thomas, Alabama coach, as saying he had to notify Sugar Bowl officials before announcement of the Tide's Rose Bowl acceptance could be made. That, said Hunter, is why reports emanating from Birmingham and points east Thanksgiving Day could not be confirmed immediately.

For Alabama, undefeated and untied in seven games this year, it will be the sixth appearance in the Rose Bowl. In previous visits, the Tide won three, lost one and tied one. The "Bama" were in the Pasadena sweepstakes in 1928, 1929, 1932 and 1933.

Sparked by Ace Parker, Harry Gilmer, Alabama has scored 341 points in 33 against them, with one game—Mississippi State Dec. 1—to go.

Incidentally, several other teams besides Alabama and Army were considered for the bid, but not seriously, said Hunter. He declined to name the others.

HOOSIERS WIN 1ST BIG TEN LAURELS

Indiana Scores Decisive 26-0 Triumph Over Purdue To Clinch Title

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Nov. 24.—(AP)—Crafty Alvin (Bo) McMillin's once-scorned "pore-ill" Hoosier boys were roaring football giants today, pouring an undefeated 4 to Indiana University's first championship in Big Ten history with a decisive 26 to 0 victory over Purdue.

A delicious throng of 27,000 saw the Hoosiers, denied a championship since the school entered the Big Ten in 1900, explode for not only the conference title but also a spot close behind Army and Navy in the national picture.

With burly Pete Pihos, a rough and tumble ex-paratrooper—bulling his way to the first two of Indiana's four touchdowns, the Hoosiers finished with a near-perfect record of nine victories and a 7-7 conference tie with Northwestern.

The Boilermakers lived up to old oaken bucket tradition by battling Indiana to a scoreless tie for the first half. But relentless Hoosier power, unshaken by Pihos and George Taliaferro, Negro halfback, and Quarterback Ben Raimondi's superb passing ripped Purdue's defenses to shreds in the last two periods.

After Pihos earned across from the one-yard line to cap a 77-yard Indiana march midway in the third period to break the tie, Purdue disintegrated into a badly wounded team.

Less than two minutes after the first score, Pihos again battered across from the one-yard stripe, where End Ted Fumelle recovered a Purdue fumble.

Although Pihos suffered a back injury at the outset of the final period, the Hoosiers slammed to two more touchdowns, both on passes. The first came on a seven-yard toss from Raimondi to Kluszewski in the end zone and the second on Raimondi's four-yard flit sub end Louis Mihalovich.

Reserve tackle Charles Armstrong rang the bell on two of his four placement tries for extra points.

In the conference race, Indiana finished on top with five victories and a tie, while Michigan, a 7 to 3 winner over defending champion Ohio State at Ann Arbor, wound up second with a 5-1 record.

PLAINSMEN ROLL OVER BULLDOGS

Louisiana Tech Bows To Superior Auburn Eleven, 29 To 0

AUBURN, Ala., Nov. 24.—(AP)—The Auburn Plainsmen rode to an easy 29 to 0 victory over an outclassed Louisiana Tech team today with Curtis Kuykendall and Dan Hataway leading the attack.

Auburn scored before the game was three minutes old when Kuykendall raced around right end behind perfect blocking for 51 yards. Smalley converted from placement.

In the second quarter, Auburn applied the clincher by scoring 16 points. Hataway started it off with a 20-yard run for a score. Smalley's kick again was good. Then Ed House blocked a Tech punt for a safety. The plainsmen marched 59 yards for another touchdown, with Kuykendall going over from the ten. Smalley converted.

COTTON BOWL ABOUT SET TO NAME VISITING TEAM

DALLAS, Nov. 24.—(AP)—The visiting team for the Cotton Bowl football game Jan. 1 will be announced tomorrow or Monday, Bowl officials said tonight, but they would not comment on what team or teams are under consideration or have been contacted.

However, it was learned from a source close to the Cotton Bowl that undefeated Oklahoma A. & M. is the No. 1 choice and that other teams being considered are Duke, which has lost only to Army and Navy; Tennessee, which lost to Alabama; and Louisiana State but now is a powerhouse with All-America Charley Trippi back in the lineup.

Virginia, unbeaten until today, had been considered very much in the picture but the Cavaliers lost to Maryland and thus were not believed upon among the top choices.

The Southwest Conference champion is the host team in the Bowl. Today the University of Texas took the lead and can clinch the title next Thursday by beating Texas A. and M. Bowl officials would not say as but it was learned that Oklahoma A. and M. is the No. 1 choice of all conference teams still with a chance at winning or sharing the title.

DAWSON TO FACE HUDSON

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Freddie Dawson, Chicago lightweight contender, will meet Eddie Hudson of Nevada in a ten-round decision bout here Nov. 30.

Promoter Louis Messina announced the bout. Hudson, who recently stopped Cleo Shans in Los Angeles, will be making his Dixie ring bow.

OLE MISS UPSETS MAROONS, 7 TO 6

Vaunted Power Of Mississippi State Fails To Impress Rebels

STATE COLLEGE, Miss., Nov. 24.—(AP)—An inspired underdog eleven from the University of Mississippi rose to the football heights here today to upset their ancient rivals from Mississippi State College, 7 to 6, before a crowd estimated at 18,000.

The vaunted power of the Maroons from State failed in the clutch and the gallant Rebel forward wall stopped their Maroon threats with their back to the goal posts.

Mississippi's passing attack clicked in the first quarter with Halfback Frank Davis tossing a 37-yard touchdown aerial to Quarterback Jack Warner. Don Kauter converted from placement for what proved to be the winning margin.

The Maroons turned on the power in the fourth period for their touchdown after Tackle W. D. Garrett recovered Grady Brewer's punt on the Ole Miss 20. Halfback Harper Davis and Fullback Graham Bramlett bucked the line to the Mississippi 10, and Davis went over on a double reverse. Tom Burgess missed his try for the extra point from placement.

State drove 71 yards in the second period but the ball went over on downs on the Mississippi nine. Again the Maroons marched down the field only to lose the ball on the Rebel six. The third State threat near the end of the period carried to the four where the rugged Rebel line tightened.

Ole Miss outpassed and outkicked State College, racking up a total of 63 yards in the air against 45 for State averaging 32 yards on punts compared with 30 for the Maroons.

On the ground, however, the Maroons far eclipsed the visitors, gaining a total of 278 yards rushing against 72 for Ole Miss.

The game was cleanly played with Mississippi State passing only 19 yards and Mississippi 45.

Frank Davis, 193 pound, six foot one inch halfback, carried the passing and running burden for Ole Miss and was ably assisted by Quarterbacks Vernon Wells and Warner.

Don Robinson, first string left halfback, accounted for a considerable part of the Maroon rushing gains. Fullback Bramlett shook loose for a 27 yard end run in the first quarter but State was unable to get beyond the Mississippi 20.

It remained, however, for hard charging Harper Davis to lead in State's ground gaining department. The low-running former St. Mary's prep school player, had a net of 96 yards for the game.

It was one of the most stunning upsets in the 42-game history of Mississippi's ranking football tilt. For Coach Allyn McKee's Maroons, who were shooting for a bowl bid, it was a bitter pill. The Maroons still must play Alabama next week in Tuscaloosa.

The victory gave the Rebels a total of 17 wins since the traditional series was started in 1911. The Maroons piled up 23 triumphs and only two games have ended in ties.

The overflow crowd jammed this little college town's eating places and impromptu picnics dotted the State College campus two hours before game time.

The defeat, second of the season for the Maroons, knocked out State's hopes for a Bowl bid—unless Coach Allyn McKee can prime his club for the major miracle of upsetting Alabama next week.

Midway in the season the Maroons were beaten by Tulane—also by the margin of an extra point, 14 to 13. Both teams resorted frequently to passes, but neither had much luck except for the all-important touchdown heave that gave Ole Miss its victory. State, especially, tried the overhead route, but wild pitching and alert Ole Miss defense thwarted most efforts.

The Maroons tried 21 aerials, completing only four and having two intercepted. Ole Miss made 13 attempts, with three completions and one interception.

State led 10 to 6 in first downs. Early in the last period, Halfback Benny Ray Nobles of State skirted Ole Miss' left end for 38 yards and the longest run of the game. Brewer

STYMIE TRIUMPHS IN RIGGS HANDICAP

BALTIMORE, Nov. 24.—(AP)—With Armed, last week's Pimlico Special winner, scratched, Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs' Stymie won the Riggs Handicap today, after Mrs. Elizabeth Graham's Star Pilot staked out a strong claim to the two-year-old title by winning the Pimlico Futurity.

Circling his field from last place, the one-time $1,500 plater hit the wire a neck in front of his chief contender for handicap honors this year, Mrs. Ed. Mulrenan's First Fiddle, with Morris Wexler's British Buddy a length and a half farther back. Warren Wright's Pot O'Luck, entry mate of Armed before the latter was scratched, closed fast to finish fourth.

Under Jockey Bobby Permane, Stymie clicked off the mile and three sixteenths in two minutes flat on an off track to pick up a $23,650 winner's purse, boosting his earnings for the year to $203,825. He returned $8.10 for each $2 win ticket.

of the unbeaten class while Tennessee blanketed Kentucky, 14 to 0, and underdog Mississippi slipped past Mississippi State by a single point, 7 to 6. Auburn had little trouble with Louisiana Tech, 29 to 0, and Little Creek Naval Base stopped Florida, 12 to 0.

Penn. wallowed by Army only a week ago, came back with a 59 to 6 conquest of Cornell that brought the Quakers the Ivy League laurels. Yale had to come from behind to down Princeton, 20 to 14, in the first of the Big Three battles. Harvard got ready for the Elis by crushing Boston University, 60 to 0.

Columbia won its eighth game in nine starts by downing Dartmouth, 21 to 0, and thus became the highest scoring team in Coach Lou Little's 16 years as the Lion boss. Colgate and Brown deadlocked at 6 to 6 but Pittsburgh surprised by whipping Penn State, 7 to 0.

Texas' chances of winning the southwest title increased with Rice's 12 to 13 loss of Texas Christian, primarily on the pitching of Leon Joslin. Southern Methodist had no trouble with Baylor, 34 to 0.

Washington State annexed the northern division title of the Pacific Coast conference by conquering Washington, 7 to 0, and Southern California emerged as the probable Rose Bowl host with a 34 to 7 victory over Oregon State.

MARYLAND SENDS VIRGINIA FROM UNDEFEATED RANKS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Maryland University staged a rousing finish today, scoring two touchdowns in the final period to knock Virginia out of the unbeaten football ranks, 19-13.

Don Gleasoner, 6-foot-4 senior end from Wilmington, Del., pulled in a 45-yard pass in the last minute for the points that posted Virginia's first defeat in its last 25 games.

Bill Poling, 160-pound 18-year-old freshman, teamed with the towering Gleasoner on aerial plays for both of Maryland's last-quarter scores.

VON SCHACHT TO BATTLE CISTOLDI

Casey-Kuss Brawl Lined Up For Semi-Final On Mat Here Thursday

Fred von Schacht, huge wrestler of Milwaukee, Wis., and Angelo Cistoldi, bruiser of Boston, Mass., meet in the main event on next Thursday night's wrestling card at Gus Kallio's Arena here, it was announced last night.

Cistoldi was a participant in recent chair-swinging fracas here with Don Evans and others, and, if furniture is needed to conquer the towering Milwaukee villain Thursday, the Boston brawler won't hesitate to use it.

Promoter Kallio said the semi-final match on the card would bring together Jim Casey and Otto Kuss, the latter rapidly becoming a favorite with local ring followers.

The Cistoldi-von Schacht feature will have a 30-minute time limit, two falls to win. The semi-final will be over an hour time limit distance, also two falls to win.

MIAMI MAY PLAY IN ORANGE BOWL

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 24.—(AP)—The home town team—the University of Miami Hurricanes—appeared for the first time today in the official list of prospects for a spot in the New Year's Day Orange Bowl football classic.

The Orange Bowl committee scratched two teams, Alabama, which is to play in the Rose Bowl at Pasadena, and Mississippi State, which suffered a 7-6 defeat at the hands of Mississippi today, were removed as prospects.

But Louisiana State, University of Miami, Georgia and Tennessee were listed as highly desirable candidates, providing they win next week's games.

All the teams mentioned by the committee today were from the South, a matter considered significant by sports writers. The Miami Herald said last night that Holy Cross, of Worcester, Mass., already was selected as the Northern representative provided the team wins over Boston College tomorrow.

The Hurricanes defeated Michigan States, 21-7, last night and play Auburn next Friday night. Louisiana State and Georgia were idle, and next week face Tulane and Georgia Tech, respectively. Tennessee defeated Kentucky, 14-0, and winds up its season against Vanderbilt next week.

BATON ROUGE, BIRMINGHAM '11s' IN STRAWBERRY BOWL

BATON ROUGE, La., Nov. 24.—(AP)—Catholic high school's Golden Bruins will meet Ramsey High of Birmingham in Hammond's Strawberry Bowl game Friday night, officials of the Baton Rouge school said today.

Catholic high, which has lost to Istrouma and St. Aloysius, will play the Birmingham, which has also dropped two games, in the stadium of Southeastern College.

WELLES

Welles said he knew of no communication sent the Japanese between Nov. 20 and Dec. 7, 1941, except the president's message of Dec. 8 to Emperor Hirohito urging that peace be maintained.

The British also raised questions about the effect on China of a proposed temporary arrangement with Japan which never went into effect. Chairman Barkley, Democrat, Kentucky, raised the question of whether the fleet's presence in Hawaii had influenced Japan. He recalled that Admiral J. O. Richardson, then commander of the fleet, had testified that he protested to President Roosevelt on Oct. 5, 1940, against keeping it there.

Richardson said he urged the ships could be better prepared for war at the coast bases but the president replied that he believed the presence of the fleet at Pearl Harbor would have a "restraining influence" on Japan.

Senator Ferguson, Republican, Michigan, told Welles at one point that Senator Pepper, Democrat, Florida, had been quoted as saying in a speech at Boston on Nov. 24, 1941, that the navy had "drawn a line in the Pacific, and that if the Japanese crossed it there would be shooting."

"Was that true?" he asked.

"I know of no such arrangement," Welles replied.

Pepper is now in Europe and could not be reached for comment.

Welles testified that as early as mid-September of 1941 he regarded war with Japan as "probably inevitable."

He told congressional investigators of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor that in his opinion only "complete acquiescence" in Japan's policy of aggression could have forestalled hostilities. In fact, the Japanese proposals of Nov. 20, 1941, amounted to an "ultimatum" in his view.

Under question by Senator Ferguson, Republican, Michigan, Welles said he did not know, however, what information and views were relayed by the state department to the war and navy departments. Secretary of State Hull handled that, he said, but added an expression of belief that military and diplomatic phases of the Pacific situation were being coordinated.

Welles named former Postmaster General Frank Walker as one of the "influential persons" with whom Japanese Ambassadors Nomura and Kurusu were dealing in the critical days immediately before the war.

He said, however, that the report as to Walker was only "hearsay" so far as he was concerned.

Earlier in the hearings, the committee had been given a copy of a dispatch from McMur and Kurusu to Tokyo advising that they were talking with "influential" individuals behind their "frontal negotiations" with Hull and President Roosevelt.

They told Tokyo to keep it secret, not knowing that the United States had broken their code and a copy of their dispatch would be laid on Hull's desk the following morning.

"Did Walker ever confer with you?" Ferguson asked.

"Was there anyone else—did you ever hear the name of Jones—the Rev. Stanley Jones?"

"I never understood that he took part," Welles replied. "I am not press that line questioning and to question reports later, would identify Jones only as a 'Methodist bishop'."

Ferguson hammered continuously at the disclosure that President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill reached an understanding at their Atlantic Charter meeting in the summer of 1941 that each nation would warn Japan they would act if the Japanese engaged in further aggression.

President Roosevelt gave such a warning to the Japanese ambassador on August 17—the day he returned from the meeting with Churchill—but no public announcement of it was ever made, Ferguson developed in the questioning, until after Pearl Harbor.

In general, Ferguson's questioning that followed a line of contention that the August warning was, in effect, police to Japan that war would result if the moved south of northern Indo-China; that on Dec. 8, 1941, the United States was advised that Japan was moving southward and hence American officials should have recognized that war was at hand.

Welles asserted, however, that the August warning had told the Japanese only "take such steps as we might regard as necessary for our safety."

The committee was given a first draft, prepared by the British, of proposed "parallel communications" declaring:

"1. Any further encroachment by Japan in the Southwest Pacific would produce a situation in which the U. S. government would be compelled to take counter measures even though these might lead to war between the U. S. and Japan."

"2. If any third power becomes the object of aggression by Japan in consequence of such counter measures or of their support of them, the president would have the intention to seek authority from Congress to give aid to such power."

Welles testified the actual United States communication to the Japanese was not in as strong language as that. He said he returned from the Atlantic Charter meeting on August 15 and prepared a proposed draft for Mr. Roosevelt which was "watered down" before presentation.

Ferguson also pressed questions as to whether President Roosevelt had made an agreement with the British, and the Dutch that this country would fight if Japan attacked territory of one of the others.

HE'S HOME, BUT DADDY'S NOT

Michael Shaun Collins, 14-month-old son of a widowed doughboy, is home, but his daddy is still "sweating it out," awaiting discharge in England. His mother, a former member of the British A.T.S., was eligible for discharge several weeks ago, but declined it until passage could be arranged for the baby. Michael is pictured above as he arrived at La Guardia Field, New York City, with his volunteer escort, Helen Louise Johnstone, of the OWI.

Welles repeatedly said he knew of no such agreement.

In raising this question, Ferguson brought out a photograph copy of the New York Times of Jan. 27, 1942. A dispatch from London quoted Churchill as telling Commons he had been assured at the Atlantic Charter meeting that the United States, even if not attacked itself, would come into any war involving Britain in the Far East.

Senator Lucas, Democrat, Illinois, asked for the original of the speech and committee attaches said they would try to get the British equivalent of the Congressional Record for the official version.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Former Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles declared today the Atlantic Charter is "not any less valid" for the lack of formal signature by President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill.

"They approved it in every syllable," Welles told questioning Republicans on the Senate-House committee investigating the Pearl Harbor disaster.

Senator Ferguson, Republican, Michigan, has suggested that an August 21, 1941 message by Mr. Roosevelt to Congress indicated there was a character "in writing and signed by Churchill and Roosevelt."

(A search by Associated Press Writer Tom Reedy last year disclosed the document was nowhere to be found in Washington. Subsequently President Roosevelt told a news conference the charter did not exist as a formal document, but rather as a series of memoranda.)

"They both agreed upon it," said Welles who attended the Atlantic Charter meeting in August of 1941. "The final text was gone over and one or two slight changes made. It was then ordered by the president to be re-typed for sending to Washington."

MORETTO SCORES VICTORY IN CRESCENT CITY EVENT

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Moretto won the $2,500 Added Crescent City Handicap at the Fair Grounds today, paying $16.50 for $2.

Light of Moon was second and Valinda Lamar third in the field of six horses.

Overlooked in the betting, Moretto, five-year-old owned by Louis de La Tour of New Orleans, was two lengths ahead at the finish and still going strong. Jackey Roberto Gonzales followed the light pace set by Valinda Lamar and Light of Moon, moved up at the turn and came to the outside for the final drive, overhauling the leaders and pulling ahead.

Manchuria through the Shanhaiwan breach. He added, however, that American training of 39 Central government divisions had ceased and that equipment of the divisions on a contract basis virtually has been completed.

Twenty divisions have been equipped and the other 19 are getting material from stocks which were on their way to China when the war ended, Wedemeyer said.

He would not estimate when the United States marines, totalling more than 50,000 in north China, will start pulling out, but "instructions from Washington do not contemplate their immediate removal."

Chinese Nationalist troops reportedly seized Chihai-shan railway station today and surrounded that city 120 miles from Mukden in a 100-mile drive 100 miles deep into Manchuria.

Although the Chinese Communists had predicted the "first big battle for Manchuria" would be fought at Chihai-shan—a strategic city girt by hills—the Chungking World Daily News asserted the Nationalist army threw its lines about the city against only "unorganized resistance."

Wholly unconfirmed reports circulated in Chungking, meanwhile, that Chungking and Moscow had reached an agreement under which Russia would delay her withdrawal from Manchuria, previously set for completion December 3.

These reports, whose accuracy can be determined only by events, said Chungking was unwilling to see Chinese Communists filling up the vacuum left by the Russian withdrawal and that for that reason wanted the Russians to stay on temporarily.

It also was reported without substantiation that Chungking had asked Moscow to guarantee the same Nationalist reoccupation of Mukden and Changchun and to disarm "armed bands" (Communists) but Moscow has yet to reply.

The support for these rumors was an insistent Chinese press report that Chungking's representatives who fled last week from Changchun, the Manchurian capital, were preparing to return on Russian invitation.

Communist reports declared that their Chinese forces were pouring into the industrial city of Mukden. They asserted 200,000 men, including the "peoples militia," were ready to fight for Manchuria.

Suspensions were voiced in some quarters here that the Communists might be setting a trap for the Nationalist army and might lose a drive to the sea that would cut the spearhead off from a base.

Other quarters said the 100-mile-long line stretching from around Chihai-shan to Shanhaiwan at the southern border of Manchuria would be vulnerable to a counter drive, and added that the almost total lack of resistance against the Nationalists since they crossed into Manchuria last week might be a sign that the Communists were biding their time for a counter move.

The Communist New China Daily News for the first time today demanded autonomy for Manchuria and urged the Russian forces of occupation scheduled to withdraw next month, to stay until autonomy was granted by Chungking.

There was no official comment here on Russia's bid to Nationalist officials to return to Manchuria's capital, Changchun, which they fled last week, fearing a Chinese Communist counter-attack.

UNITED NATIONS

They had planned to act promptly and it will fall in as all-important task.

Butter experience has shown that there is one place where we dare not postpone. The security council is the agency which we cannot afford to neglect.

The council would be rendered weak and ineffectual if every case of aggression had to be discussed in the Congress and in the legislatures of 50 other nations before action could be taken. Such a procedure would encourage hesitation and delay, and would be the death of every hope of peace.

Communists said the United States would be assuming a new obligation under the legislation, but only would be making the necessary arrangements to carry out the obligations assumed when the Senate ratified the law.

The bill establishes the post of United States representative on the Security Council, with an ambassadorial rank and a $25,000 salary. President Truman has indicated that Henry Stimson, Secretary of State, would be the first to fill the post. There would be a deputy representative. Both positions would be subject to Senate confirmation.

JAMES D. WHITE

back, "but the faith could not obtain many adherents, simply because it did not come to Japan with any political or economic elements accompanied."

The Potsdam declaration guarantees Japan religious freedom, but Allied authorities have left no doubt of their intention to erase the aspects of Shintoism used by the military to further their own interests in the founding and waging of war. These aspects include teaching the nationalistic part of Shinto in the schools, compulsory Shinto shrines in homes and schools, and state support of the Shinto priest-hood. (The national budget set aside more than 2,000,000 yen in 1939, according to the year book, to maintain Shinto.)

Such measures were intensified during the war. Christian organizations were forced to "unite" in a single Japanese Christian Church to facilitate government control.

Occupational authorities are changing such things, and the great Shinto shrines of the nation are reported virtually deserted—one theory being that the Japanese want to forget the war and all that caused it.

Disposed of its nationalistic aspects, Shinto presumably would revert to the primitive animism—worship of fox-furries, trees, and so on—from which it sprang originally. If Japanese really abandon Shinto, their religious bent might welcome something else; this apparently is where Christianity might come in.

Its history in Japan, briefly, is this: Christianity gained a firm foothold in southern Japan late in the 16th century, but the isolationist Tokugawa government came to regard it as a threat to its control over the people, according to Japanese historians who note that at about the same time Protestants arrived but the Japanese did not consider them Christians. As Christianity was being persecuted, the Protestants did not disillusion the Japanese.

Persecution was centered on the Catholics, and thousands of these Japanese converts are said to have become willing martyrs to their faith as the government took violent measures to stamp it out, but never entirely succeeded.

Japan's religious isolation ended when the country was reopened to the world in the middle of the last century, and both Catholic and Protestant missionaries entered the field to build up a total of roughly half a million Christians by 1911.

The emperor law is said to express interest in Christianity as a means of making Japan a democratic and progressive nation, and General MacArthur is said to feel Christianity would be a good thing but thinks it may be difficult because of Japanese materialism and aloofness.

The Japanese can choose any faith free of militant nationalism.

shows, Welles said he knew of no communication sent to the Japanese between Nov. 30 and Dec. 7, 1941, except the president's message of Dec. 6 to Emperor Hirohito urging that peace be maintained.

The British also raised questions about the effect on China of a proposed temporary arrangement with Japan which never went into effect.

Chairman Barkley, Democrat, Kentucky, raised the question of whether the fleet's presence in Hawaii had influenced Japan. He recalled that Admiral J. O. Richardson, then commander of the fleet, had testified that he protested to President Roosevelt on Oct. 8, 1940, against keeping it there.

Richardson said he urged the ships could be better prepared for war at west coast bases but the president replied that he believed the presence of the fleet at Pearl Harbor would have a "restraining influence" on Japan.

Senator Ferguson, Republican, Michigan, told Welles at one point that Senator Pepper, Democrat, Florida, had been quoted as saying in a speech at Boston on Nov. 24, 1941, that the navy had "drawn a line in the Pacific" and that if the Japanese crossed it there would be shooting.

"Was that true?" he asked.

"I know of no such arrangement," Welles replied.

Pepper is now in Europe and could not be reached for comment.

Welles testified that as early as mid-September of 1941 he regarded war with Japan as "probably inevitable."

He told congressional investigators of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor that in his opinion only "complete acquiescence" in Japan's policy of aggression could have forestalled hostilities.

In fact, the Japanese proposals of Nov. 20, 1941, amounted to an "ultimatum," he said.

Under question by Senator Ferguson, Republican, Michigan, Welles said he did not know, however, what information and views were relayed by the state department to the war and navy departments. Secretary of State Hull handled that, he said, but added an expression of belief that military and diplomatic phases of the Pacific situation were being coordinated.

Welles named former Postmaster General Frank Walker as one of the "influential persons" with whom Japanese Ambassadors Nomura and Kurosu were dealing in the critical days immediately before the war. He said, however, that the report as to Walker was only "hearsay" so far as he was concerned.

Earlier in the hearings, the committee had been given a copy of a dispatch from Nomura and Kurosu to Tokyo advising that they were talking with "influential" individuals behind their "frontal negotiations" with Hull and President Roosevelt.

They told Tokyo to keep it secret, not knowing that the United States had broken their code and a copy of their dispatch would be laid on Hull's desk the following morning.

"Did Walker ever confer with you?" Ferguson asked.

"Not at any time."

"Was there anyone else—did you ever hear the name of Jones—the Rev. Stanley Jones?"

"I never understood that he took part," Welles replied. "Ferguson did not press that line of question as to questioning reporters later, would identify Jones only as a 'Methodist bishop.'"

Ferguson hammered continuously at the disclosure that President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill reached an understanding at their Atlantic Charter meeting in the summer of 1941 that each nation would warn Japan that their code and a copy of their dispatch would be laid on Hull's desk the following morning.

HE'S HOME, BUT DADDY'S NOT

Michael Shaun Collins, 14-month-old son of a widowed doughboy, is home, but his daddy is still "sweating it out" awaiting discharge in England. His mother, a former member of the British A.T.S., died early this year. His father, Sgt. James M. Collins, was eligible for discharge several weeks ago, but declined it until passage could be arranged for the baby. Michael is pictured above as he arrived at La Guardia Field, New York City, with his volunteer escort, Helen Louise Johnstone, of the OWI.

to whether President Roosevelt had made an agreement with the British and the Dutch that this country would fight if Japan attacked territory of one of the others.

Welles repeatedly said he knew of no such agreement.

In raising this question, Ferguson brought out a photograph copy of the New York Times of Jan. 27, 1942. A dispatch from London quoted Churchill as telling Commons he had been assured at the Atlantic Charter meeting that the United States, even if not attacked itself, would come into any war involving Britain in the Far East.

Senator Lucas, Democrat, Illinois, asked for the original of the speech and committee attaches said they would try to get the British equivalent of the Congressional Record for the official version.

Welles named former Postmaster General Frank Walker as one of the "influential persons" with whom Japanese Ambassadors Nomura and Kurosu were dealing in the critical days immediately before the war. He said, however, that the report as to Walker was only "hearsay" so far as he was concerned.

HULUTAO

Manchuria through the Shannanwan breach. He added, however, that American training of 39 Central government divisions had ceased and that equipment of the divisions on a contract basis virtually has been completed.

Twenty divisions have been equipped and the other 19 are getting material from stocks which were on their way to China when the war ended, Wedemeyer said.

He would not estimate when the United States marines, totalling more than 50,000 in north China, will start pulling out, but "instructions from Washington do not contemplate their immediate removal."

Chinese Nationalist troops reportedly seized Chihshien' railway station today and surrounded that city 120 miles from Mukden in an uncompleted drive 100 miles deep into Manchuria.

Although the Chinese Communists had predicted the "first big battle for Manchuria" would be fought at Chihshien—a strategic city girl by hills—the Chungking World Daily News asserted the Nationalist army threw its lines about the city against only "unorganized resistance."

Wholly unconfirmed reports circulated in Chungking meanwhile that Chungking and Moscow had reached an agreement under which Russia would delay her withdrawal from Manchuria, previously set for completion December 3.

These reports, whose accuracy can be determined only by events, said Chungking was unwilling to see Chinese Communists filling up the vacuum left by the Russian withdrawal and for that reason wanted the Russians to stay on temporarily.

It also was reported without substantiation that Chungking had asked Moscow to guarantee the same Nationalist reconquest of Mukden and Changchun and to disarm "armed bands" (Communists) but Moscow has yet to reply.

The only support for these rumors was an insistent Chinese press report that Chungking's representatives who fled last week from Changchun, the Manchurian capital, were preparing to return on Russian invitation.

Communist reports declared that their Chinese forces were pouring into the industrial city of Mukden. They asserted 200,000 men, including the "peoples militia" were ready to fight for Manchuria.

Suspensions were voiced in some quarters here that the Communists might be setting a trap for the Nationalist army and might lose a drive to the sea that would cut the spearhead off from its base.

These quarters said the 100-mile-long line stretching from around Chihshien to Shannanwan at the southern border of Manchuria would be vulnerable to a counter drive, and added that the most likely lack of resistance against the Nationalists since they crossed into "Manchuria" last week might be a sign that the Communists were biding their time for a counter move.

The Communist New China Daily News for the first time today demanded autonomy for Manchuria and urged the Russian forces of occupation, scheduled to withdraw next month, to stay until autonomy was granted by Chungking.

There was no official comment here on Russia's bid to Nationalist officials to return to Manchuria's capital, Changchun, which they fled last week fearing a "Chinese Communist coup."

Persecution was centered on the Catholics, and thousands of these Japanese converts are said to have become willing martyrs to their faith as the government took violent measures to stamp it out, but never entirely succeeded.

Japan's religious isolation ended when the country was reopened to the world in the middle of the last century, and both Catholic and Protestant missionaries entered the field to build up a total of roughly half a million Christians by 1941.

The emperor now is said to express interest in Christianity as a means of making Japan a Democratic and progressive nation; and General MacArthur is said to feel Christianization would be a good thing but thinks it may be difficult because of Japanese materialism and aloofness.

The Japanese can choose any faith free of militant nationalism.

GIVES HIS LIFE

Word has been received by Monroe Edgar, 701 Calypso street, Monroe, from the navy department stating that his brother, James Edgar, F C 2 c, has been pronounced dead. He leaves four other brothers besides Monroe Edgar. He completed school at Our Lady Parish High School in 1942. He was reported missing October 3, 1944, and was declared dead November 16, 1945. He was 24 years of age.

back, "but the faith could not obtain many adherents, simply because it did not come to Japan with any political or economic elements accompanied."

The Potsdam declaration guarantees Japan religious freedom, but Allied authorities have left no doubt of their intention to erase the aspects of Shintoism used by the militarists to further their own interests in the fomenting and waging of war. These aspects include teaching the nationalistic part of Shinto in the schools, compulsory Shinto shrines in homes and schools, and state support of the Shinto priest-hood. (The national budget set aside more than 2,000,000 yen in 1939, according to the year book, to maintain Shinto.)

Such measures were intensified during the war. Christian organizations were forced to "unite" in a single Japanese Christian Church to facilitate government control.

Occupational authorities are changing such things, and the great Shinto shrines of the nation are reported virtually deserted—one theory being that the Japanese want to forget the war and all that caused it.

Divested of its nationalistic aspects, Shinto presumably would revert to the primitive animism—worship of fox-fairies, trees, and so on—from which it sprang originally. If Japanese really abandon Shinto, their religious beliefs would welcome something else; this apparently is where Christianity might come in.

Its history in Japan, briefly, is this: Catholicism gained a firm foothold in southern Japan late in the 16th century, but the isolationist Tokugawa government came to regard it as a threat to its control over the people, according to Japanese historians who note that at about the same time Protestants arrived, but the Japanese did not consider them Christians, as Christianity was being persecuted, the Christians did not disillusion the Japanese.

Persecution was centered on the Catholics, and thousands of these Japanese converts are said to have become willing martyrs to their faith as the government took violent measures to stamp it out, but never entirely succeeded.

Japan's religious isolation ended when the country was reopened to the world in the middle of the last century, and both Catholic and Protestant missionaries entered the field to build up a total of roughly half a million Christians by 1941.

SAYS LABOR MUST CHANGE POSITION

President Of Manufacturers Asserts Little Progress Made

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Ira Musher, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, said today labor delegates must change their position on fundamental issues if the labor-management conference is to achieve major results.

Musher, a management delegate at the three-week old gathering called by President Truman, said that unless the labor spokesmen change their viewpoint "there is little hope" that the conference "can do more than deal with some of the less important causes of labor unrest."

With sessions to be resumed Monday after a Thanksgiving recess, Musher in a statement recommended that the conference renew efforts to reach quick agreements on these five points:

1. The strengthening and improvement of collective bargaining practices.
2. Reducing the number of disputes resulting from "attempted invasions of the legitimate functions of management."
3. Ending jurisdictional strikes.
4. Providing for voluntary arbitration in disputes over interpretation of agreements.
5. Providing for impartial fact-finding "when disputes threaten the public health and safety."

Musher asserted that the conference thus far has failed to do the job for which the president set it up.

Although a agreement has been reached on a number of minor problems, Musher said, the big issues still must be faced.

"Little progress has been made as yet," he observed "in regard to certain fundamental issues that must be resolved if we hope to accomplish results expected by the president who invited us here. . . .

"Labor, so far, has refused to agree fully to substitute orderly procedures for its unlimited 'right to strike' at any time and under any circumstances, or to accept equal status with management under the laws of the land," Musher continued.

"The president asked us to build a broad and permanent foundation for industrial peace. In my opinion, such a 'foundation' must be built on the bed-rock of management's pledge to forego lock-outs and unfair labor practices; on labor's willingness to forego strikes, boycotts, slow-downs and work stoppages until every means for a peaceful settlement of disputes has been exhausted; and on the acceptance of both labor and management of responsibilities under the law commensurate with their respective privileges."

"Management is ready to give this pledge and accept all its responsibilities. . . . Unless labor is willing to agree . . . there is little hope that this conference can do more than deal with some of the less important causes of labor unrest."

Labor department conciliators, meanwhile, laid plans for important meetings here next week, with representatives of the strike-bound General Motors Corporation, and the C. I. O. United Auto Workers Union. The union demands and the company has rejected a 30 per cent wage increase.

Germany's principal oil wells are at Nienhagen, 18 miles from Hannover.

OKALOOSA CLUB HOLDS MEETING

Mrs. Delmer Holloway Is Elected President For Coming Year

Officers of the Okaloosa Home Demonstration Club were elected November 13 at the home of Mrs. F. L. Miller, for the ensuing year: president, Mrs. Delmer Holloway; secretary, Mrs. Addie Mae Coon; treasurer, Mrs. Tina Crowell; reporter, Mrs. Addie Mae Coon; council members, Mrs. Virginia Miller and Mrs. Delmer Holloway; nutrition leaders, Mrs. Tina Crowell and Mrs. Virginia Miller; sewing leader, Mrs. Virginia Miller; poultry leader, Mrs. Henry Hobbs; 4-H club leader, Mrs. Delmer Holloway; food preservation, Mrs. Tina Crowell; garden leader, Mrs. Alda Tolbird; home management, Mrs. Inice George and Mrs. Estelle Luttrell.

Mrs. Delmer Holloway gave the treasurer's report for 1945.

After the business meeting presided over by Mrs. Delmer Holloway, president, the program was turned over to Mrs. Addie Mae Coon. Mrs. Coon at this time reviewed economic material on "What The Purchaser Needs To Know About Refrigerators." A number of questions need to be talked over.

How large a refrigerator do we need? Rural farm families may need a larger size than families living near markets. Sometimes the size is limited by the space that can be allowed for the cabinet. It would be a good idea to check the number of square feet of shelf space and note whether shelves can be re-arranged to suit the amount and kind of food to be stored which is likely to spoil. The size should be right to store this food without overcrowding. Overcrowding results in poor refrigeration. How much can we afford to spend for this piece of equipment? Living where we do, what about the comparative cost and convenience of ice, electricity, gas or kerosene for operating a refrigerator. Are there good local facilities for servicing and repair on a mechanical unit? Study all the different types of refrigerators for sale in your community before you buy. After you buy, remember that the length of life of any piece of equipment is longer when it is given proper care.

The next meeting of the club and the annual Christmas party will be held in the home of Mrs. Addie Mae Coon.

65 GIRLS LUNCH AT STATE CAPITOL

BATON ROUGE, La., Nov. 25.—(AP)—Sixty-five girls, representing 37 states and three foreign countries, from Gulf Park College, Gulfport, Miss., lunched today at the State Capitol here while on a Thanksgiving holiday tour of Louisiana.

The college students, accompanied by Rupert H. Cooke, business manager of the institution, were to visit St. Martinsville this afternoon and were scheduled to spend the night in Lafayette. They are to return to Gulfport Sunday.

REVIVALISTS

Rev. J. R. Berry and wife, together with their little daughter, of Davenport, Iowa, are holding a revival, old-fashioned in nature, at the Church of God, 809 Montgomery street, West Monroe. There will be services each night and the public is invited. The pastor of this church, Rev. Dewey Herndon, is desirous of large attendance at each meeting.

APARTMENTS, AUTO DAMAGED BY FIRE

Garage apartments owned and occupied by W. G. Renfrow, 1610 South Grand street, and an automobile, owner not located, were badly damaged by fire here yesterday afternoon, and a Negro home on Bayou DeSiard near the city water pump station was destroyed, according to Monroe firemen who were summoned to the fires.

A grass fire was said to have been responsible for setting fire to the Renfrow apartments early after 1 o'clock, but the fire was quickly brought under control by firemen. Carelessness with cigarettes was blamed for a fire in an automobile parked at 109 South Grand street shortly before 2 o'clock yesterday. Firemen said the machine was badly burned, and that they had not been able to locate the owner at the time. The car bore identification tags indicating it was from Shreveport.

The home of Anna Applewhite, Negro, living on the J. D. Cole place north of here on Bayou DeSiard, was completely burned about 2 o'clock. Firemen said sparks from a chimney were responsible for the blaze.

Firemen extinguished a grass fire yesterday at 605 South Second street, and were also summoned to a grass fire at 3208 Lee avenue that had already been extinguished upon their arrival.

NEW NEON COMPANY IS FORMED HERE

This month will see the opening of a new business house in Monroe, owned and operated by ex-service men. The Neon Sign Service Company will open its doors on Monday, November 26th. Temporary location will be 818 Jackson street until approximately February 15th, when the shop will move to its permanent location at 814 Jackson street, where a building is now being erected.

This is the realization of ambition of a local boy, Thomas C. Agnew, and his overseas buddy, Buford Brazel of Gladwater, Texas, who during the long months in the European theater planned their joint venture, and had the necessary groundwork.

Associated in the firm will be D. L. Agnew, Sr., well known to business men of Monroe, who before the war was engaged in neon work in Monroe.

The equipment is being installed this week, and the shop will be opened Monday, November 26th, to serve the neon needs of Monroe.

Lieber Estate Gift Much Appreciated; Group At Orleans

Monroe delegates who attended the state conference of the Louisiana Society for Crippled Children held November 17 and 18 in New Orleans, were Mr. and Mrs. John B. Breard, Dr. and Mrs. Scott Hamilton, Mrs. Paul Crowell, Mrs. Mae Modes and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Moncrief.

They reported an excellent time and said that a constructive meeting was held.

The visitors spent some time in several schools for crippled. Among these was the Lafayette school and school at Charity hospital in New Orleans. Under proper tutelage, these less fortunate boys and girls are able to secure an education and make a place for themselves in the world.

Local interest attaches to the site that the family of the late L. L. Lieber generously donated located east of the overpass at Sicard on highway 80. This tract has a frontage of 200 feet on the highway and a depth of 1,576 feet. The property is in close proximity to land that has been sold for as much as $500 an acre and the gift is greatly appreciated by the Ouachita unit.

As soon as funds are available it is desired to erect a dormitory and class rooms on the property which will be used for the instruction of crippled children from all parishes of the Fifth congressional district.

Miss Humphries Is November Bride

Humphries-Pearce Nuptial Event Of Prominence Among Weddings Of November

Candlelight flooded the First Baptist church, West Monroe, and clusters of superb white chrysanthemums banked the chancel rail and altar for the wedding of Miss Jane Adaire Humphries, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Humphries, and Clifton Greene Pearce, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Pearce, November 17 at eight o'clock in the evening with the pastor, Reverend C. E. Autrey, officiating.

Cathedral tapers, myriads of them, illuminated against a background of white chrysanthemums and southern mistletoe were lighted by Miss Martha McDonald and Miss Tommy Sue Eaves. They wore diaphanous gowns of pink net and fashioned with long full skirts and bodices of pink satin with drop shoulders of net. They wore wristlets of pink Briercliff roses.

While the candles were being lighted and the guests seated by the ushers, Vance Rhodes and Pete Haddad, the organist, Mrs. Raymond Spence, rendered a brilliant nuptial concert featuring "Prelude" and "Romance" by Chopin.

Mrs. Spence also accompanied the soloist, Miss Betty Rinehart, who sang in lovely voice, "Ich Liebe Dich," "Because" and "Lord's Prayer."

Miss Ann Humphries, the bride's sister, served as maid of honor and Miss Louise Gall McDonald and Mrs. James Larkkan, the bridegroom's sister, served as bridesmaids. They all wore bouffant gowns of pink net with long full skirts, tight fitting bodices and bracelet length sleeves. They carried beautiful arm bouquets of pink Briercliff roses tied with long lengths of pink and blue satin ribbon.

Robert Larkkan served as ring bearer.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore the traditional wedding gown of white Duchess satin fashioned with a long full skirt and a draped bodice trimmed with embroidered eyelettes. The long sleeves were puffed high at the shoulders. The handsome veil of Brussels lace, caught to the hair with a coronet of pearls and lace, fell gracefully over the long court train.

The bride carried a white ivory and satin prayer book marked with a spray of white orchids tied with long, narrow, white satin ribbons knotted with tuberoses.

The reception, following the ceremony took place at McGuire Country club where friends pressed forward to meet the bride and bridegroom. Considerable beauty of decoration was noted in the spacious lounge where the reception was held. White chrysanthemums predominated among the flowers overflowing from all standards placed at every vantage point.

Mrs. Humphries, the bride's mother, wore an evening model of aqua and gold with orchid corsage. Mrs. Pearce, the bridegroom's mother, wore a black lace and crepe model with corsage of orchids. Mrs. Belle Pearce, the bridegroom's grandmother, wearing black lace and corsage of gardenias, was also in the receiving line.

The bride's table in the dining room was the essence of artistry. It was overlaid with handsome Renaissance lace and developed exclusively in white and silver. Garlands of tuberoses extended to the four corners where they were attached to plaques of white roses fluted around with white tulle. Antique Colonial crystal candelabra supporting tall white tapered flanked the wedding cake, a three-tiered confection embossed with crystallized roses and imbedded in tuberoses.

Silver compotes held a variety of confections. Individual wedding cakes and ices were served.

The bride changed her wedding garment for a smartly tailored going-

The young couple are honeymooning in Hot Springs, Ark.

Out of town guests attending the wedding were: Mrs. Belle Pearce of Sherman, Tex.; Mrs. C. B. Flynn, Jr., of Kerrville, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Suber of Kossusko, Miss.; Mrs. E. C. Sims and daughter of Kossusko, Miss.; Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Hamilton and Mrs. Jet Hamilton of Mansfield, La.; Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Humphries and Mrs. J. Duke and daughter, Mary Jo of Kelly, La.; Mrs. A. A. Webb of Columbia, La.; Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Allen of Alexandria, La.; Mr. A. H. Stubbins and Mr. Sterling Adamson of Little Rock, Ark.; and Mr. J. M. Larkkan of McGee, Ark.

Club Women Meet For Tea At Convention

Highlighting the social side of things at the convention of the Louisiana Federation of Women's club in Lafayette was the tea given by the Woman's club of Lafayette in Harris Hall on Southwestern campus.

Beautiful chrysanthemums in all the glowing shades of autumn grown on the college campus, adorned the hall where Mrs. A. D. Tisdale, state president of the Louisiana Federation of Women's club stood with Mrs. Volney Taylor, Treasurer, General Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. Frank Smith, President, Woman's Club, Lafayette, and Mrs. Lewis Wood, President, Third District, and State Officers of the Louisiana Federated Clubs, in the receiving line to greet the guests.

Dr. Grace B. Agate, Convention Chairman, and Miss Hermine Tate, presided at the tea table which was overlaid with beautiful lace and centered with low bowl overflowing with white chrysanthemums.

Assisting with the courtesies were charming young girls in floor length evening models. They are members of the Le Amies Club.

Interest Centered In Nuptial Event

An impressive double ring-ceremony took place in the First Baptist Church, Eudora, Ark., when Miss Violet LeVern Simpson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Simpson and Jack Ray, U. S. N. R. son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Key of Columbia, La., were united in marriage.

The altar of the church was banked with evergreens, flanked by tall baskets overflowing with lovely field daisies.

Preceding the ceremony performed by Dr. James Paisley, Miss Christine Lilly of Eudora, accompanied by Miss Camille Cashion at the piano, sang "Love You Truly" while Miss Cashion played the wedding march, the bride and groom marched down the aisle together.

The bride wore a lovely suit of aqua blue wool with navy blue accessories. Her corsage was a purple orchid.

The ceremony was followed by a reception at the home of Mrs. Lauree Foster, a friend of the bride's mother. The bride and groom cut the beautifully decorated wedding cake, which was served with fruit punch to the guests.

Mrs. Key is a graduate of the Eudora high school and Monroe Commercial school. She was employed by the Navy in Washington, D. C. She worked in Washington for 11 months before asking for release to take employment near home. At the time of her marriage, she was employed with the Dermott Grocery and Commission Co. of Eudora.

The groom is a graduate of Columbia high school. He volunteered for the Navy in March of 1942. After training in Great Lakes, Ill., he went to sea in the armed guard on a merchant ship. He served in the North Atlantic and Mediterranean area until March of this year. Since that time he has been serving in the South Pacific. He is now eligible for a discharge, and hopes to enter college upon his release.

MRS. MAURICE ROBY

Mrs. Roby, a bride of recent date, is the former Miss Bernice Bernstein, daughter of Mr. Rudolph Bernstein and the late Mrs. Alice Leopold Bernstein. The wedding took place at the home of Mrs. Roby's aunt, Mrs. Arnold Bernstein.

Miss Bernstein November Bride

Beautiful Ceremony In Home Of Mrs. Arnold Bernstein Unites Young Couple

A wedding characterized by charming simplicity and one that claimed the interest of friends here and throughout the state took place November 18 in the home of Mrs. Arnold Bernstein when her niece, Miss Bernice Bernstein, daughter of Mr. Rudolph Bernstein and the late Mrs. Alice Leopold Bernstein, became the bride of Maurice A. Roby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Roby of Newellton, La.

The ceremony, witnessed by members of the family and a few intimate friends, took place at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon with Rabbi F. Hirsch, officiating.

The reception suite was candlelit and banked with beautiful white chrysanthemums and white carnations. White chrysanthemums also banked the improvised altar before which the ceremony was performed.

The bride's attendant, Mrs. Herman Moyse of Washington, D. C., wore a lovely lime green, light weight wool suit with accessories of a darker shade of green and corsage of camellias.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a beautiful three-piece ensemble of azure blue, an Adele Simpson model. A small close fitting hat of blue and accessories of blue were worn. A corsage of orchids added a note of distinction.

An informal reception was held following the ceremony with Mrs. Bernstein, wearing a handsome dinner dress of duobonnet and green embroidered in "resplendent" beads and a corsage of pink camellias. Mrs. Roby, the bridegroom's mother, assisting in receiving, wore a black crepe dinner model with corsage of white camellias.

The bride's table in the dining room, appointed in silver, was overlaid with handsome lace and centrally adorned with the three-tiered wedding cake. Plaques of white carnations were placed at the four corners and at either end of the table were placed silver candelabra supporting white tapers.

A supper course was served from a spacious buffet centrally adorned with a silver basket overflowing with white bride's roses and white carnations. Toasts to the bride and bridegroom were drunk in champagne.

Following the honeymoon in New Orleans, Mr. and Mrs. Roby will be at home in Newellton.

The bride is a graduate of the Newellton High School, Northeast Junior College and the Louisiana State University. Mr. Roby is a graduate of the Newellton High School and Louisiana Tech. He was with the armed forces in Italy for four years.

by Mrs. Gannaway's husband, who is with the U. S. Air Forces. Pictures of local scenes, Colorado and Alaska, were shown by Mr. Hammonds, who is an authority on photography.

Before adjournment, Mrs. Fox announced that Miss Maude Browning, Miss Bess Sharp and Miss Nell Hay of the Yo-Wo-Co Club will represent the Monroe Clubs at a planning conference to be held in Little Rock, Arkansas November 24 and 25.

Good Citizenship Is Subject Of Talk

Mr. Paul Neal Addresses Members Of The Barkdull-Faulk School P.-T. A.

Much food for thought was contained in a talk on "Educating for Citizenship," delivered by Paul Neal, principal of Neville High School at the November meeting of the Barkdull-Faulk P.-T. A. It was "Dad's" night and there was a large attendance of fathers who found Mr. Neal's talk most informative and instructive.

He said in part: "No idea taught in our public schools is more important than that of Democracy. The entire future of America depends upon the correct interpretation of this concept of our youth. Good citizenship has been an ideal held up by the public school from the time of the landing of the Pilgrims to the present. Today, with increased devotion and greater insight and wisdom, the teachers generally consider this idea paramount in school progress.

A Democracy is an institution organized by a group of individuals in which each individual agrees to abide by regulations which the group considers necessary for its welfare. In turn, the group agrees to promote the welfare of the individuals that constitute the group. Of course, each separate individual born in a given social group does not formally vote upon the codes binding the group. Those are determined through a long period of time and are crystallized in the laws, customs, beliefs, attitudes and institutions which each one finds ready made when he enters the world. Each one, however, has manifold opportunities during his life to challenge, help modify, add to, or subtract from the objectives of his social group. This is not only a privilege, but a duty. No one should be satisfied with unchanging laws and customs.

The public school is maintained not for the purpose of providing individuals with opportunities to gain personal advantages. It is an institution which society has developed and maintains to promote the welfare of society itself, and to perpetuate its ideals. The school is an insurance policy which society provides to insure the perpetuity and betterment of its institutions.

A century ago and less it was believed by many that secondary and higher education was necessary for only those who were to enter one of the learned professions—law, medicine or the ministry. Only the occasional boy and girl went to the village academy or high school. As late as 1880—a half-century ago—only about five per cent of these high school age were in a secondary school. Even within a period of thirty years the high school enrollment has increased from a little over 10 per cent of the population of high school age to more than 50 per cent of that population—a grand army of approximately seven million thronging the high school classrooms.

Europeans can scarcely comprehend how we permit such heterogeneous mixtures in our public schools. Some years ago England sent the Mosely Commission to study the American system of education. They were to discover not merely methods of instruction but also to find out the fundamental philosophy of American education and its effect upon the people. Because of the social background of the commissioners, they found it difficult to understand many of the things they observed. For example, while in Washington, D. C., one day they visited a grade school in one of the ordinary residential districts. The building was a plain, somewhat outmoded red brick structure just such as might have been found in a thousand other cities and villages. As the commissioners entered the school, they were met by a young man, a member of the intermediate grade school, who told them that he was a member of the social studies club. They were then taken to a room where they found a group of boys and girls sitting at desks, reading books. The commissioners looked at each other and said, "What is this?"

"That," said the young man, "is the Junior High School of the President of the United States." The commissioners looked at each other and said, "What is this?"

"That," said the young man, "is the Junior High School of the President of the United States." The commissioners looked at each other and said, "What is this?"

Miss Horne Is The Bride Of Mr. Springfield

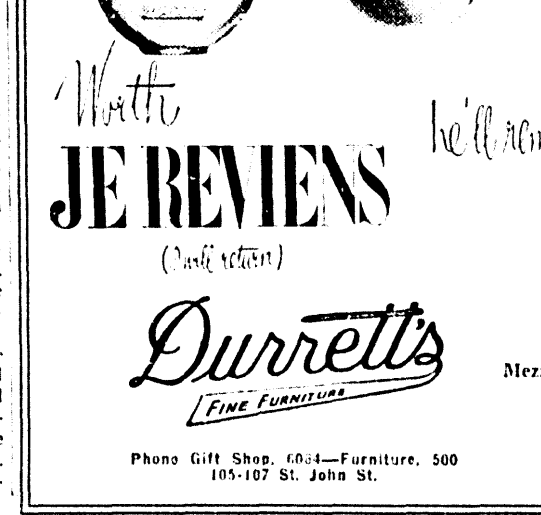

Sunday evening, November 11, at eight o'clock, Miss Aline Horne became the bride of Mr. Clyde Springfield at the home of the bride's parents in West Monroe.

The bride wore a lovely beige suit with brown accessories and a corsage of tuberoses and white carnations. Her matron of honor, Mrs. Edward Blackmon, was attired in a navy blue suit with blue and white accessories and wore a corsage of tuberoses. The groom was attended by Mr. Rebut L. Burson.

While Mrs. Neil B. Cusick, pianist, provided a musical background, the many candles were lighted by the bride's uncle, Mr. C. W. Horne. Mrs. Cusick also accompanied Miss Nadine Fair as she sang "I Love You Truly." The bride party entered to the strains of the traditional wedding march, the "Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin," and Pastor J. C. Grubbs officiated.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held for the many friends and relatives of the young couple. The home was profusely decorated with flowers—dahlias, chrysanthemums, carnations, asters, and a huge bouquet of varied color roses. The bride's mother, wearing an aqua blue suit with a corsage of gold chrysanthemums, was assisted in the courtesies by the groom's mother attired in green with a white carnation corsage. After the cutting of the beautiful three tiered wedding cake by the bride and groom, Mrs. R. S. Kennison, aunt of the bride, presided at the punch bowl. She wore a handsome black suit with white and black accessories and corsage of white carnations. Mrs. W. S. Salley, wearing a rose frock with brown accessories and tuberoses, assisted in the serving.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey M. Horne of West Monroe. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Coyd Springfield of the same city. He is a veteran of the World War II and was recently discharged from the Army Air Forces after serving in the European theater of operations. Mr. and Mrs. Springfield will make their home in West Monroe.

The perfume of promise.

Good Citizenship Is Subject Of Talk

Mr. Paul Neal Addresses Members Of The Barkdull-Faulk School P.-T. A.

Much food for thought was contained in a talk on "Education for Citizenship," delivered by Paul Neal, principal of Neville High School at the November meeting of the Barkdull-Faulk P.-T. A. It was "Dad's" night and there was a large attendance of fathers who found Mr. Neal's talk most informative and instructive.

He said in part: "No idea taught in our public schools is more important than that of Democracy. The entire future of America depends upon the correct interpretation of this concept of our youth. Good citizenship has been an ideal held up by the public school from the time of the landing of the Pilgrims to the present. Today, with increased devotion and greater insight and wisdom, the teachers generally consider this idea paramount in school progress.

A Democracy is an institution organized by a group of individuals in which each individual agrees to abide by regulations which the group considers necessary for its welfare. In turn, the group agrees to promote the welfare of the individuals that constitute the group. Of course, each separate individual born in a given social group does not formally vote upon the codes binding the group. Those are determined through a long period of time and are crystallized in the laws, customs, beliefs, attitudes and institutions which each one finds ready made when he enters the world. Each one, however, has manifold opportunities during his life to challenge, help modify, add to, or subtract from the objectives of his social group. This is not only a privilege, but a duty. No one should be satisfied with unchanging laws and customs.

The public school is maintained not alone for the purpose of providing individuals with opportunities to gain personal advantages. It is an institution which society has developed and maintains to promote the welfare of society itself, and to perpetuate its ideals. The school is an insurance policy which society provides to insure the perpetuity and betterment of its institutions.

A century ago, and less it was believed by many that secondary and higher education was necessary for only those who were to enter one of the learned professions—law, medicine or the ministry. Only the occasional boy and girl went to the village academy or high school. As late as 1880—a half-century ago—only about five per cent of those of high school age were in a secondary school. Even within a period of thirty years the high school enrollment has increased from a little over 10 per cent of the population of high school age to more than 50 per cent of that population—a grand army of approximately seven million thronging the high school class rooms.

Europeans can scarcely comprehend how we permit such heterogeneous mixtures in our public schools. Some years ago England sent the Mosely Commission to study the American system of education. They were to discover not merely methods of instruction but also to find out the fundamental philosophy of American education and its reflex effect upon the people. Because of the social background of the commissioners they found it difficult to understand many of the things they observed. For example, while in Washington, D. C., one day they visited a grade school in one of the ordinary residential districts. The building was a plain, somewhat outmoded red brick structure just such as might have been found in a thousand other cities and villages. As the commissioners sat through one of the intermediate grade school recitations some of them wondered about the social composition of the class. There were boys and girls with flaxen hair bespeaking their Nordic ancestry, some with swarthy complexions, betraying Slavic origin; some whose forebears plainly trekked from Germany, Scotland, Ireland, and so on. Their dress gave no indication of their social status; their recitations likewise revealed — stratification. Finally one of the commissioners picked out a certain bright faced boy and inquired of the teacher, "And who is this lad?" "That," said the teacher radiantly, "is Quentin Roosevelt, son of the President of the United States." "Well, madam, and who is this lad on the bench next to him?" "That," shot back the teacher with equal pride, "is the son of President Roosevelt's coachman!" The commissioners were amazed. They could not understand how it was possible for children from such different homes to be in the same school and on the same level of equality.

No other institution has become so deeply rooted in American life as the public school. It is regarded as the foundation upon which Democracy rests. All classes of people regard it as their richest heritage. It is not only theirs to share but theirs to promote and safeguard.

The objectives of education have been very excellently expressed by the former President of Department of Superintendents of the N. E. A.: "Teach reading, writing, and arithmetic, of course, but not as fundamentals, except as in the learning one is taught to read fine things, to write beautiful thoughts, and to know that in the fundamentals of life the sum of one's happiness cannot be obtained by sub-

St. Matthew's Catholic Church

Cor. Grammont and Jackson Streets

It is truly meet and just, right and profitable unto salvation, that we should at all times and in all places give thanks unto Thee, O Holy Lord, Father Almighty, Everlasting God. Who with the oil of gladness hast anointed Thine only begotten Son, our Lord Jesus Christ, as Eternal Priest and Universal King, that, offering Himself on the altar of the cross as an immaculate peace victim, He might accomplish the mysteries of human redemption; and all creatures being subjected to His rule, He might deliver to Thy Infinite Majesty an eternal and universal kingdom—a kingdom of truth and life, a kingdom of grace and holiness, a kingdom of justice, love and peace. And therefore with the angels and arch-angels, the thrones and dominions, and the whole host of the heavenly army, we sing a hymn to Thy glory, saying again and again:

Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God of hosts. Heaven and earth are full of Thy glory. Hosanna in the highest. Blessed is he who cometh in the name of the Lord. Hosanna in the highest.

Stubbs-Emerson Wedding In California Of Paramount
Social Interest In Monroe

A wedding of paramount social interest in this city took place in Del Monte, California, November 3, when Dorothy Wasson Emerson, daughter of Mrs. Marion Wasson of Los Angeles and Captain Barry Stubbs, son of Mrs. Frank Palmer Stubbs and the late Colonel Stubbs of this city, were united in marriage at St. John's chapel at high noon.

Beautiful white chrysanthemums and luxuriant palms banked the altar and chancel rail for the double ring ceremony performed by Doctor Theodore Bell.

The matron of honor, Mrs. H. Boyd Gainer of San Diego wore a brown ensemble with corsage of Talsiman roses.

The brides were Lt. Col. Rowland Jinger and Major D. B. Kiser of Fort Ord, Calif.

Following the ceremony a wedding luncheon was served at the Del Monte lodge with Mrs. Stubbs, the bridegroom's mother, and Mrs. Emerson, the bride's mother, presiding. Mrs.

Stubbs wore a tulle of azure blue with small blue hat and corsage of gardenias. Mrs. Emerson wore a light tan tulle with brown accessories and corsage of gardenias.

Captain and Mrs. Stubbs spent their honeymoon motoring in the Yosemite Valley and are now at home in Carmel, Calif.

Captain Stubbs born and reared in this city, is a member of a prominent pioneer family long associated with the social, cultural and civic life of Louisiana. His mother was the former Miss Maud Flower, member of a prominent Louisiana family. Captain Stubbs attended Webb school, Bell Buckle, Tenn., and was graduated from Yale University. He attended Tulane University law school, New Orleans for one year. He is a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

Of interest to friends in this city is the announcement made by Mr. and Mrs. Ben Freedman of Newark, New Jersey, of the marriage of their daughter, Maxine, to Lt. Bernie Wilenzick of Monroe, La. The wedding took place at the Avon Mansion in Newark on Wednesday evening, November 22.

Splendid Paper Is Highlight Of Club Meeting

The last meeting of The Welcome Branch of the Twentieth Century Book Club was at the home of Mrs. A. S. Gunter, with Mrs. G. D. Holland, co-hostess.

During the business session, conducted by Mrs. H. V. Collins, president, reports were given by the treasurer and correspondence secretary. The club pledged its support in the coming Victory-Clothing Collection, whose aim it is to collect 100,000 garments. Warm clothing, bed-covers, and other garments that can be used during the winter in the war-torn countries will be brought to the next club meeting. Mrs. F. E. Black was appointed Chairman of the Club Women's Magazine.

Mrs. A. R. Doucette gave a report for the Library Commission of The Welcome Branch Book Club. Mrs. T. C. Starnes will review "The White Tower" at a Silver Tea December 3, at the Y. W. C. A., 3:00 p. m.

Reports were given on the Louisiana Federation of Women's Clubs Convention in Lafayette November 8, 9, and 10th. Mrs. H. V. Collins, Corresponding Secretary, and Mrs. Eugene Scott, delegate for the club, gave the reports.

War Service—Post War was the theme for the program. "Post-War Communications" prepared by Mrs. H. D. Holmes was read by Mrs. J. E. Janner. She said: "The changes being manifested in our communications in this post-war world are numerous and varied. The biggest change in our communications in this post-war world is the role aviation plays. The giant airplane of the post-war world will open new markets in undeveloped parts of the globe. It will not be long before it will be possible to deliver clothes, medicines, books, radio sets, furniture to any place in the world in twenty-four hours. An airport is not always essential. Goods can be dropped by parachute upon an open space or conveyed by helicopter taxi service from an airport one hundred to two hundred miles distance.

Although long-distance transportation by air has scarcely started, its social and economic effects are already apparent. That the airplane will also affect our mode of doing business nationally is already evident. All through South America the plane has become indispensable. The reason for this is to be found in the physical obstacles that confront the shipper of goods in South America. If more freight and passengers are to be carried in the U. S. by plane, it is evident that business centers and airports must be more closely linked than they are now.

We are now a World Community, for the airplane is eliminating distances and has already eliminated frontiers. In the world of tomorrow lies HOPE, for from this closer world contact will develop a greater understanding among nations and men, in solving world problems.

"Democracy Under Pressure" by Stuart Chase was reviewed by Mrs. Zell Smith. "Stuart Chase does his writing on a Connecticut farm. He says this is no escape—he likes the soil, likes being close to neighbors, likes being able to mingle in the community life of the township where he lives.

The pressure groups seem to be largely led by men who are ignorant of the fact that we are our brother's keepers. They think such talk is Sunday School stuff, they are wrong. It is the first law of modern technology. The self-sufficiency of the individual farmer or the small local group has been sacrificed to the superior output of quantity production. Every citizen is dependent for his food and shelter on millions of other citizens.

The men who run pressure groups act largely on the principle of Me First—a selfish interest to them alone. The pressure groups have long been "the despots of Patriots."

Guests of the meeting were Mrs. Benson Goss and Mrs. Owen Smith. Delicious refreshments were served to the following guests and members: Mrs. Benson Goss, Mrs. Owen Smith, Mrs. F. E. Black, Mrs. H. D. Cleaver, Mrs. H. V. Collins, Mrs. A. R. Doucette, Mrs. H. B. Gibson, Mrs. M. R. Hagan, Mrs. Fred Hornberger, Mrs. J. E. Janner, Mrs. C. E. Komer, Mrs. J. E. Janner, Mrs. J. E. McGee, Mrs. James E. McCune, Mrs. J. D. Potts, Mrs. George Phibbs, Mrs. Eugene Scott, Mrs. Zell Smith, Mrs. A. C. Warner, Mrs. J. R. White, Mrs. G. D. Holland and Mrs. A. S. Gunter.

THERE IS NO FRIGATE LIKE A BOOK

The librarian announces a steadily increasing circulation, with 878 more volumes issued during the month of October.

If you are a resident of this parish and have not obtained a library card, you can secure one by visiting the library. No charge is made. If you are not a property owner of Ouachita Parish, your card must be signed by someone who does own property here.

Recently acquired new adult books at the library are as follows: "A Job for Jenny," Faith Baldwin; "Three O'Clock Dinner," Josephine Pickney; "The White Tower," James R. Ullman; "Black Moon," Clark McMeekin; "January Thaw," Bellamy Partridge; "The Black Sheep His Tail," Alice Tisdale Hobart; "Cass Timberland," Sinclair Lewis; "The Gauntlet," James Street; "Rooster Crows for Day," Lucien Burman; "The Birth of Mischief," Rafael Sabatini; "Orchard Hill," Elizabeth Seifert; "After Elwyn Thane," A. B. White; "Annabel," Ruth Sawyer; "Tarnish," Osa Johnson; "Little People in a Big Country," Norma Cole.

One of the most ways to show esteem for a departed friend is to give a book to the Public Library in memory of them. In this way, many valuable books have recently been added to the collection of the Public Library.

The 20th Century Book Club, in memory of Samuel M. McReynolds, Jr., presented Harnett Kane's new book "The Plantation Parade" to the library. Dr. and Mrs. C. P. Gray gave "Joseph Lister" by Rhoda Truax in memory of Dr. J. W. Murphy, and "Cuchuma in Java," the story of Quinones by Norma Taylor in memory of Dr. John Pracher. The Monroe Garden Club, in memory of Muriel Banister Reynolds, presented "Landscaping the Home Grounds," by L. W. Ramsey. The Woman Auxiliary of the Ouachita Parish Medical Society gave "The Age of Jackson" by Arthur M. Schlesinger, Jr., in memory of Dr. J. W. Murphy.

Others who have donated books to the Public Library in Monroe and West Monroe the past few months are: Monroe Book Club, Mrs. Elmer Slagle, Mrs. A. W. Wilenzick, Mrs. A. K. Kilpatrick, Mrs. George Gunby, and Mrs. Bernard Biedenharn.

Magazine contributions are always appreciated, for the library receives calls each day for old issues of periodicals. The following have given magazines to the library: Mrs. T. B. Brown, Mrs. R. W. Crenney, Mrs. R. W. Biedenharn, Mrs. A. D. Tisdale, Mrs. E. G. Wright, Mrs. Robert Layton, Mrs. M. W. McHenry, Mrs. S. E. Huey, Mrs. John Potts, Mary Buckner, Mrs. C. K. Dickard, Mrs. W. J. Hooper, and Mrs. L. W. Cobb.

Mrs. Mable Nash Reviews Novel

The Mangham Literary Club was entertained on November 13 in the home of Mrs. John F. Boughton, with Mrs. R. B. Boughton, co-hostess. Mrs. Mable Nash, who gave an interesting review of the best seller, "Lion in the Streets," by Anna Locke Lomley.

Mrs. Nash said the book was written in a "chickadee" style, and explained that Verity, Hank Martin's wife, sees their life together in review as Hank, the Big Lion, lay in state at the foot of the bed.

The program theme was, "Relaxing Through Literature."

Mrs. Theo Jones introduced Mrs. Mable Nash, who gave an interesting review of the best seller, "Lion in the Streets," by Anna Locke Lomley.

Mrs. Nash said the book was written in a "chickadee" style, and explained that Verity, Hank Martin's wife, sees their life together in review as Hank, the Big Lion, lay in state at the foot of the bed.

that pinnacle in the rotunda of the capitol in a silver casket guaranteed to protect him from the worms and maggots of the earth. Over the casket lay a blanket of orchids, paid for by the pennies and nickles and quarters of calicoed women and barefoot men, the hill billies and the swamplanders. As in life, so now in death, Hank's richest gifts came from the poorest people.

Verity is listening to Saber's radio address of Hank's life. Mrs. Nash told of Verity's and Hank's early life together, of their struggles and how he finally passed the bar examination and of his lust for fame and power, which eventually caused his death.

Mrs. John McElwee gave a well prepared review of the movie, "The Bells of St. Mary's."

The Club Collect was repeated in union. Those enjoying the meeting were: Mrs. Jack Armstrong, Mrs. James E. Ball, Mrs. B. N. Boughton, Mrs. John F. Boughton, Mrs. R. B. Boughton, Mrs. O. Cooper, Mrs. Barbara Nan Curry, Mrs. Noble Ellington, Mrs. Raymond Geiger, Mrs. Theo Jones, Mrs. John McElwee, Miss Bessie Noble, Miss Eunice Ratcliff and guests, Mrs. Mabel Nash and Mrs. Roy Gathright of Tyler, Texas.

Teacher's Hold Important Meeting

The Monroe City Teachers Association held the first meeting of the year at Central Grammar School, November 13. Miss Mae Coker, the president, presided, and Miss Frances Flanders acted for the secretary, who was absent.

Delegates were chosen for the Louisiana State Teachers meeting which is to be held in Alexandria November 29 through December 1. Mrs. Marguerite Vincent was elected delegate with Mrs. G. E. Boaz and Miss Eleona Bransmade as alternates. Miss Eleona Cann, with Mrs. Alf Reid as alternate, is the carry-over delegate from last year.

As is customary at the first meeting of each year, Mr. Neville introduced the new teachers and those who have returned to service after a leave of absence.

The secretary announced the committees for the year. Chairman of the standing committees are: Program—Mrs. Marguerite Vincent; Welfare—Miss Eleona Bransmade; Legislative—Mr. Paul Neal; Publicity—Mrs. Agnes Miller; Ethics—Miss Sara Bres; Finance—Miss Harriet Boyle; Resolutions—Miss Mary Hester; Parliamentary—Miss Myrtle Rogers.

SHOPPING THE TOWN

with Emille

IF GIFT BUYING troubles you just put your worries aside. The GUTHRIE-MAY SHOP on South Gaud street has the very thing you are looking for... unusual articles in Camark pottery... complete Pyrex sets... hand painted, cooly large... sets of gayly colored mixing bowls and gold banded, flower etched china teapots priced at only $1.65. Any woman who enjoys a cup of tea would love one. At the GUTHRIE-MAY SHOP you will find little gadgets necessary for housekeeping... drop in and look around.

THE GIFT SUPREMACY on Christmas morning is a diamond ring. Not just a diamond but the perfect one you are assured of when you buy from this old reliable firm. The R AND A. This firm has been catering to the needs of this community for generations and there never yet has been a dissatisfied customer. The R AND A has a gorgeous collection of rare, antique, jewelry for the holiday trade... such a gift will endure through the ages.

THERE'S A SPECIAL kind of chic in a suit tailored by FINK THE TAILOR and it's worn by the woman who is willing to stake all on one "eyed-with-envy" costume. Such a suit is the perfect background for your jewels, your furs and your handsome blouses. I saw one of balsam green with brown accessories... it was stunning. There is yet time to order your suit for the holidays. An order for a tailored suit from FINK would be the perfect Christmas gift.

IS YOUR HOME a happy one? If the answer is "No" then in all probability it is cold and cheerless... drafts sweeping round corners... floors icy cold... and no matter how much fuel is consumed it's still uncomfortable. THE UNITED ELECTRIC SERVICE is waiting to make your home the ideal one... it's just a simple matter of EAGLE-FITCHER INSULATION. A warm home in winter and a cool one in summer... something to think about.

YES! IT'S TRUE... A CHARM-ODE GIRDLE found only at SEARS and ROEBUCKS will make you lose pounds slimmer. Let the corsetier select the right one for you then go on a shopping spree... buy gay, lovely gowns for the holidays. Gowns you now have but couldn't wear due to figure problems, will look different when worn over a CHARM-ODE Long-line brassieres and two-way stretch girdles can be found in the corset department at SEARS and ROEBUCKS.

BETWEEN THE DAYLIGHT and dark and far into the night you will find the CASCADE the most popular night spot in all Monroe. It's a cocktail lounge of distinction... not just another night club. The drinks served at the CAS-

CADE are just a little different than those served elsewhere and the brand of hospitality is just a little bit more gracious. This is the festive season and that note of festivity is found at the CASCADE.

THIS IS CHRYSANTHEMUM time and none are more beautiful than those found at THE FLOWER SHOPPE, where they are arranged in a thousand different ways... the special arrangement for the dinner table, the single chrysanthemum in a corsage and the great clusters carried down aisles by wedding attendants. They are sold singly for the football game... no young man thinks of escorting his best "gal" to the game without presenting her with the customary corsage from THE FLOWER SHOPPE.

PARTY PLANS for the holiday season are in the air and party plans include fruit cake from the CITY BAKERY. Hostesses, long ago discovered that these cakes made from an old Southern recipe and oozing with fruits and nuts, add savor to the end of the meal. They are simply grand served with coffee in the afternoon or in the evening when friends drop in. Take my advice and place your order now for two or three of these luscious fruit cakes from the CITY BAKERY.

IF IT'S A VERY special gift you are looking for just drop in to the FRANCES HOTEL PHARMACY. The gift nook is brimming with distinctive things and the shelves are filled with the most alluring perfumes, beautifully bottled. Can you imagine anything lovelier than a gift of exotic perfume for that person who is hard to please? You will find gifts of leather, costume jewelry, pen and ink sets, holiday boxes of candy, and countless other things at the FRANCES HOTEL PHARMACY.

WHAT DOES YOUR mirror say? If your face shows fine lines and stringy hair then it's time to make a date with MARIE WAMSLEY. This expert beautician can transform you from an ugly duckling into someone you would like to be. Yes, it's MARIE WAMSLEY who takes the unattractive woman and molds her into something very close to the heart's desire. Don't face the festive season without a MARIE WAMSLEY facial and new hair arrangement.

IN THE MIDST of life there is death but the sting of death is removed at the HALL FUNERAL HOME where everything possible is done for the bereaved ones. Privacy is provided for the family... lights shine from a beautiful crystal chandelier in the chapel and in a niche where wide windows look out upon a shaded lawn your loved one rests in perfect peace. You will never carry morbid memories of the last rites for someone you love when the HALL FUNERAL HOME is in charge.

Stubbs-Emerson Wedding In California Of Paramount
Social Interest In Monroe

A wedding of paramount social interest in this city took place in Del Monte, California, November 3, when Dorothy Wasson Emerson, daughter of Mrs. Marion Wasson of Los Angeles and Captain Barry Stubbs, son of Mrs. Frank Palmer Stubbs and the late Colonel Stubbs of this city, were united in marriage at St. John's chapel at high noon.

Beautiful white chrysanthemums and luxuriant palms banked the altar and chancel rail for the double ring ceremony performed by Doctor Theodore Bell.

The matron of honor, Mrs. H. Boyd Gainer of San Diego wore a brown ensemble with corsage of Talisman roses.

The ushers were Lt. Col. Rowland Jinger and Major D. B. Kyser of Fort Ord, Calif.

Following the ceremony a wedding luncheon was served at the Del Monte lodge with Mrs. Stubbs, the bridegroom's mother, and Mrs. Emerson, the bride's mother, presiding. Mrs. Stubbs wore a tailleur of azure blue with small blue hat and corsage of gardenias. Mrs. Emerson wore a light tan tailleur with brown accessories and corsage of gardenias.

Captain and Mrs. Stubbs spent their honeymoon motoring in the Yosemite Valley and are now at home in Carmel, Calif.

Captain Stubbs born and reared in this city, is a member of a prominent pioneer family long associated with the social, cultural and civic life of Louisiana. His mother was the former Miss Maud Flower, member of a prominent Louisiana family. Captain Stubbs attended Webb school, Bellbuckle, Tenn., and was graduated from Yale University. He attended Tulane University law school, New Orleans for one year. He is a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

Of interest to friends in this city is the announcement made by Mr. and Mrs. Ben Freedman of Newark, New Jersey of the marriage of their daughter, Maxine, to Lt. Bernie Wilczuk of Monroe, La. The wedding took place at the Avon Mansion in Newark on Wednesday evening, November 21.

After investigation, we have found your firm qualified and sufficiently equipped to train veterans under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1944.

As a result of this investigation, we have requested the Veterans Administration to place your firm's name on the approved list of schools, institutions, and industrial establishments designated to give training to veterans.

This approval will remain in effect for one year from this date, or until such time as the Louisiana State Board of Education shall approve an overall plan for veterans' education. If your establishment desires to continue such training, an application must be made at the expiration of that time for re-examination and extension of the period of accreditation.

It is also understood that our approval of your training center for the forthcoming year applies only to those provisions set up in Public Law 78th Congress of the United States.

Should you need any additional assistance, kindly feel free to call on us for any service we may be able to render.

Yours sincerely,

Splendid Paper Is Highlight Of Club Meeting

The last meeting of The Welcome Branch of the Twentieth Century Book Club was at the home of Mrs. A. S. Gunter, with Mrs. G. D. Holland, co-hostess.

During the business session, conducted by Mrs. H. V. Collins, president, reports were given by the treasurer and correspondence secretary. The club pledged its support in the coming Victory-Clothing Collection, whose aim it is to collect 100,000 garments. War clothing, bed covers, and other garments that can be used during the winter in the war-torn countries will be brought to the next club meeting. Mrs. F. E. Black was appointed Chairman of the Club Women Magazine.

Mrs. A. R. Doughty gave a report for the Library Commission of The Welcome Branch Book Club. Mrs. T. C. Starnes will review "The White Tower" at a Silver Tea December 3, at the Y. W. C. A., 3:00 p. m.

Reports were given on the Louisiana Federation Women's Clubs Convention in Lafayette, November 8, 9, and 10th. Mrs. H. V. Collins, state Corresponding Secretary, and Mrs. Eugene Scott, delegate for the club, gave the reports.

War Service—Post War was the theme for the program "Post-War Communications" prepared by Mrs. H. D. Holmes was read by Mrs. J. E. Jarman. She said: "The changes being manifested in our communications in this post-war world are numerous and varied. The biggest change in our communications in this post-war world is the role aviation plays. The giant airplane of the post-war world will open new markets in undeveloped parts of the globe. It will not be long before it will be possible to deliver clothes, medicines, books, radio sets, furniture to any place in the world in twenty-four hours. An airport is not always essential. Goods can be dropped by parachute upon an open space or conveyed by helicopter taxi service from an airport one hundred to two hundred miles distance.

Although long-distance transportation by air has scarcely started, its social and economic effects are already ready apparent. That the airplane will also affect our mode of doing business nationally is already evident. All through South America the plane has become indispensable. The reason for this is to be found in the physical obstacles that confront the shipper of goods in South America.

If more freight and passengers are to be carried in the U. S. by plane, it is evident that business centers and airports must be more closely linked than they are now.

We are now a World Community, for the airplane is eliminating distances and has already eliminated frontiers. In the world of tomorrow lies HOPE, for from this closer world contact will develop a greater understanding among nations and men in solving world problems.

"Democracy Under Pressure" by Stuart Chase was reviewed by Mrs. Zell Smith. "Stuart Chase does his writing on a Connecticut farm. He says this is no escape—he likes the soil, likes being close to neighbors, likes being able to mingle in the community life of the township where he lives.

The pressure groups seem to be largely led by men who are ignorant of the fact that we are our brother's keepers. They think such talk is Sunday School stuff; they are wrong. It is the first law of modern technology. The self-sufficiency of the individual farmer or the small local group has been sacrificed to the superior output of quantity production. Every citizen is dependent for his food and shelter on millions of other citizens.

The men who run pressure groups act largely on the principle of Me First—a selfish interest to them alone. The pressure groups have long been "the despair of Patriots."

Guests of the meeting were Mrs. Henson Coon and Mrs. Owen Smith. Delicious refreshments were served to the following guests and members: Mrs. Henson Coon, Mrs. Owen Smith, Mrs. F. E. Black, Mrs. H. D. Cleaver, Mrs. H. V. Collins, Mrs. A. R. Doughty, Mrs. H. H. B. Gibson, Mrs. M. R. Hauser, Mrs. Fred Hornberger, Mrs. J. E. Jarman, Mrs. C. E. Koonce, Mrs. J. E. Lawson, Mrs. J. L. McCabe, Mrs. James E. McConnell, Mrs. J. D. Petty, Mrs. George Phebus, Mrs. Eugene Scott, Mrs. Zell Smith, Mrs. A. C. Warner, Mrs. J. R. White, Mrs. G. D. Holland, and Mrs. A. S. Gunter.

THERE IS NO FRIGATE LIKE A BOOK

During the winter days one can be transported to sunny climates through the medium of a book, according to Miss Powers at the Ouachita Parish Public Library.

The librarian announces a steadily increasing circulation, with 878 more volumes issued during the month of October.

If you are a resident of this parish and have not obtained a library card you can secure one by visiting the library. No charge is made. If you are not a property owner of Ouachita Parish, your card must be signed by someone who does own property here.

Recently acquired new adult books at the library are as follows: "A Job for Jenny," Faith Baldwin; "Three O'Clock Dinner," Josephine Plunkett; "The White Tower," James R. Ullman; "Black Moon, Clark McMeekin; "January Thaw," Bellamy Partridge; "The Black Rose," Thomas B. Costain; "Peacock Sheds His Tail," Alice Tisdale Hobart; "Case Timberlane," Sinclair Lewis; "The Gauntlet," James Street; "Rooster Crows for Day," Lucien Burnham; "The Birth of Mischief," Rafael Sabatini; "Oscar Wilde," Elizabeth Seifert; "Ever After," Elswyth Thane; "A Girl to Come Home To," Grace L. Hill; "Moss Secret," Nevill Shute; "Daisy Kenyon," Elizabeth Janeway; "The Long Valley," John Steinbeck; "New Non-fiction," "The Cherokee Strip," Sheila Kaye-Smith; "A Star Danced," Marquise Lawrence; "Desert Island Decameron," H. Allen Smith; "The Cossacks," Maurice Hindus; "Lake Erie," Harlan Hatcher; "This Man Truman," Frank McNaughton; "Plantation Parade," Harnett Kone; "The Egg and I," Betty MacDonald; "New mysteries are," "The Yellow Room," Mary R. Rinehart; "Calamity at Harvard," George Bellairs; "Tragedy in Blue," Marion Bramhall; "Death in the Mind," Richard Lockridge; "Sinister Errand," Peter Cheyney; "The Case of the Half-wakened Wife," Eric Stanley Gardner; "Net of Cobwebs," Elizabeth Holding; "The Noose is Drawn," Willette Ann Barber; "Nine Strings to Your Bow," Maurice Walsh; "Part of Seven Strangers," Kathleen Moore Knight; "Rogue's Gallery," Ellery Queen; "Dread Journey," Dorothy Hughes.

Among the children's books are: "Extra U. S. War Correspondents in Action," John McNamara; "The Black Spinel Mystery," Betty Cananna; "Hurricane Treasure," Bert Sackett; "Stocky, Boy of West Texas," Elizabeth H. Baker; "Major and the Kitchen," Helen Hoke; "The Story of the U. S. Army Air Forces," Jim Ray; "Penny Marsh, Public Health Nurse," Penny Marsh; "Wizard and His Magic Powder," Alfred S. Campbell; "Susie Stuart, Home Front Doctor," Caroline A. Chandler; "Ginger Lee, War Nurse," Dorothy Deeming; "Valiant, Dog of Timberline," Jack O'Brien; "Cathy," Sallie Sue Johnson; "Give Me Liberty," Hildegarde Hawthorne; "Navy Wings of Gold," Florence Walton Taylor; "Carrot Seed," Ruth Krauss; "Nicomachus and the Goose," Inez Hogan; "The Singing Cave," Margaret Leighton; "The Little Red Hen," Helen Dean Fish; "The Return of Silver Chief," Jack O'Brien; "Born to Command," Helen Nicolson; "Rabbit Hill," Robert Lawton; "Prayer for a Child," Rachel Field; "Stuart Little, E. B. White; "Annabel," Ruth Sawyer; "Tarnish," Osa Johnson; "Little People in a Big Country," Norma Cohn.

One of the nicest ways to show esteem for a departed friend is to give a book to the Public Library in memory of them. In this way, many valuable books have recently been added to the collection of the Public Library.

The 20th Century Book Club, in memory of Samuel M. McReynolds, Jr., presented Harnett Kane's new book "The Plantation Parade" to the library. Dr. and Mrs. C. P. Gray gave "Joseph Lister" by Rhoda Truax in memory of Dr. J. W. Murphy, and "Cinchona in Java," (the story of Quinine) by Norma Taylor in memory of Dr. John Pracher. The Monroe Garden Club, in memory of Murel Banister Reynolds, presented "Landscaping the Home Grounds," by L. W. Ramsey. The Woman Auxiliary of the Ouachita Parish Medical Society gave "The Age of Jackson" by Arthur M. Schlesinger, Jr., in memory of Dr. J. W. Murphy.

Others who have donated books to the Public Libraries in Monroe and West Monroe the past few months are: Monroe Book Club, Mrs. Elmer Slagle, Mrs. A. W. Wlenzick, Mrs. A. K. Kilpatrick, Mrs. George Gunby, and Mrs. Bernard Biedenharn.

Magazine contributions are always appreciated, for the library receives calls each day for old issues of periodicals. The following have given magazines to the library: Mrs. T. O. Brown, Mrs. R. W. Creney, Mrs. W. Biedenharn, Mrs. A. D. Tisdale, Mrs. E. G. Wright, Mrs. Robert Layton, Mrs. M. W. McHenry, Mrs. S. E. Huey, Mrs. John Potts, Mary Buckner, Mrs. C. K. Dickard, Mrs. W. J. Hooper, and Mrs. L. W. Cobb.

Mrs. Mable Nash Reviews Novel

The Mangham Literary Club was entertained on November 13 in the home of Mrs. John F. Boughton, with Mrs. R. B. Boughton, co-hostess.

Upon arrival the guests were seated at linen covered tables where a chicken spaghetti supper was served.

After an enjoyable social hour, Miss Ola Cooper, president, asked the members and guests to stand and repeat the Pledge to the Flag.

Roll was called and each member answered with the name of a new book, play or movie.

The program theme was, "Relaxing Through Literature."

Mrs. Theo Jones introduced Mrs. Mable Nash, who gave an interesting review of the best seller, "Lion in the Streets," by Adria Locke Langley.

Mrs. Nash said the book was written in "flashbacks" and explained that Verity, Hank Martin's wife, sees their life together in review as Hank, the Big Lion, lay in state at the foot of that pinnacle in the rotunda of the capitol in a silver casket guaranteed to protect him from the worms and maggots of the earth. Over the casket lay a blanket of orchids, paid for by the pennies and nickles and quarters of calicoed women and barefoot men, the hill billies and the swamplanders. As in life, so now in death, Hank's richest gifts came from the poorest people.

Verity is listening to Sabers' radio address of Hank's life.

Mrs. Nash told of Verity's and Hank's early life together, of their struggles and how he finally passed the bar examination and of his lust for fame and power, which eventually caused his death.

Mrs. John McElwee gave a well prepared review of the movie, "The Bells of St. Mary."

The Club Collect was repeated in unison.

Those enjoying the meeting were: Mrs. Jack Armstrong, Mrs. James E. Ball, Mrs. B. N. Boughton, Mrs. John F. Boughton, Mrs. R. B. Boughton, Miss Ola Cooper, Miss Barbara Nan Cory, Mrs. Noble Ellington, Mrs. Raymond Geiger, Mrs. Theo Jones, Mrs. John McElwee, Miss Bessie Noble, Miss Eunice Ratcliff and guests, Mrs. Mabel Nash and Mrs. Roy Gathright of Tyler, Texas.

Teacher's Hold Important Meeting

The Monroe City Teachers Association held the first meeting of the year at Central Grammar School, November 19. Miss Mae Coker, the president, presided, and Miss Frances Flanders acted for the secretary, who was absent.

Delegates were chosen for the Louisiana State Teachers meeting which is to be held in Alexandria November 29 through December 1. Mrs. Marguerite Vincent was elected delegate with Mr. G. E. Boggs and Miss Eleona Brinsmade as alternates. Miss Eloise Cann, with Mrs. Alf Reid as alternate, is the carry-over delegate from last year.

As is customary at the first meeting of each year, Mr. Neville introduced the new teachers and those

IF GIFT BUYING troubles you just put your worries aside. The GUTHRIE-MAY SHOP on South Grand street has the very thing you are looking for... unusual articles in Camark pottery... complete Pyrex sets... hand painted, cookie jars... sets of gayly colored mixing bowls and gold banded, flower etched china teapots priced at only $1.65. Any woman who enjoys a cup of tea would love one. At the GUTHRIE-MAY SHOP you will find little gadgets necessary for housekeeping... drop in and look around.

THE GIFT SUPREME on Christmas morning is a diamond ring. Not just a diamond but the perfect one you are assured of when you buy from this old reliable firm. The R AND A. This firm has been catering to the public of this community for generations and there never yet has been a dissatisfied customer. The R AND A has a gorgeous collection of rare, antique, jewelry for the holiday trade... such a gift will endure through the ages.

THERE'S A SPECIAL kind of chic in a suit tailored by FINK THE TAILOR and it's worn by the woman who is willing to stake all on one "eyed-with-envy" costume. Such a suit is the perfect background for your jewels, your furs and your handsome blouses. I saw one of balmain green with brown accessories... it was stunning. There is yet time to order your suit for the holidays. An order for a tailored suit from FINK would be the perfect Christmas gift.

IS YOUR HOME a happy one? If the answer is "No" then in all probability it is cold and cheerless... drafts sweeping round corners... floors icy cold... and no matter how much fuel is consumed it's still uncomfortable. THE UNITED ELECTRIC SERVICE is waiting to make your home the ideal one... it's just a simple matter of EAGLE-PICHER INSULATION. A warm home in winter and a cool one in summer... something to think about.

YES! IT'S TRUE... A CHARM-ODE GIRDLE found only at SEARS AND ROEBUCKS will make you look pounds slimmer. Let the corsetier select the right one for you then go on a shopping spree... buy gay, lovely gowns for the holidays. Gown you now have but couldn't wear due to figure problems, will look different when worn over a CHARM-ODE Long-line brassieres and two-way stretch girdles can be found in the corset department at SEARS AND ROEBUCKS.

BETWEEN THE DAYLIGHT and dark and far into the night you will find the CASCADE the most popular night spot in all Monroe. It's a cocktail lounge of distinction... not just another night club. The drinks served at the CASCADE are just a little different than those served elsewhere and the brand of hospitality is just a little bit more gracious. This is the festive season and that note of festivity is found at the CASCADE.

THIS IS CHRYSANTHEMUM time and none are more beautiful than those found at THE FLOWER SHOPPE, where they are arranged in a thousand different ways... the special arrangement for the dinner table, the single chrysanthemum in a corsage and the great clusters carried down aisles by wedding attendants. They are sold singly for the football game... no young man thinks of escorting his best "gal" to the game without presenting her with the customary corsage from THE FLOWER SHOPPE.

PARTY PLANS for the holiday season are in the air and party plans include fruit cake from the CITY BAKERY. Hostesses, long ago discovered that these cakes made from an old Southern recipe and oozing with fruits and nuts, add savor to the end of the meal. They are simply grand served with coffee in the afternoon or in the evening when friends drop in. Take my advice and place your order now for two or three of these luscious fruit cakes from the CITY BAKERY.

IF IT'S A VERY special gift you are looking for just drop in at the FRANCES HOTEL PHARMACY. The gift nook is brimming with distinctive things and the shelves are filled with the most alluring perfumes, beautifully bottled. Can you imagine anything lovelier than a gift of exotic perfume for that person who is hard to please? You will find gifts of leather, costume jewelry, pen and ink sets, holiday boxes of candy, and countless other things at the FRANCES HOTEL PHARMACY.

WHAT DOES YOUR mirror say? If your face shows fine lines and stringy hair then it's time to make a date with MARIE WAMSLEY. This expert beautician can transform you from an ugly duckling into someone you would like to be. Yes, it's MARIE WAMSLEY who takes the unattractive woman and molds her into something very close to the heart's desire. Don't face the festive season without a MARIE WAMSLEY facial and new hair arrangement.

IN THE MIDS of life there is death but the sting of death is removed at the HALL FUNERAL HOME where everything possible is done for the bereaved ones. Privacy is provided for the family... lights shine from a beautiful crystal chandelier in the chapel and in a niche where wide windows look out upon a shaded lawn your loved one rests in perfect peace. You will never carry morbid memories of the last rites for someone you love when the HALL FUNERAL HOME is in charge.

Should we add a box of pencils?

Before the war, Joe was studying architecture.

But Joe's last sight on earth was the blinding flash of a Jap grenade.

After months of hospitalization, Joe's other wounds have healed. But his eyes are gone for good.

Part of his present equipment is a pair of dark glasses, and a cane to help him feel his way.

Should we add a box of pencils? And let Joe try to eke out an existence selling them on a street corner, or begging? Or does Joe deserve a better life than that?

To train Joe for a real job, and real place in the America he fought for, will take money. Lots of money. There are many Joes who need help. For there were over a million American casualties in the war!

Lovely Affairs Honor Recent Bride

Many Beautiful Affairs Are Given For Miss Humphries During Engagement Days

"Kendallwood" hospitable suburban home of Mrs. S. W. Kendall was the scene of a congenial gathering of friends when she entertained members of the Humphries-Pearce wedding personnel following rehearsal at the West Monroe Baptist Church. Mrs. Harvey McDonald and Miss Louise Gail McDonald were co-hostesses on this occasion.

Log fires burned cheerfully in the fireplaces and bright flowers in the autumnal colors were everywhere in evidence.

The supper table reflected a bridal theme with its plaque of white chrysanthemums and silver candelabra supporting white tapers. A delicious supper course was served to Miss Humphries and her fiancé, Mr. C. G. Pearce, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Humphries, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Pearce, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Rinehart, Mr. and Mrs. James Larkin, Mrs. Maude Flynn, Mrs. W. C. Feazle, Mrs. Raymond Spence, Mrs. Henry Hamilton, Mrs. C. E. Autrey, Mr. E. O. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Vance Rhodes, Miss Ann Humphries, Miss Martha McDonald, Miss Lallage Feazel, Mr. Will Sam Kendall, Jr., Miss Betty Rinehart, Sergeant and Mrs. Pete Haddad, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Eaves, Mr. Harvey McDonald, Miss Martha Mangham.

The luncheon table was covered with an exquisite cutwork cloth, and a beautiful arrangement of yellow chrysanthemums formed the centerpiece, with blue candles in flat crystal holders at each end. The favors were nosegays of yellow "mums." Miss Humphries received a corsage of white chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Hundley presented Miss Humphries with a gift of her wedding dress. Present were Miss Humphries and Misses Gail McDonald, Betty Rinehart, Mmes. Raymond Spence, J. M. Larkin, Sidney Conley, and George Bennett.

Included among the courtesies extended Miss Humphries was the seated tea given by Mrs. W. R. Hatchell in her home on Milton St. Snow white canelers were used throughout the reception suite and dining room.

Mrs. Sam Humphries, mother of the bride, presided over the beautifully appointed tea table which was overlaid with handsome linen Italian cutwork and serviced in crystal and silver. A low crystal bowl of white carnations, resting on a large reflector, centered the table. On either side burned tall white candles in beautiful crystal candelabras.

During the conversational hour the hostess presented Miss Humphries with several pieces of her wedding china.

Mrs. Hatchell was assisted in the courtesies by Mrs. Sid Walker. Guests invited to the delightful affair in addition to Miss Humphries were Misses Betty Rinehart, Gail McDonald, Ruth Bennett, Gladys Emma Whitfield, Jean Terzia, Marilyn and Shirley Hamilton, Mary Lavina Inabnet, Lallage Feazel, Mary and Ann Hayward, Bernie Handy and Messrs. Margaret Larkin, Mammie Ola Spence, C. G. Pearce, Sam Humphries, Snow Drew Armstrong, Mack Fay Mullen, Sid Walker, Mrs. Julius Chaville, Sara Elizabeth Connolly, Evelyn Curry and Louise Hundley.

Silver Tea Is Great Success

Civic League Members Entertain With Silver Tea In O. N. Reynolds' Home

Mrs. O. N. Reynolds' home offered a cheerful and charming setting for the annual silver tea given by members of the West Monroe Civic League for the benefit of Ouachita Parish Public Library.

The flowers adorning the reception suite and dining room were gifts from the gardens of the friends of the library and were placed with artistic profusion at vantage points. Especially beautiful was the plaque of lavender chrysanthemums gracing the tea table. At either end of the beautifully appointed table were placed pink shells filled with pink and lavender chrysanthemums.

Mrs. John Lewis, president of the league, was responsible for the artistic arrangement.

Mrs. Kate Morrice presided over the silver tea and coffee tarts. She was assisted by Mrs. R. B. Henry, Mrs. J. B. Landreux and Mrs. John Lewis.

The average factory worker in Britain was earning $182 a week for an average week of 50 hours last year.

Earners have been asked to increase their gross savings from the 361 million in 1943 to 380 million in 1944.

Cossack Singers Will Be Presented Here In Concert

Audiences look forward each year to hearing new and vital music from the General Platoff Don Cossack Chorus and they never disappoint their audiences. Hence, during the 1945-46 season, the twentieth of this famous ensemble, crowds who flock to their exciting concerts will thrill to performances of eight never-before-heard choral arrangements.

Before going on tour Nicholas Kostukoff, dynamic director of the group, carefully examined hundreds of manuscripts, choosing as additions to the repertoire those compositions most worthy of molding into the Cossack's colorful vocal effects. Then came precision practice, until each individual voice, from the sweetest soprano to the most forceful bass, blended perfectly into the glorious union of the whole.

The Cossacks are exuberant by nature, and the irrepressible spirit of the group displays itself this season in two bright new rhythm numbers certain to become favorites of their every audience. "Dancing Polka" by Salama is as ingenious and charming as its name implies, while a traditional "Military Song" presented without conductor is staged by the men in marching step and sends listeners into cheers.

"From Border unto Border" is another rousing newcomer. It was highly praised when recently premiered in the Djerzinsky opera, "The Quiet Don," and becomes a most appropriate addition to Don Cossack programs.

Lovely Affairs Honor Recent Bride

"Kendallwood" hospitable suburban home of Mrs. S. W. Kendall was the scene of a congenial gathering of friends when she entertained members of the Humphries-Pearce wedding personnel following rehearsal at the West Monroe Baptist Church. Mrs. Harvey McDonald and Miss Louise Gail McDonald were co-hostesses on this occasion.

Log fires burned cheerfully in the fireplaces and bright flowers in the autumnal colors were everywhere in evidence.

The supper table reflected a bridal theme with its plaque of white chrysanthemums and silver candelabra supporting white tapers. A delicious supper course was served to Miss Humphries and her fiancé, Mr. C. G. Pearce, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Humphries, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Pearce, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Rinehart, Mr. and Mrs. James Larkin, Mrs. Maude Flynn, Mrs. W. C. Feazle, Mrs. Raymond Spence, Mrs. Henry Hamilton, Mrs. C. E. Autrey, Mr. E. O. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Vance Rhodes, Miss Ann Humphries, Miss Martha McDonald, Miss Lallage Feazel, Mr. Will Sam Kendall, Jr., Miss Betty Rinehart, Sergeant and Mrs. Pete Haddad, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Eaves, Mr. Harvey McDonald, Miss Martha Mangham.

Another charming courtesy extended Miss Humphries during her engagement days was the luncheon in the Maple room of the Virginia hotel with Mrs. Louise Hundley, hostess. A delightful hospitable note was achieved by the arrangement of yellow chrysanthemums in Wedgewood blue bowls.

The luncheon table was covered with an exquisite cutwork cloth, and a beautiful arrangement of yellow chrysanthemums formed the centerpiece, with blue candles in flat crystal holders at each end. The favors were nosegays of yellow "mums," Miss Humphries received a corsage of white chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Hundley presented Miss Humphries with a gift of her wedding china. Present were Miss Humphries and Misses Gail McDonald, Betty Rinehart, Mmes. Raymond Spence, J. M. Larkin, Sidney Conley, and George Bennett.

Included among the courtesies extended Miss Humphries was the seated tea given by Mrs. W. R. Hatchell in her home on Milton St.

Snow white camellias were used throughout the reception suite and dining room.

Mrs. Sam Humphries, mother of the bride, presided over the beautifully appointed tea table which was overlaid with handsome linen Italian cutwork and served in crystal and silver. A low crystal bowl of white camellias, resting on a large reflector, centered the table. On either side burned tall white candles in beautiful crystal candelabras.

During the conversational hour the hostess presented Miss Humphries with several pieces of her wedding china.

Mrs. Hatchell was assisted in the courtesies by Mrs. Sid Walker. Guests invited to the delightful affair in addition to Miss Humphries were: Misses Betty Rinehart, Gail McDonald, Ruth Bennett, Gladys Emma Whitfield, Jean Terzia, Merilyn and Shirley Hamilton, Mary Lavinia Inabnet, Lallage Feazel, Mary and Ann Hayward, Bernice Handy and Messrs. Margaret Larkin, Mamie Ola Spence, C. G. Pearce, Sam Humphries, Snow Drew Armstrong, Mack Jay McHenry, Sid Walker, Mrs. Julius Chandler, Sara Elizabeth Connelly, Evelyn Curry and Louise Hundley.

Audiences look forward each year to hearing new and vital music from the General Platoff Don Cossack Chorus and they never disappoint their audiences. Hence, during the 1945-46 season, the twentieth of this famous ensemble, crowds who flock to their exciting concerts will thrill to performances of eight never-before-heard choral arrangements.

Before going on tour Nicholas Kostukoff, dynamic director of the group, carefully examined hundreds of manuscripts, choosing as additions to the repertoire those compositions most worthy of molding into the Cossack's colorful vocal effects. Then came precision practice, until each individual voice, from the sweetest soprano to the most forceful bass, blended perfectly into the glorious union of the whole.

The Cossacks are exuberant by nature, and the irrepressible spirit of the group displays itself this season in two bright new rhythm numbers certain to become favorites of their every audience. "Dancing Polka" by Salama is as ingenious and charming as its name implies, while a traditional "Military Song" presented without conductor is staged by the men in marching step and projects a verve and excitement which sends listeners into cheers.

"From Border unto Border" is another rousing newcomer. It was highly praised when recently premiered in the Djerjinsky opera, "The Quiet Don," and becomes a most appropriate addition to Don Cossack program.

THERE ARE NO "HIDDEN" STEEL PROFITS

United Steelworkers of America-CIO charges that steel companies piled up huge 'hidden' profits during the war. It insists that the steel companies now can use their 'swollen' wartime profits in order to pay a $225,000,000-a-year wage increase.

The Union's charge of "hidden" profits during the war is false. That was shown conclusively by the fact-finding panel of the National War Labor Board. In September, 1944, that government agency declared in an official report that what the Union calls "hidden" profits are necessary reserves, and that such reserves "are proper and cannot be considered as steel profits."

The truth about profits in the steel industry during the war is that they were not "swollen." They were less than in any good peacetime year! After all bills were paid, net earnings after taxes during the three war years, 1942 to 1944, represented an average return of 5 per cent on the money invested. That was a lower return on investment than in any peacetime year of high steel production.

There is no mystery about reserves in the steel industry. Workers as well as stockholders are protected by these reserves. Machines wear out and must be replaced. During the war the wear and tear under capacity operations was without precedent. When necessary reserves are not provided, any company will run down. Then there are fewer jobs, smaller pay checks. These principles of sound management apply to a one-man garage or any small business as well as to a million-dollar corporation.

Every cent that steel companies set aside for future needs is checked by your Government. Nothing can be hidden. The tax collectors, renegotiation boards, and many other government agencies have reviewed the figures year after year. They recognize reserves as an essential part of the cost of doing business.

Reserves set aside for wear and tear of facilities and for contingencies do not constitute a fund out of which wages can be paid. To do so would quickly exhaust the reservoir on which the steel companies depend for their future lives.

Any solution of the present wage-price issue in the steel industry must take into consideration these clearly established facts.

by EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS

BEFORE THE DESERT-TRAVELER COULD SEIZE KURZU'S JEWELLED SWORD, STEELY FINGERS CLOSED ON HIS WRIST!

TARZAN ROSE, EYES FLASHING, AND FACED HIS STRUGGLING RESCUER. "DO YOU SAVE ME IN ORDER TO ROB ME?" HE ASKED

SURELY HE FEEL A SWORD AT HIS BACK.

"MARCH-TO THE OASIS," SAID A QUIET VOICE

WITHOUT FURTHER ADO TARZAN WAS TAKEN TO THE CARAVAN LEADER, POINTING TO THE JEWELLED HILT ON TARZAN'S BACK--

"THE LEADER SAID: 'HOW DO YOU COME BY THE GREAT SWORD OF KURZU, THE TARTAR?'"

TARZAN THOUGHT QUICKLY. HE NOTED THE PLAIN, TRAVEL-WORN APPAREL OF THE DESERT MEN.

THESE WERE NOT THE TIMELY-GARBED MINIONS OF ORZU KHAN.

THEN HE SPOKE: "KURZU IS A PRISONER OF THE LUXURIOUS ORZU. THE SWORD I BEAR IS TRULY HIS."

"IF YOU LOVE LIBERTY, WE SHALL MAKE COMMON CAUSE TO FREE HIM." TARZAN'S JUDGMENT PROVED CORRECT.

AFTER A WHISPERS CONSULTATION, THE CARAVAN LEADER DECLARED: "IF YOU SPEAK THE TRUTH, WE SHALL JOIN YOU. BUT WOE UNTO YOU, IF YOU LIE!"

"AGREED!" THE MEN ANSWERED. "LET DEEDS, NOT WORDS, CONVINCE YOU." SOON THE CARAVAN WAS MADE READY.

SHORTLY THEREAFTER, REFRESHED AND INVIGORATED TARZAN AND HIS NEW-FOUND ALLIES BEGAN THE LONG TREK TO THE CITY OF THE KHAN TO STRIKE A BLOW FOR FREEDOM.

AT THE RAILROAD STATION IN CENTERFORD A HUGE CROWD, INCLUDING A MAJOR, WATCHES THE ARRIVAL OF A LUCKY OBJECT.

ALL TOGETHER, BOYS! HEAVE!

LEUT. BILL JONES CAN'T UNDERSTAND THE FUSS WHICH OBVIOUSLY BEARS RELATION TO BILL JONES.

I DON'T WANT TO BE A HERO WHEN I AIN'T A HERO, EASY! HOW'D I GET OUT OF THIS?

THAT GIRL COMING DOWN THE STREET IS AN OLD FRIEND OF MINE-- SALLY McDAIL! MAYBE SHE CAN HELP US OUT!

Nobody saw us get off the train, Bill-- let's slip up a back street!

SALLY! OOH!

MUST'VE FAINTED! BILL JONES! YOU'RE SUPPOSED TO BE DEAD!

DEAD? WHAT'S THAT CROWD DOING AT THE RAILROAD STATION? WELCOMING MY GHOST?

OH! YOUR STATUE WAS TO COME IN ON THAT TRAIN-- THE MAYOR WILL DEDICATE IT LATER IN FRONT OF THE COURT-HOUSE!

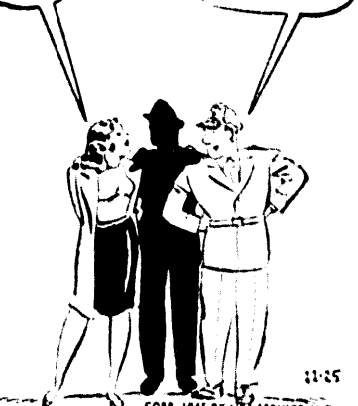

SALLY, I DON'T GET IT!

THE DISPATCHES SAID YOU WON A BATTLE AND WERE KILLED, SO GERALD ARNHOLTER TOOK UP A COLLECTION FOR THE STATUE-- BOO-HOO!

I'M ALIVE, SALLY! LOOK! NOT EVEN SCRATCHED!

YOU'VE MADE FOOLS OUT OF EVERYBODY! EVERYBODY SUBSCRIBED TO THE STATUE!

AND BECAUSE I'M ALIVE, THE WHOLE TOWN WILL BE UNHAPPY!

OH, NO! I'M VERY HAPPY!

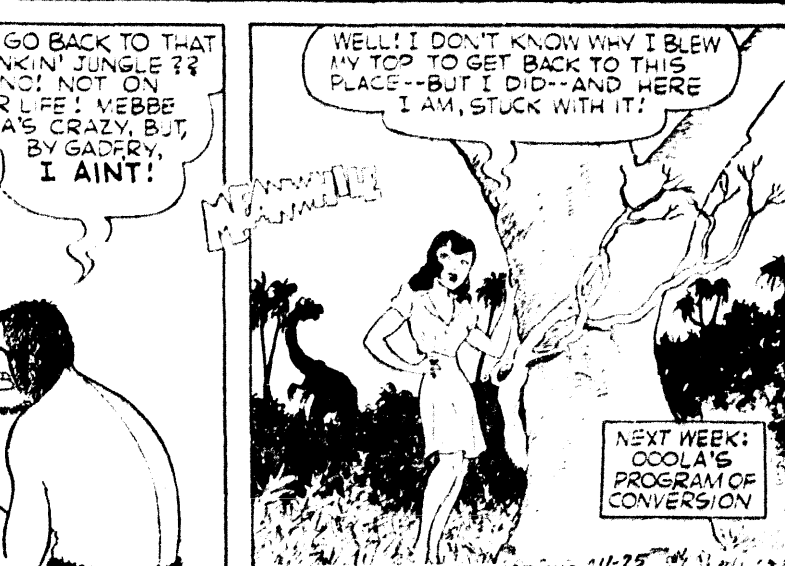

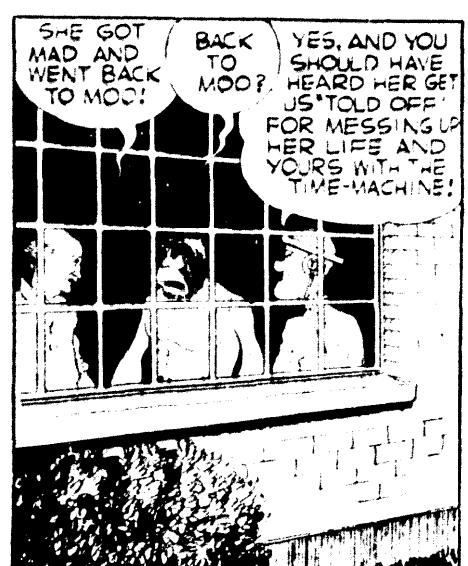

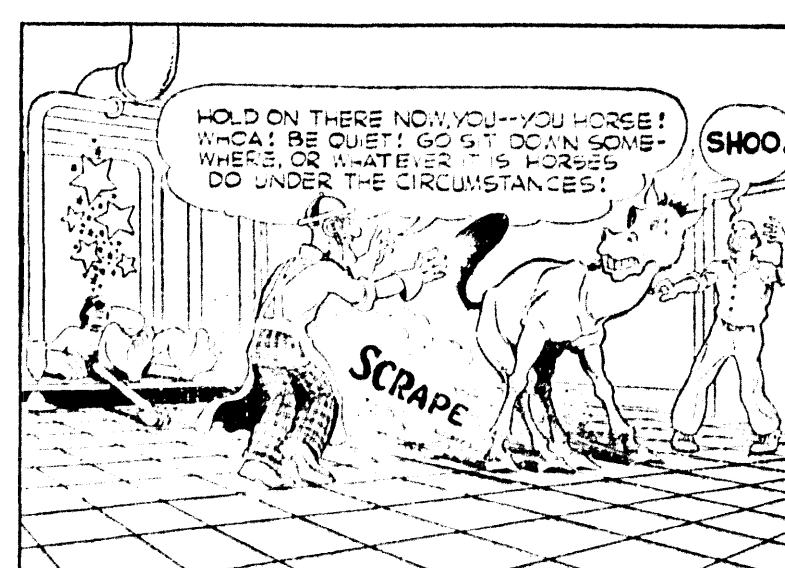

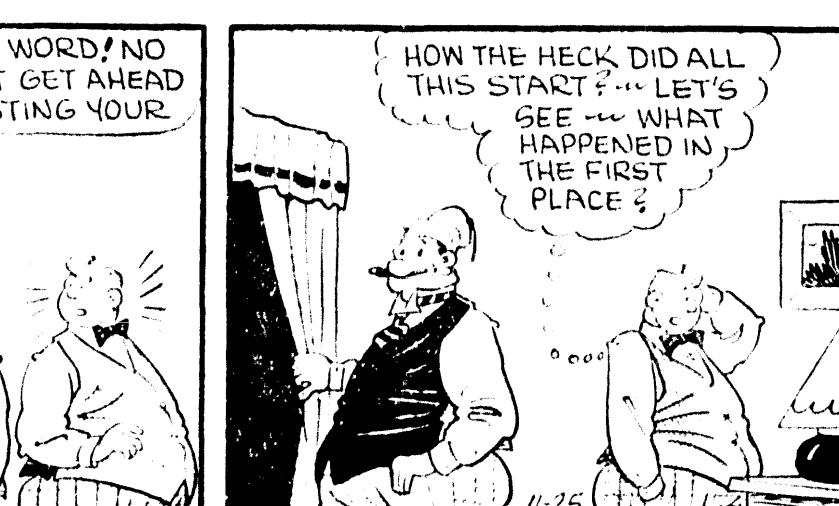

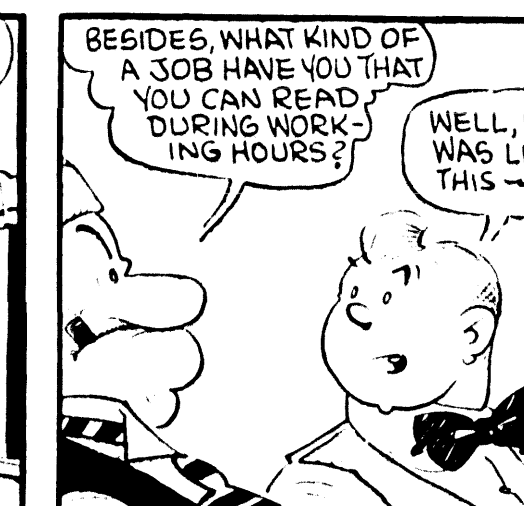

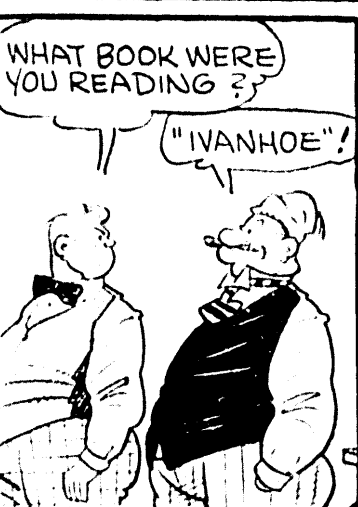

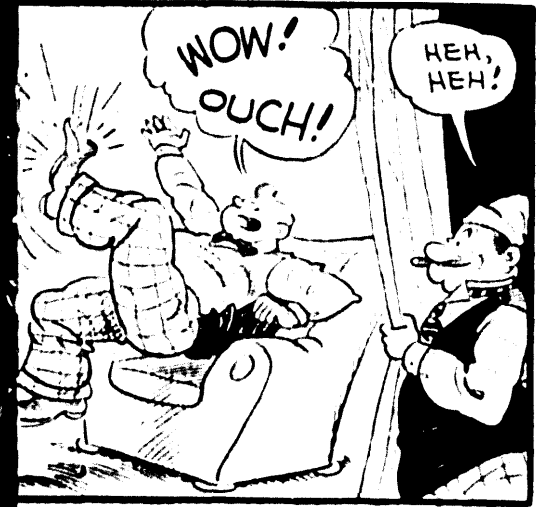

HOW ABOUT ARNHOLTER? I'LL BET HE WON'T BE! HE AND I NEVER DID GET ALONG!

EVILA'S FIRST TREACHERY IS TO TELL KANG ABOUT THE ATOM-GUARDING SYSTEM. GRUSOM PROMPTLY SETS OUT TO STALK A LOYAL ATOM GUARD.

GRUSOM'S WHIP-LASSO CHOKES THE GUARD INTO QUICK, HELPLESS SILENCE.

LOYAL TO THE DEATH, THE GUARD MANAGES TO PULL HIS ATOM-PISTOL, BUT THE ALL-POWERFUL SHOT GOES WILD, DESTROYING THE POWERHOUSE CORNER.

IN THE EXCITEMENT OVER THE WRECKED ATOM POWERHOUSE, GRUSOM ESCAPES WITH HIS QUARRY.

DISGUISED WITH THE ATOM GUARD'S UNIFORM AND IDENTITY CARD, GRUSOM COLDLY DESTROYS THE EVIDENCE BEFORE TAKING HIS PLACE AMID FLASH'S PRICELESS ATOM SECRETS.

ALL, YES -- WELL, POPPE ALWAYS GET AWAY --

BUT WHAT ARE GUYS LIKE THAT DOIN' HERE IN AMERICA?

OF COURSE YOU CAN'T PASS THROUGH SOLID WALLS -- OR WALK UNSEEN IN A CROWD -- BUT THERE MAY BE A WAY FOR YOU TO GET THE ANSWER TO THAT --

YES -- THE WOODBOX BY THE BIG FIREPLACE -- SEE? IT IS FILLED FROM OUTSIDE HERE -- FROM WITHIN THE WOODBOX YOU CAN SEE AND HEAR FOR YOURSELF --

SA-A-AY -- WHY DIDN'T I THINK O' THAT?

THIS IS SLICK! THROUGH THIS CRACK I CAN SEE TH' WHOLE ROOM, AND HEAR EVERYTHING --

DER WAR FOR CHERMANY ISS NOT OVER -- ONLY VUN BATTLE GOES AGAINST US -- AND DER SAME FOR YOUR COUNTRY, GENERAL --

YESS -- NOW TRUE, DERON -- AS IN TENNIS, WE REST BETWEEN SETS --

HA-HA! YOU BOYS JUST HAD A LITTLE BAD LUCK -- NEXT TIME, EH?

ALL, YES -- WAR ISS DER GAME -- WARS COME AND GO -- BUT BUSINESS DOT GOES ON UND ON FOREVER -- YA!

YESS -- BETWEEN BUSINESS MEN THERE MUST BE NO SO SILLY NATIONAL BARRIERS --

YA-YA! VE BUSINESS MEN MUST STICK TOGETHER -- BUT TO BE SUCCESSFUL VE MUST BE STRONG!

AND HOW CAN WE BE STRONG, WHILE OTHERS CONTROL THAT SO TERRIBLE BOMB?

NO-NO! THEY SAY WE MUST BE INTERNATIONALLY MINDED! I AM! BUT WARBUCKS IS AN OLD REACTIONARY -- HE WANTS TO KEEP ATOMIC ENERGY FOR HIS OWN COUNTRY --

SENTIMENTAL FOOL! BUT HE'LL TALK TURKEY -- WHEN HE GETS ONE OF THOSE BRATS EARS! HE'LL NOT BE SO TOUGH THEN!

YOU HAVE A TRUE JAPANESE HEART -- WHATEVER YOU WISH, MY COUNTRY WILL GLADLY PAY!

YA! YOU ARE INDEED VUN OF US! MIT YOU CHERMANY CAN DOZ BUSINESS!

CINDY PUT THROUGH AN EMERGENCY CALL TO SMILIN' JACK AT LANGLEY FIELD, WHERE SHE KNEW HE HAD GONE ON A RESEARCH PROBLEM --

JACK

--- JACK IMMEDIATELY CONVINCED HIS OLD FRIEND, GENERAL CV. COTTONGIN, TO ASSUME THE RESPONSIBILITY OF DECLARING A STATE OF EMERGENCY ON THE EAST COAST ---

MINUTES LATER NEAR RALEIGH --

WHY ARE WE RUSHING THIS ARMY MOBILE RADIO TO THE RALEIGH C.A.A. RANGE STATION?!

AN EMERGENCY TELETYPE MESSAGE REPORTS A B-29 IS ON ITS WAY TO BOMB WASHINGTON AND NEW YORK WITH ATOM BOMBS!

FLASHING BACK TO LANGLEY --

RADAR CONTROL REPORTS A PLANE HEADING 15° AT 10,000 FT. SPEED 261 M.P.H., ON THE SOUTH LEG OF THE RALEIGH BEAM --

CINDY SAID INDICATED AIR SPEED WAS 250 M.P.H. AND ALTITUDE 10,000 FT. WHEN SHE JUMPED!

--- THAT MEANS TRUE AIR SPEED IS 281 M.P.H., BUT WINDS ALOFT ARE GENERALLY NORTHEAST, 30 M.P.H. TODAY ---

--- SO THOSE HEAD-WINDS MAKE THE PLANE'S GROUND SPEED ABOUT 251 M.P.H. THE SAME AS THE PLANE THAT RADAR IS TRACKING --- WE'VE GOT OUR ENEMY LOCATED! ---

--- WHEN TH' RADAR STATION REPORTS THAT PLANE OVER RALEIGH, WE'LL TELETYPE THE MOBILE UNIT THERE TO TAKE OVER THE REGULAR BEAM TRANSMISSION! ---

--- THEN WE'LL TELETYPE ALL EASTERN SEABOARD RADIO STATIONS TO GO OFF THE AIR ---

--- AND WE'LL GRADUALLY SWING THE BEAM FROM ITS NORMAL 38° TO 65° THAT'LL HEAD THE BOMBER OVER NORFOLK AND OUT TO SEA! ---

WE'LL ALSO HAVE THE MOBILE UNIT INCREASE THE POWER OUTPUT SO GADDELSOAP WON'T RUN OUT OF RALEIGH LEG TOO SOON --

BEFORE HE REALIZES IT HE'LL BE OVER TH' OCEAN WHILE HE'S TRYING TO TUNE IN DEAD STATIONS!

--- MINUTES LATER --- JACK, AN A.A.P. RESERVE OFFICER, PERSUADED THE GENERAL TO LET HIM INTERCEPT THE BOMBER IN A JET JOB!

THE WEATHER MAP SHOWS THAT THE OVERCAST ENDS EAST OF VIRGINIA BEACH AND NORTH OF RICHMOND!

WHEN THAT AXIS REVENGER DISCOVERS HE'S OVER TH' OCEAN, NO DOUBT HE'LL FLY CONTACT TO BOMB WASHINGTON AN' NEW YORK!
